RECIPE AFTER.

Premium Pickles—Ingredients required.—2 qts small onions, 3 qts small cucumbers, 8 qts green tomatoes, 12 ripe cucumbers, 10 ripe and 20 green peppers, 3 oz each cinnamon, allspice and cloves, divided into five equal parts (each part tied up in a thin muslin bag), 1 oz white mustard, 1 oz celery seed, 1/2 cup salt, 5 lbs brown sugar, 3 qts strong and 4 qts weak vinegar. Put onions, small cucumbers, tomatoes and ripe cucumbers each in a separate dish, and to each dish add weak vinegar and a bag of spices (as prepared), let stand five days. Take the ripe cucumbers and boil them until tender, adding a little salt and alum to the vinegar. Chop tomatoes, onions, peppers and ripe cucumbers, mix all together, adding the small cucumbers, and drain through a colander, removing the spice bags. Place all over the fire, add the sugar, mustard and celery seed, salt, strong vinegar and fifth bag of spice. Cook until thick. This makes eight gallons and may be kept in small crocks or cans. Pickle prepared in this way is delicious, since learning to make it we use no other recipe for our own.

Berry Cake—One cup sugar, 1 cup sour milk, 1 egg, 1-3 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups berries, an even teaspoon soda, and an even teaspoon salt. Cream together the sugar and shortening, add the beaten egg, then the milk, into which has been stirred the soda. Add flour enough to make a very soft dough, and lastly the berries. This may be made with sweet milk by using 2 heaping teaspoons baking powder instead of the soda. Bake in iron pans, and eat hot. It is much nicer broken than cut in slices. This mixture also makes a very nice pudding, steamed and eaten with hard sauce.—[Helen M. Richardson.]

Rhubarb Acid—Some people, especially those inclined to rheumatic gout, object to the acid of rhubarb. It may be somewhat neutralized, and perhaps made more wholesome by cooking it as follows: Cut the stalks into small pieces and soak one hour in cold water. Pour that off, and adding a very little fresh water, let it come to a boil. Then add a bit of baking soda about as large as a small pea. Sweeten and lightly thicken with cornstarch or flour.—[Klara Kooke.]

Careful Habits—Careful habits are of the greatest importance and should be instilled in every child, for no family can approach the ideal unless each member feels personally responsible for the smooth running of the family machinery. But even when such is the case, little things will sometimes happen, and if we allow them, they will irritate us and make us unhappy, and through us they will make others unhappy. They are really unimportant things and we should not allow them to interfere with our real life at all.—[Phama Barr.]

Beet Pudding—One pint boiled beets grated, 4 well-beaten eggs, 1 qt milk, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper to season. Stir well together and bake half an hour.—[A. R. A.]

On Company Time—In one of the shops of the United States cast iron pipe and foundry company, Cincinnati, O., the company has fitted up a room with drawing tables, boards and T squares as a study room for the use of a number of its employees who are students of the International correspondence schools, Scranton, Pa. The class, which numbers about 50 men and includes a general manager, studies on "company time" and is supplied with drawing paper, by the firm. All promotions in the shop will hereafter be made from students of this class. The International correspondence schools have nearly a hundred courses treating of all branches of mechanical and engineering work. Instruction is carried on wholly by mail and there are nearly 200,000 students and graduates.

Neuralgia and Nervous Debility

Miss Maud Willis, of Solpio, Ind., says:
"Something over three years ago, I became affected with nervousness and neuralgic troubles. This continued until a year ago, after which time I was almost constantly confined to my bed. The neuralgia gradually grew worse; nervous debility set in, and I was completely run down. My blood was impure, watery, while my complexion was sallow and colorless. I had no strength, and was almost completely helpless. The doctor finally advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."
"Father bought a couple of boxes of the pills and after taking the first box I was much improved. I think I must have used about a dozen boxes with the result that I was entirely cured, and have since had no symptoms whatever of my old trouble.—From the Sun, North Vernon, Ind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., 50 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.
