

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC.

"She Walked in Her Sleep."
In these days when the chill winds blow and the human body is apt to annex a cold this would be a rather startling thing for any lady to do, but in Mark Swan's farce of the same name, which will be the attraction all this week at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, commencing tonight, the heroine has the sleep walking proclivity, and like Lady Macbeth, she walks just as she has arisen from her couch, and only in a very thin silken "robe de nuit," and as she may perhaps parade on the edge of the hotel walls, where the populace perchance might see her, she dons a picture hat and starts somnambulizing. After furnishing an evening's laughter everything is most satisfactorily explained and several divorce suits for the time being are shelved. Matinees will be as usual, on Wednesday and Saturday.

Princess Tonight.
Tonight will witness one of the most important theatrical events of the season, when "Dark Rosalind," a new Irish comedy by W. D. Hepenstall and Whitford Kane, opens at the Princess for a week's engagement, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. A delightful love story runs thru the play, which is written around novel lines and abounds in youthful charm. It is the latest production of David Belasco, who is here with the company, and will personally direct the production of the play. The distinguished cast chosen by Mr. Belasco for the play includes such well-known players as John Daly Murphy, Burton Churchill, Robert Cummings, John Carmody, P. W. Gibson, Henry Duffey, P. J. Kelley, George Fitzgerald, John E. Trevor, Charles F. McCarthy, Dan Moyle, Thomas Mitchell, Joseph Brennan, Eileen Huban, Beryl Mercer, Eileen Curran, Rose Morrison, Desha Saville, Molly Carroll, Anne Sheridan and others.

"Seven Days' Leave" continues that the theatrical public appreciate the wholesome melodrama as evidenced by the patronage extended to the English naval-military play, "Seven Days' Leave," at the Grand, where, on account of the demand for seats, the engagement has been extended another week. With the cessation of hostilities in Europe it was predicted that the drawing influence of "Seven Days' Leave" would decline. The contrary was the result, for the play appears to be more acceptable since the armistice was signed.

Nelson-Terry at Shea's.
Phyllis Nelson-Terry, the distinguished Canadian artist who last appeared here in the leading role of "Tribby," will come to Shea's Theatre this week as the headline attraction. Miss Terry will offer a repertoire of selected songs. Henry "Squidgum" Lewis, former star of a dozen musical comedy successes, will present his own original offering, "The Laugh Shop." Harry Langdon, with Rose and Cecil, have a bright little musical vehicle that is replete with high-provoking comedy. Pearl Regay and Lester Sheehan are well known here and will be given a hearty welcome. Beeman and Anderson are known as "The Two Speed Boys," while Lilyan Martin and Martha Bayes are dancers de luxe. Miller and Lykes are two comedians with some briskest sketches. Rosamond and Dorothy, "Two Musical Maids," and the British-Canadian Pathé Revue complete the bill.

At Loew's Theatre.
A typical Marguerite Clark picture is "Little Miss Hoover," billed this week at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden. Ben Ryan and Harriette Lee, international musical comedy favorites, heading the vaudeville, in their new skit, "You've Spoiled It," will introduce something new in song and story. The Victoria Four have a new repertoire of songs, and Chas. Rice and Co. will introduce a timely patriotic skit, "The Four Flushers." Other features include "Adonis and Co.," the modern Apollo and his wonderful dog, "Owen and Mocha" in sparkling melodies and dances, and the Four Dancing Demons, in dance and songs. "Famous Canadian Battalions in France," Loew's British-Canadian Gazette and the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons round off the bill.

Theda Bara at Hipp.
Theda Bara will come to Shea's Hippodrome this week with the latest William Fox standard production, "The She-Devil." It is an interesting story of the life, love and hate of a passionate Spanish beauty, and finishes with a climax that is genuinely surprising. The Petticoat Minstrels, eight clever girls, will be featured in a 1919 edition of songs, mirth and merriment. Harry Thorne and company will be featured in a breezy little comedy sketch entitled "Under One Roof." Grindell and Leathers are bright singing comedians, while Ray and Pagano, two musical maids, will be offered in songs, dances and instrumental numbers. Charles Jones and Maude Ryan are known as "The Fashion Plates of Vaudeville." Elsie Kearns, in songs and dances that will please, and the Pathé News and comedy complete the bill.

At the Gayety.
The "Bovary" burlesquers, with two of America's foremost comedians, namely Frank Harcourt and Billy Foster, one of the best organizations of its kind, will be seen here at the Gayety Theatre this week. Joe Hurler, the producer, promises that every feature this season is new, including a bright two act musical skit called "The Health Hunters." This feature of the entertainment is reported to be the most stupendous ever seen in a burlesque house.

