How Made My Hair Grow. Woman Gives Marvelously Beautiful Hair With Simple Home Prescription. I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all failed. I finally found a simple prescription which I used with the most remarkable results, and I can unhesitatingly state that it is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, itching, and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair much easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all his gray hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows: Bay Rum, 6 oz.; menthol crystals, one-half drachm; perfume, 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls. Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp. Go to your druggist and ask for the eight-ounce bottle containing six drachms of Bay Rum, also one-half drachm of Menthol crystals, and for a two-ounce bottle of Lavona de Compose. Mix the ingredients yourself at your own home. Add the Menthol crystals to the Bay Rum and then pour in the Lavona de Compose and add the perfume. Let it stand for one-half hour and it is ready to use.

CITY PLANS ROUND-UP OF ITS "UNDESIRABLES"

Will Ask Dominion Government to Deport Immigrants Who Prey on Charity.

Controller Harrison, left last night for Ottawa, where he will join the mayor in making the request of Hon. Mr. Oliver, minister of the interior, that the Dominion Government take steps toward the deportation of a number of immigrants of the undesirable variety.

This course was decided upon by Controller Harrison, War Office secretary at a private meeting in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon, when a report was received from Superintendent of the Associated Charities LaLor Bureau. Mr. Trimble said he had caused investigation of a list of 400 alleged unemployed men supplied to the city by J. W. Cheeseman, who has figured largely in deputations at the city hall, and that 174 of the men could be deported at once.

It was stated afterwards by the controllers that they have no definite idea as to the number of undesirables who are liable to deportation, but they believe that there are many such, and a round-up on a large scale is in prospect. The Associated Charities will be able to give much valuable information to the government when it is ready to act.

Last spring the city asked for government aid in the deportation of a big colony of Armenians on Eastern-avenue, and the response was prompt, the government sending its commissioner to speedily settle the preliminaries.

Controller Harrison will also support the mayor in an effort to have the garrulous common language unweeded, the government having so far declined to make over a deed of possession to the city.

WOULD STAVE OFF TRIAL CLAIM ACTION IS DEAD

Editor Macdonald Not in the Custody of the Court at All, is Counsel's Argument

Considering that the prospects of a trial in the courts were in the beginning received with unfeigned pleasure in the editorial columns, counsel for the Globe editor, in the "Beattie Nesbitt" case, seem to be mighty particular that may be sighted that looks as if it was good enough to induce the judges to declare the action dead. Proceedings were begun over a year ago as a result of the Globe's campaign against the doctor as a mayoralty candidate. For the past two or three weeks it has bobbed up in the jury assizes every few days, with one or another reason advanced as an excuse for postponement.

Yesterday argument was heard before Justice Latchford, when N. W. Rowell, K.C., for Editor Macdonald, contended that the court had no jurisdiction, as the case was dead by failure to prosecute or traverse.

"My learned friend," said Hon. A. B. Morine, K.C., for Dr. Nesbitt, "contends that this court has no jurisdiction because the defendant is not under arrest. There is an indictment against him, and this court could arrest him at once. If the fact of his not being under arrest is the ground on which you wish to interfere with this case, we will arrest him to-day."

Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., and R. A. Reid, appeared with Mr. Morine, and C. Wilkie and Edward Wright supported Mr. Rowell, who claimed the action was dead because of the failure of the complainant to prosecute or to have the case traversed.

"Was there no order of any kind?" asked Justice Latchford.

"Absolutely none," replied Mr. Rowell, who went on: "Sitting as judge of the court of oyer and terminer, your lordship has jurisdiction only over matters presented to you by the grand jury of this present court. Sitting as a judge of the court of general jail delivery, you can only deal with prisoners in custody, or out on bail. The defendant, Mr. Macdonald, has had no indictment presented against him by this grand jury, and he is neither in jail or on bail. Therefore your lordship has no jurisdiction to allow the case to proceed to trial."

Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., would not admit the case was dead. There were four methods of disposing of an indictment, withdrawing it for a substantial reason, by acquittal, by conviction or by entering a nolle prosequi. None of these had been done and therefore the indictment still stood.

"The criminal code provides by section 94 for compelling some one of these remedies to be administered," argued Mr. Nesbitt, who further pointed out that in the high court of justice to-day all civil and criminal matters were merged. It being the high court of justice, its sittings were continuous under the Judicature Act and such a thing as the discontinuance of the law had not existed for 200 years.

"This contention arises from mis-olde practice of the court of oyer and terminer, in which the judges sat by commission. When that commission expired cases could not be traversed or adjourned," argued Mr. Morine.

"Judgment was reserved.

BEWARE OF LA GRIPPE

At this season of the year La Grippe is more than usually busy and its victims are to be found everywhere. PSYCHINE, the greatest of tonics, should therefore be in every home.

The after effects of this terrible scourge are even worse than the malady itself, leaving the patient utterly prostrated and too often leading to consumption. PSYCHINE strengthens the whole system and brings back health and vigor. Weakness cannot exist where this powerful remedy is taken.

Mr. G. D. Colwell, of Walkerville, Ont., was stricken down with La Grippe in 1906 and it left him in very bad condition. He says: "It was all run down and bordering on Consumption. I could not sleep at nights, had awful sweats, and coughed nearly the whole time. This is how I was when I began to take PSYCHINE. In a few nervous states; but from the first bottle I began to improve. It did marvels for me and brought me back to health in no time, making a new man of me."

"It fortifies the body against the attacks of La Grippe and is a cure preventative. I always take PSYCHINE if I feel a cold coming on and it puts me right in no time."

A WONDERFUL TONIC! PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

If you use Psychine regularly it will ward off La Grippe, and keep the system and keep the body in good physical condition. No one can afford to be without it. The druggists and stores sell it at 25c. per bottle. Prepared only by Dr. F. A. Slocum, Limited, Slocum Bldg., Spadina Ave., Toronto. For Cough, Cold, Throat, Lung and Stomach Trouble take Psychine.
