The question of who wins this war is who can endure the longest, and the problem of endurance, in a large degree, is a problem of food supply and the ships to carry it. The farmer who works overtime and the consumer who economizes are fighting the submarine with a positive and sure weapon."

If peace should come, Mr. Hoover continued, large numbers of ships would be released and European wheat production increased. If climatic continued the second continue to the second c production increased. If cheatile con-ditions next year are right, he esti-mates a wheat crop in this country of one billion bushels. food control law guarantees a mini-mony price of $2 per bushel. "If war continues this wheat will be vitally necessary," Mr. Hoover said, "but if the war should come to an end there will be no foreign market for at least 400,000,000 bushels. The government must then take over the wheat and probably find a market for it at a very great loss. I should anticipate that the government may lose from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 eat guaranty, if beace arrives before the 1918 harvest is mar-