At the Star Theatre.
It is a long time since such a well-balanced cast has been gotten together as the one playing "The Face Makers," which will appear at the Star all this week beginning Monday matinee and continuing for the week. This show is controlled by I. H. Herk and Kelly and Damsel, who have a reputation of being able to cater to the taste of a burlesque audience to a nicety. A glance at the cast will show how well they have succeeded in each an artist in his or her line. Harry Seymour, Manny King, Della Clark, Rose Allen, Sophie Davis, Fred Hall, Will Lewis, Blanche Nabeau, and a top notch chorus complete the personnel.

"Romance of Tarzan" at Strand.
The Strand will present all this week the sensational photoplay spectacle, "The Romance of Tarzan," the sequel to "The Origin of the Ape." The triumph of motion picture art shows Elmo Lincoln, the giant athlete of the screen, and beautiful Elna Mackey in startling, thrilling, and dramatic scenes. Wild apes, lions, tigers, gorillas, crocodiles and many other animals, including the monster elephant, Tarzan, play a part. Children will be admitted for 10 cents at the 3.30 performance daily (except Saturday) and at a special Saturday morning matinee at 11.30. This week is also a good time to start and follow the great serial, "The Master Mystery," with Houdini, the Handcuff King, at the Strand.

"Don't Change Your Husband."
The special Afteract production, "Don't Change Your Husband," which is the attraction at the Allen this week, shows De Mille at his best. Jeanie MacPherson, the author, has simply reversed the old-fashioned triangle, gray matrimonial years, careless wife, divorce, etc., and an excuse is offered the woman who divorces her husband, but the next minute you laugh at her for jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, as it were. Ben Turpin and Charlie Lynn will be seen in what is considered to be the best Bennett comedy ever shown in Toronto.

"Cupid's Day Off." An all-British Weekly and special music by the Allen orchestra complete one of the best programs ever presented.

Annette Kellerman.
Today begins the second and last week of "Queen of the Sea" at the Regent, starring the famous actress, Annette Kellerman. She has a score of thrilling episodes, including a dive which Miss Kellerman makes from a cable 35 feet above the water. It is a play that particularly pleases young people, but it is just as interesting for the older folks. "Millo Poco," whose singing has created such favorable comment, will conclude his engagement this week. He is a Metropolitan Opera singer of repute.

Entered Holland in Rags.
With his clothes almost torn to pieces, his trousers in tatters and looking for all the world like a tramp, Lieut. J. Beverley Robinson, who is to speak in Massey Hall on Feb. 17, made his way into Holland after two and a half years of prison life in Germany. His most intimate friends had hardly been recognized him had there been any present, but appearances didn't matter when freedom had been secured. How he made the trip, the hours of uncertainty that were a part of the hazardous task, is told about in his thrilling war talk.

Coming to Alexandra.
Next Monday evening, Feb. 17, at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Frank McIntyre, one of the most popular comedians on the American stage, also on the screen, heads the great cast of fun-makers, selected by H. H. Frazer for his last production, titled "30 Days," a farce in three acts, by A. E. Thomas and Clayton Hamilton, that is said to be not only clean and wholesome, with an appeal to all classes of theatre patrons, but one of the funniest farces ever written. Seats will be placed on sale next Thursday morning for all performances at the theatre box office.

Cyril Maude Next Week.
Cyril Maude will begin a one week's engagement at the Princess on Monday, Feb. 17, presenting his new comedy, "The Saving Grace," which had a long run in England last season, and which has lately concluded a very prosperous engagement in New York. "The Saving Grace" is from the pen of C. Haddon Chambers, author of "The Tyranny of Tears," "Passions," and other notable successes. It is said to be more than a worthy successor to Mr. Maude's delightful play, "Crummy," in which he has appeared in this city. The seat sale opens Thursday.

"A Night in Honolulu" Coming.
A drama of life in Hawaii by Howard McKent Barnes, titled "A Night in Honolulu," will be the attraction at the Grand next week, for its first presentation in Toronto. It is said to be given a beautiful stage setting and the atmosphere of the Islands is retained by the introduction of the native Imperial Sextette in instrumental selections.

"THE HIGHWAYMAN" NEXT WEEK.

The reserved plan for "The Highwayman," the original opera being given by six members of St. Anne's (Anglican) Choir, is now open at the Parish Hall, Dundas and Dufferin streets, for a series of three performances for three successive years has been selected to render the choral music in the Exhibition of 1919. The choir's reputation of their annual operatic offering has spread over the whole city. "The Highwayman" is to be given every evening during the week of February 17, in St. Anne's Parish Hall.

BIG SALE OF BLANKETS.
Royal Air Force Blankets Are Selling Very Fast.

