MARRIAGE OF ALICE ROOSEVELT

With all the Pomp of an Imperial Court a Democratic American Girl Was Wedded Today---Oriental Magnificence and Splendor Rivalled by Costly Decorations of the White House---As a Brilliant Spectacle This Wedding Eclipsed Anything Ever Seen in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—In the beautiful white and gold east room of the White House, a few minutes after noon today, the venerable Right Rev. Henry W. Satterlee, Bishop of Washington, of the Protestant Episcopal church, pronounced the fateful words which united in marriage Alice Lee Roosevelt, eldest daughter of the president of the United States, and Nicholas Longworth, representative of congress from first district of Ohio. The ceremony, the simple, beautiful and impressive ring service of the Episcopal church, was witnessed by one of the most brilliant and distinguished assemblages ever gathered in the White House. Approximately one thousand persons were invited, but no list of the guests is furnished for publication.

Over 17 in colors, red predominated. Banked back of the platform, and next to the windows were palms, selected for the beauty and closeness of their leaves. Mrs. Roosevelt was a superbly richly designed, heavy cream-colored brocade, on which were figures of gold and brown interlaced with threads of gold. The gown was in Princess style, with long train of the broad material. The trimmings were of brown chiffon, embroidered in blue and gold. The sole of the bodice was formed of embroidered chiffon, as were the trimmings on the elbow sleeves. Exquisitely designed points on the skirt were made of blue and gold embroidery. She wore diamond ornaments.

with rare old point lace and the elbow sleeves were finished with the same tiny white gloves. A voluminous tulle veil almost completely enveloped the bride. The president passed through the two lines of ushers, who had separated at the platform and presented his daughter to the waiting bridegroom. Together they ascended the platform, where Bishop Satterlee performed the ceremony, after which the party proceeded to the state dining-room, where a buffet wedding breakfast was served to the bride party and guests.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED; FORMER PRESIDENT OF NEW YORK LIFE DYING

JOHN A. MCCALL, FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Feb. 17.—Physicians of John A. McCall, the former president of the New York Life Insurance Company, announced today that almost all hope for his recovery has been abandoned. Mr. McCall was much weaker today than at any previous time during his illness, this condition being due largely to the fact that for several days he has been unable to take small quantities of liquid nourishment. Members of his family have been told to be prepared for the end very soon.

ROBBERIES AT RENFORTH

There Have Been Several There Recently---Capt. E. C. Elkin's Cottage Visited.

Some little time ago it was reported that a number of summer houses at Renforth had been broken into by some miscreants and household effects stolen. Last week the pretty suburban villa was again visited by depredators and Capt. E. C. Elkin's residence was the one to suffer. A number of things were removed from the house and up to the present time the thieves have not been located. The residents of Renforth held a meeting a few days ago and decided to take united action against the depredations. Steps were taken to apprehend the culprits, and a reward of $25 is offered for information that will lead to their capture.

IT IS NOT SMALLPOX

This is Opinion in Regard to Westfield Case---Lumbermen say Camp is Not Quarantined.

MONCTON, Feb. 17 (Special)—Clarence Milburn, of Hopewell Cape, who was working for William Floyd in a portable saw mill near Salem, Albert Co., met with an accident yesterday morning that resulted in a broken leg. The injured member was set by Dr. McFarlane of Fairville, and Mr. Rose is now recovering at his home. It is reported that small-pox had broken out at the camp, where it has not been quarantined. The place being shut off from intercourse with the surrounding country. The men living in Queens county and who left the camp 24 days ago, have developed no symptoms of the disease, and it is now quite certain that no camp was the incubation of the germ. Some of the men belonging to the developments have followed their visit. In short, it is generally conceded that the announcement of small-pox at this place was entirely without foundation.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(Special)—We don't call her Alice any more. She is plain Mrs. Longworth now, and the press correspondents are discomfited. The wedding was a very democratic affair. The folks just dropped in and said "Howdy, Alice," "Howdy, Nick," and sat around and had a real American good time. All the talk about dukes and duchesses, and princelings, and tues and feathers, was pure imagination. We are a democratic people. We venerate the log-house and the plow, blunt man. We scorn the gilded folly of the effete monarchs of the old world. Give us plain gray and our own Colonel Mann. That's all we ask.

CONGRATULATIONS

Alice and Nick walked to the station and went up to Canajoharie for a spell, and there was a great shower of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt expect to be some time here now, because Alice was always a home body, and helped her mother a lot in the house-keeping. But they say she got a good man, and that's a great comfort in these times when everybody is looking for a divorce. They do say Alice might have had a Sultan of something, but she wouldn't go back on Nick. She's a genuine American, Alice is—and so is Nick. The severe simplicity of this marriage of a typical American man and woman must have impressed the bewildered habits of foreign courtiers.
