

E. S. CARTER GIVES UP EDITORIAL POST

Retires From Newspaper Work After 40 Years of Activity in it.

E. S. Carter, editor of the Telegraph-Journal since the amalgamation of the two papers, and previously editor of The Journal, has resigned, having decided to give up newspaper work. When he graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1885 Mr. Carter joined the staff of The Daily Telegraph, and throughout his newspaper career he displayed conspicuous ability. He has a wide knowledge of provincial affairs and people, and his writings of provincial politics under the pen name of "The Gallery Man," were masterpieces that were read with avidity by an eager following. His associates heard with keen regret of his decision to retire from active newspaper work, and the reading public also will greatly regret his retirement.

Mr. Carter started work as a reporter in the same building as that in which he closes his newspaper days, the building which is now the office of The Telegraph-Journal. During the forty years intervening he became thoroughly conversant with all branches of newspaper work, work which he thoroughly enjoyed and in which he was entirely at home.

Mr. Carter was for several years organizer of the Liberal party in the province, and during Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster's term as Prime Minister, was the Premier's secretary. Mr. Carter has been for several years secretary of the Public Utilities Commission of the province. He is possessed of a happy faculty of making friends, and has perhaps as wide a circle of friends of any man in New Brunswick.

Mr. Carter is now on a trip to Montreal and New York.

Keeps You Fit at Home

MANY countries have their famous springs and health resorts. Hot Springs, Bath, Marienbad, Aix-les-Bains are names to conjure with. There, renowned specialists prescribe cures often entailing heavy expenditure, all because so many find that the hurry and rush of modern life causes a breakdown of digestive powers. Sufferers from errors in diet crowd costly health resorts.

You can keep fit at home by using Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat. It sweeps out health-destroying body poisons. You will get definite food value, too, for with the bran other nourishing parts of the wheat are retained, and wheat is the best liked food in the world today. Post's Bran Flakes is deliciously flavored—each taste-ful, thin, crisp-toasted flake really good. Serve with milk or cream.

So, at home—let Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat keep you in condition. Get it from your grocer. Eat it regularly. Ready to serve from the wax-wrapped package. Help Nature help you.

Send us your name and address and we will mail you a generous sample of Post's Bran Flakes.

A sagless spring of matchless ease at a low price you cannot equal

Those who sleep soundest when firmly cushioned will find a perfect bed spring in the Slumber King. Its 26 flexible steel strips are suspended between long, strong coil springs. Joined by four rows of smaller sensitive coils, they support your body in luxurious comfort. Heavy border strips and cables prevent sagging edges. High risers give the lofty appearance of a box spring. These features are exclusive. No other spring has them. Yet the price of the Slumber King is surprisingly low. See it at your merchant's and compare it with your old spring.

Modern Eyes Had It Hard

Through 99% of human history Eyes were focussed on far objects more than near. Through 99% of mankind's development, Sight was watchfully employed in hunting game and scouting against enemy, animals and warriors.

Those ancestor Eyes were far-sighted Eyes and unused to close up vision like reading, sewing, etc. To change over Sight activities to the opposite extreme within two or three generations was aggravated by awkward lighting arrangements—and so a greater need for corrective Glasses has come about.

To prove the above points beautifully, notice how sailors who have hawk eyes for distant objects fail to read well without glasses.

Four in five alive heed glasses. Dollar down and a dollar a week gets the best at
