LOCAL NEWS

AN APPRECIATION. Miss Gladys Titus has received from William Hawker a box of choice chocolates as a recognition of the splendid manner in which she recited at Marlborough Lodge S. of E. celebration last Thursday evening a poem by Edward Sears on Nelson at Trafalgar.

POLICE COURT. Three prisoners charged with drunkenness, were arraigned in the police court this morning. A fine of $8 or two months in jail was imposed on each. One deposit of $8 was forfeited to the court. The case of Moses Ramsey, charged with supplying liquor to William Goldsworthy, was allowed to stand over as Ramsey was too ill to be brought into court.

EACH GOT MOOSE. Hartley Flewelling and Henry Wheaton of Indianora returned on Saturday after a successful hunting trip to the Canaan Forks. Each of them brought down a good-sized moose. They were accompanied by Lorenzo and Enneley Kierstead as guides. Both of the latter have been very successful this season and have brought out several parties with moose.

TO TRY TODAY. Taking advantage of the first day in which the weather conditions have been at all favorable the Maritime Dredging and Construction Co., Ltd., will make an attempt this afternoon to raise their scow which was sunk in the west channel ten days ago. Since that time the wind has been blowing from the southwest and would have rendered any operations difficult and probably dangerous.

PRESENTATION. A very pleasing event took place in the letter carriers' room in the post office on Friday last, when Superintendent George Withers, on behalf of the letter carriers, presented to J. A. Mallan an address and a purse of gold. Mr. Mallan has been employed with the post office department for about thirty years and has recently been superannuated. He replied briefly to the address, thanking his fellow employees for their gift, and presented each of those present with a miniature Nelson shield as a remembrance.

MOVED COAL PLANT. The coal plant in the I. C. R. yard has been transferred to the eastern side of the round-house. A distance of about 600 yards from where it was formerly located on the western side. The removal is for convenience as it was considered that it would facilitate the work of coaling if the engines could be loaded on their way out, outside the round-house. The situation in regard to the coal supply is greatly improved, and now with the work of the round-house plant completed, it will be easier to keep a larger quantity in stock.

CONVICTION IN LIQUOR CASE REVERSED BY JUDGE FORBES TODAY

Question Was Use of Imperial or Wine Measure—Several Matters in Probate

An interesting case was heard on appeal before Judge Forbes this morning, when the conviction of the police magistrate against Michael Quirk, a retail licensee, for selling liquor in illegal quantities, was set aside, and a fine of $50 and costs of $25 ordered to be returned to the defendant.

The law permits the keeper of a retail saloon to sell quantities up to one quart of any one liquor in a wine measure, and the defendant, according to the evidence, sold two pint bottles of gin. There are twenty ounces in a wine measure, and the amount of liquor sold was more than sixteen ounces and under twenty.

The question arose as to which should govern. The magistrate held that the wine measure was meant and imposed a fine of $50 and costs. It was shown on appeal that the act of 1890, which imposed a penalty of $50 on any licensee using a quart measure of different quantity, was therefore argued that the magistrate had fined the defendant for not doing something that was in itself illegal. Sinclair and MacIsaac appeared for the defendant.

F. Quigley, K. C., is proctor.

The matter of the estate of Eliza Jane Merritt, widow of Gabriel Merritt, came up. She died intestate leaving two sons, David W. and Archer C. Puddington, and three daughters—Agnes Manka, Elizabeth Travis and Jennie E. Puddington, child of David W. Puddington, he was appointed administrator, letters to issue on the expiration of fourteen days from the death of deceased. There is no real estate, personal estate $800. Robert G. Murray is proctor.

The court also took up the matter of the estate of John H. McLaughlin, baker. He died intestate leaving his wife Margaret; two sons John and Charles J., and two daughters, Mary Emeline, wife of Walter S. Davidson of Moncton, and Sarah Frances, wife of Humphrey Sheehan. On the petition of the widow and two sons the widow was appointed administratrix. There is no realty; personal estate $690. J. Roy Campbell is proctor.

