C. HUMPHREY TAYLOR.

Tim of Clovervale.

He Has Lost Faith in the News Boy.

DEAR 'TISER:—Praps you spose as I aint wrote none lately that I've give up my literary persuit which aint so. I've been studying Gramer and Classic English. I've alus held the Newsboy in the Press office up to ma as my ideal of a journalist but judjin from the article he wrote for the Press November 28th ultimo. he has lost the sight of one eye, or is gettin, or hopes to get, some 9 $ job from the Tory crowd when they get the reigns of government again. Mayhap he got enough when they was in power to keep him runnin, for the 17,000 $ he says Mr. Blair distributed among the N. B. Liberal papers, aint nothin to what the Torys used to pay to their organs. I would like to leave it to the unprejudiced elector to say if the Tories are not to blame for raising the price of printing. Mr. Blair no doubt finds it hard to economise along these lines, for if the Newsboy's appetite aint very ravenous I think if he looks into what his contemporary newspapers used to get by way of boodle. I can understand how he simpathizes with Mr. Pacaud for they say the Press never did get its share of the Tory plunder until the present company got hold of it. Just here I want to say hurrah for Mr. Blair and our winter port. I like a man that can do something for N. B. I just wish to say that Mr. Blair has done more for St. John and N. B. in two years than Mr. Foster ever did in five years and I got the proof of it if he wants it. TIM.

LIGHT THE STREETS.

The electric light system talked of some time ago has not, and probably will not materialize for sometime to come. In the meantime why not use a few kerosene lamps to illuminate the streets? The ADVERTISER has enquired into the matter and has found that a lamp at the foot of Maple St., one at Taylor's Corner, another at the next street below, and one near the churches would light the streets in fine style. The lamps can be purchased for about $4 each and the kerosene and caring for them would be an expense easily overcome. Who will take the matter in hand and see what can be done next week?

Since the stores close at 8 o'clock the need of lighted streets is more especially felt.

Don't Send Stamps.

It has long been the law that no parties could sell postage stamps without a vendor's license, and the authorities are now enforcing the same. It has become habitual to remit stamps as change, and this comes under the penalty of the law. The enforcement is occasioned by the fact that the government has provided the new postal notes, which should be used instead of postage stamps. We would urge our readers to make a note of this.

That Glassville Meeting.

The ADVERTISER's Glassville correspondent gives a different report from that of the Press' informant. He says: "The meeting at Glassville was held in McIntosh's Hall in the afternoon, and while not largely attended was a satisfactory business meeting. It had been understood that it was a meeting for Liberals only, and as a result only staunch party men were present. The committee and officers chosen at the meeting were: P. B. Millie, chairman; James Miller, secretary. Committee: E. D. Snider, Jos. A. Nixon, Jas G. Lyon, Jas. Ryan and John P. McElvaney. The plan of organization was explained fully to those present and all were agreed to do all in their power to carry it into practical effect. It was stated that the meeting was larger than that held by the Conservatives sometime previous, although Glassville is admittedly a Conservative stronghold. M. Welsh and T. Lynch were unable to be present.

Peel S. S. Convention.

Peel Parish Sunday School Convention met at Lansdowne on Tuesday afternoon and evening. There was a fair attendance. Miss Maud Jones presided at the organ and there was plenty of good singing in which the alto had a prominent place.

Reports were heard from Peel, Riverbank, Lansdowne, Coldstream, Gordonsville, and East Florenceville Baptist and Union schools. There was much in the reports encouraging to the work. Strong influence existed to get schools to keep open during the Winter months, also to get home departments established in Lower Peel, Riverbank, Lansdowne and East Coldstream. There was much life in Peel school. In Gordonsville the attendance had increased during the season.

Lessons were taught in the afternoon to a large number of children.

Tomorrow's lesson was taught by J. K. Fleming, in the evening.

The R. & W.

Murdoch Matheson arrived home from Campbellton last Saturday. He has been employed on the Restigouche & Western R. R. He says they have 10 miles of the road all completed and it is expected 40 more will be constructed next season. The Western terminus has not yet been decided upon, but probably it will be Grand Falls. The company looks for a bonus from that town.

Mr. Matheson says Campbelltown is a booming town, the population about equal to Woodstock. Seventy-five new buildings have gone up this year and they have a new school house that cost $30,000.