These fine full-sized grey Army Blankets, many quite new and none more than 18 months old, are now being offered in wholesale lots at a fraction of what they cost the British Government. While they are ideal blankets for use in private homes, they are also just the article for Hospitals, Educational, Municipal and Provincial Institutions that use or require woolen blankets. The fact of them being from the Government stores is a sufficient guarantee of their quality. These blankets weigh from eight and a half to nine pounds each, and measure sixty by eighty inches. When you stop to think the farmers received from 75c to 90c a lb. for the raw wool to make these blankets you will appreciate their cheapness. 27,000 were sold the first 10 days. We want every person to get their share, and we have plenty to hand to fill all orders for a few weeks yet. In large lots interested, communicate with J. A. McCabe, Room 12, Mail Building, Toronto. Find Nine-Year-Old Boy Attempting to Wreck Trains

Chatham, Feb. 9.—A nine-year-old Chatham Township boy confessed in the county police court this morning to being a would-be train wrecker, and admitted placing heavy spikes six inches long between rails on the Pere Marquette track near his home, four miles from the city, and thus endangered Chris. Harris and Archie McCathern, colored, who were arrested on suspicion of the offence. The discovery was made by road inspectors traveling on a jigger. They were hurried into the ditch after hitting the spikes. The boy was allowed to go with a caution, his parents paying costs amounting to $25.

WANT ALIEN EXPULSION.

Chatham, Feb. 9.—The agitation for the deportation of alien laborers has spread in the city and immediate steps are being demanded by the local Great War Veterans' Association and the Chatham Mechanics' Board of Trade. Both organizations have passed resolutions demanding alien expulsion from Canada, and that their jobs be given to Canadians. The veterans claim there are a large number of aliens and retired farmers holding jobs in local factories, while forty of their members vainly walk the city streets in an endeavor to secure work. The soldiers' aid commission will call a meeting of local manufacturers for the purpose of discussing the labor situation.

Brantford—The there are some 600 unemployed men, according to Mayor MacBride, this does not apply to the machinists. Union officials declare that only one machinist is out of work, and a position is being found for him.

HUGE CROWDS MEET TORONTO VETERANS
Three Hundred and Thirty-One, Ex Baltic, Welcomed Home.

Huge crowds flocked to North Toronto station yesterday afternoon to welcome the 600 soldiers who arrived on two troop trains from the S. S. Baltic. The pleasant, frosty weather, with the absence of any accidents to mar the event, contributed to the happiness of those who had assembled to greet the boys on their return.

At 2:30 the first train was scheduled to arrive, but long before this time people began to come and at the appointed time the station and yard was jammed. The same was true when the second train arrived at 3:30. Altogether 331 men were for Toronto, about 50 were Americans and the rest belonged to Hamilton, Brantford and other outside centres.

On the platform to meet both trains were Brig.-General Gunn, Mayor Church, Ald. McBride, Major Gibson, Capt. Richardson, Capt. Jago and many other civic and military officials. The Salvation Army band, of Dovercourt District, was present to meet the first train, and together with the C. G. R. band, enlivened the time which seemed interminable to those who were expecting somebody "after long years of waiting."

All the men reported a good trip over, with good food and comfortable accommodation and an excellent trip from Halifax.

After three years' service in France, wounded at the Somme and Passchendaele, Pte. William Boker, of Brampton, arrived on the first train and expressed himself as very glad that it was over and that he was permitted to return to his home in good health. Sergt. W. J. Armstrong, whose home is in the city but who refused to give his street address, also reported a good trip over. He would not talk about his adventures overseas but he saw a great deal of service.

Pte. G. H. Brown, of Islington, spent 15 months in France and went thru the Cambrai show, one of the heaviest battles, if not the largest of the whole war.

The Americans were from all parts of the United States, many of them having served two and three years' service. Among them were: Pte. C. D. Markham, of Grosse Pointe, Detroit, Michigan, who enlisted in the 19th Battalion, and who had been in the front line for two years at the Somme and Ypres.

V. R. Savig, Serbian author of "South Eastern Europe," will give a lecture on the "Adriatic Problem," under the auspices of the United Women Voters of the Guild Hall, Y.W.C.A., 21 McGill street, on Thursday evening at 8.15.

LOVE, THE SOLVENT.

"The ethical code of Jesus Christ is becoming the Magna Charta of nations," said Tom Williams at the Allen Theatre last night.

"Jesus was right," said he, "life consists not in what we take in but in what we give out. Do you wish to be happy? Then try to make others happy. Do you wish to be free? Then dedicate your life to secure freedom for others. If every book in the Bible were lost and all of the Bible destroyed save the sermon on the mount as basis for reconstruction we could rehabilitate civilization. Love."
