Will Sell Surplus Stocks.

Surplus stocks of food and clothing in the hands of the government would be sold, and hoards of food in private hands would be forced out under the existing provisions of the food control law. Dealers eager to reap a harvest of rising prices who had accumulated hoards, would now "see the disadvantage as well as the danger of holding off from the new process of distribution."

The normal operation of the laws of supply and demand, the president said, had been set at naught in the cases of many necessary commodities. He cited the figures of the federal trade commission, showing rising prices in the face of greater stocks of food than were on hand in the country a year
