call and therefore the wall remained. Hereapon George cried aloud, "This town is accursed for not receiving the messenger of the Lord, therefore the angel is departed and the wall shall stand as a monument of a sinful people." Having so said, he shortly afterward went to Lyme.

the

ever

ning

lols.

dols

ourn

and

with

o all

ıblie

ting

last

t by sain. es at the feet oury A per-God its ding the this convere lı or atè, ookules ical etiity. the ırs, ed, ers, hat raft in be red Ir. ng of he ort on llsiis I may here say of George Whitefield that notwithstanding his eccentricities I ever shall admire his general character—his personal piety, his goodness of heart and hatred of persecution. I ever viewed him as an instrument of heaven, as the greatest blessing America ever knew: he turned the profligate to God and roused the lukewarm Christian. It is true also he has made wise men mad.

New England, before he came, was but the slaughter house for heretics. He was admired by the oppressed Episcopalians and trembling Quakers. He was followed by nearly all sects. He made peace where there was no peace and even his enemies praised him in the gate.

He is now landed where the wicked cease from trouble and the weary are at rest and where his works of faith, love and charity cloathe him. May his virtues be imitated—his imperfections forgiven.