In the matter of the estate of Catherine Murray, widow of Bernard Murray, city constable, who died in 1878, there was return of citation obtained on the application of Frances Haggood, a credit in the sum of $200, wife of George J. Haggood, painter, for administration. The only next of kin are a nephew James H. Gallagher of Birmingham, Alabama, who renounces in favor of the petitioner, and a niece Catherine E. Brannen of Zion City, Illinois, children of Daniel Gallagher, a brother of the deceased. The personal estate is of nominal value only. The real estate consists of a lot on the north-west corner of Elliott row and Pitt streets. R. G. Murray is proctor.

In the matter of the estate of John Ryan, grocer, there was return of a citation to pass the accounts of Patrick and Roudy Ryan, the executors. All the legacies having been paid, the accounts as filed were passed and allowed. J. Joseph Forster, is proctor.

BULL AND COW MOOSE CHARGED TOGETHER AT ST. JOHN HUNTSMAN

Frank Martin Draws Lesson For Moose and Deer Hunters From Experience in Mispec District

Frank Martin, of Brussels street, has had a good deal of experience in the woods hunting and fishing, in fact the open appeals to him very strongly and the seasons do not pass without one or more visits to the woodland. A recent experience while moose hunting in the Mispec district perhaps looked upon by him as all in the course of things to be expected while to face the hunter and then charged together at full speed. "It was," said Mr. Martin, "for all the world like two rats seen coming down the home stretch, nose and nose for an even finish under the wire."

When the animals were close upon him, he continued, he raised his rifle and shouted. The moose swerved from the straight line, and they out drove to one side he fired again and the bull fell dead. It was found that one bullet had penetrated a lung, the other the heart. Mr. Martin tells the story to illustrate his belief that many of the fatal accidents in the woods—due to men being mistaken for animals by careless or excited hunters—could be avoided. He contends that if there is no need to shoot through the bushes, as is often done, judging merely by sound, but that hunters should wait until the animal is seen for a certainty. That the danger of injury to the huntman by a charging moose is not so great as generally accepted, is his theory after the experience related.

Coming home, Mr. Martin saw a deer on the road near the Ox Bow corner and fired, but already the buck was on the jump into the bushes and he missed him.

STEER KILLED AND QUARTERED AND THE MEAT STOLEN

One of Herd Belonging to Joseph McCarthy so Dealt With in Field Near Spruce Lake

A miserable piece of thievery took place on Saturday last near Spruce Lake, when a five steer owned by Joseph McCarthy, of Five-fathom Hole, near Musquash, was slaughtered and cut into quarters either for marketing or for private consumption. Mr. McCarthy has a fine herd of cattle, numbering a dozen or more, and they had been grazing near the place where the killing occurred. He knew nothing of it until he received word by telephone from some members of a section crew at work nearby that there was something the matter with his cattle, as they had heard loud and repeated calls from where they were in pasture, and it seemed as though something had gone wrong. On hurrying to the spot Mr. McCarthy found the finest animal in his herd missing but the bleeding dead lying upon the ground told that the steer had been killed, and there was other evidence to show that it had been quartered and removed. Whether the steer was shot or not could not be determined, nor is it known who committed the action, but Mr. McCarthy is endeavoring to learn more in the matter. He was in the city on Saturday and reported his loss to the police.

TRAFALGAR DAY

Flags are flying today in honor of the anniversary of the glorious victory of the battle of Trafalgar. The event will be celebrated this evening by the Saint George's Society at a smoking concert which will be held in the Temple Club room of the Masons Hall. The program will include an address by Mayor Frink, president of the society, an oration on Nelson by Dr. Silas Alward, and other addresses of a patriotic nature. A musical programme, including the song "The Death of Nelson" by Mr. Pascoe, will be given and refreshments will be served.

IS BLOOMING ALONE. The last rose of summer, at least as far as King Square is concerned, graces the plot near the main walk from King street towards the fountain. In the October air its fragrance apparently in defiance of the fact that its companions are long ago "faded and gone."
