

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST YET!

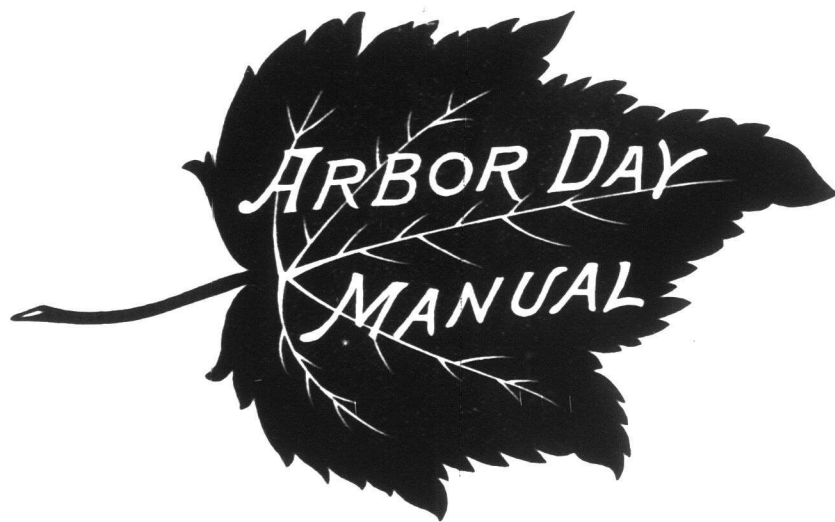

THOSE who knew the merits of Webster's Great Dictionary, and just how valuable a book it was, were startled recently by Progress' announcement that it would furnish the book and the sixteen-page Progress for one year for $3.75. No person who has taken advantage of the offer, and they can be counted by hundreds, understands how it can be made. We cannot explain it either. All that we know is that we are making some pecuniary sacrifice to advertise Progress and that we have the right to sell the book with Progress in the Provinces. We know also that the work is strongly and handsomely bound in sheep, even handsomer than the illustration in this advertisement. We know, too, that every department in Webster is contained in this Webster edition, the copyright on which expired more than a year ago, and thus enabled other publishers to push the work. The print is clear and legible, and the paper, while not calendered, is strong and heavy. We believe that such a book as this should be in the hands of every teacher in the Provinces, certainly it should be in every school. It is a perfect mine of information, revised and corrected to date. The illustrations number over 1,500, the synonyms over 10,000, the pronouncing department is complete with every authority quoted. Other special departments too numerous to mention here are all to be found in the back of Webster. Remember that this same book sold for $13.00 two years ago. Remember that it can be had with Progress for One Year for $3.75.
