

A chessboard with a central chess piece, split vertically into blue and red halves. The chessboard is a diamond pattern of squares. The central piece is a white king. The background is a gradient of colors: blue on the left, red on the right, and green at the bottom. The text "strategy" is written in a white, serif font across the middle of the board.

strategy

The strategic plan will be a rolling plan, always looking four years ahead, never stagnating.