French Company Offers a Patent Device to Assist the Police —Two Children Fell From Speeding Train.

fis...afi, zfixg
PARIS June 22.—French newspapers are discussing with interest the offer made by the authorities in several states on the continent to the Warner Instrument Company of Beloit, Wisconsin, for Speed-o-meters which might enable the local police to apprehend the owners of automobiles supposed to be violating the speed laws in the various localities. The Swiss authorities, for instance, have been very anxious to obtain from the American concern'a ginat auto-meter which tells the rate of speed at which a machine is travelling and which can be read blocks away, the figures which register on the large machine being nearly a foot in height. It has been suggested that all automobiles ought to be forced by legislation to adopt these machines, and that it would then be impossible for the owners of automobiles to misrepresent the rate of speed at which these machines are travelling in ylolation of the laws Unfortunately for the authorities however, the Warners control the patents of these giant mahines—machines which cannot be made to o' for the magnetic principle upon which these European patents are based. And Mr. A. P. Warner, the Genbrand the Manager of the Company, has just informed the Swiss Government that he has always refused a similar order from the authorities to Chicago, it befor the owners of authorities in order

And Mr. A. P. Warner, the General Manager of the Company, has just informed the Swiss Government that he has always refused a similar order from the authorities of Chicago, it being contrary to the policies of the Warner Instrument Company to manufacture anything which might be regarded as a "spotter" by the altomobilists themselves. The French papers have been educated to believe that American manufacturers will handle anything provided there is "money in it" for them. Commenting upon this and the fact that the Americans have already surpassed the Europeans in the manufacture of automobiles and automobile appliances, the Parisian journel, "Le Poids Lourd," says:—

"In regard to automobile transportation the speed is the factor that controls the expense, and it is useful at times to limit it. In order to do this tion the speed is the lactor that controls the expense, and it is useful at times to limit it. In order to do this it is necessary to know the speed attained by the vehicle, allowing to judge the quality of its regularity and resistance. Knowing these two things, the have out-run us in the manufacture of such instruments, and the American brand is ahead of any that we make. The Auto-Meter as built by the Warner Instrument Company even goes so far as to combine the Auto-Meter and the Cyclometer. The speed is recorded on a circular dial placed on the top case; on the side of the instrument is the Cyclometer which indicates the number of miles travelled."

Truly wonderful has been the escape from death of two children who fell cut of a train running in the North of France, and were little the worse for the adventure. A Madam Einot was travelling to Arras with her four children when suddenly the door of the compartment flew open and Marcel, and four tumbled out on the line, aged four, tumbled out on the line, scon followed by Emile, who is twelve. The poor mother who did not know how to set the alarm signal going was compelled to wait until Arras was reached to report the accident. One of the officials set off at once and met the two small boys tramping along to-gether on the line in the direction of Arras A goods train was approaching which picked them up and the mother's delight may be imagined when her little ones were brought to her safe and sound except for a few bruises.

An employe nearly seventy years old, a widower, with two married daughters her just hen tried by the Saine As are making against the proposed aboli-her and that he had only a matter of $250 left.

Here was a poor look-out she pondered. A man on the verge of seventy with a mere trifle in the way of property. She would have to support him in a few years. No, this would never do. After a residence of twelve days the corsetiere left his dwelling and went back to her own abode, sadder and wiser than when she came. But the old employe was in no mood to put up with this desertion. The presents had cost him a great deal of money, and he considered that he had been cruelly deceived. Taking a revolver with him he proceeded to the shop of the corsetiere, who was lying ill in a back room, and after a lot of altercation in which she firmly declined to return to him, he discharged three shots at the poor woman and killed her. At the trial he said in his defence that he had been as it were in a dream and had not realized what he was daing. His coursel hack trois the expense, and it is useful at times to limit it. In order to do this it is necessary to know the speed attained by the vehicle, allowing to judge the quality of its regularity and resistance. Knowing these two things, the speed and the distance run, the manufacturer can secure valuable information and important economics. Modern science has supplied the surest device which will never fail.

"America's practical people have readily seen the necessity of such an instrument, the use of which is constantly increasing. While we have been sleeping we have let them get ahead of us, and we acknowledge they have out-run us in the manufacture of such instruments, and the American section of wheat. By the end of the next three months, closing July 21st next, the constry will have consumed 27,000,000 hectolitres of wheat. The stock in hand to cover that period is 25,000,000 were in a dream and had not realized

25 SYDNEY ST NERGER BILL MAY

BE CAUSE OF SOME LENGTHY LITIGATION

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 21.-Rai road officials here are reticent on the subject of the Massachusetts bill aimed at restraining the merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Boston and Maine railroad system. The general talk in railroad circles, however, indicates that the bill is considered as york radical and as a rolly for however, indicates that the bill is considered as very radical and as going far beyond western legislation in its bearing on the powers of railroad corporations and their stockholders. The bill from the local railroad view point is regarded critically in two aspects. First, its restraint of the powers of private stockholders to transfer their shares to other interests. Secondly, the possible clash of the bill, if it should become law, with rights and powers of the Boston and Maine corporation under legislation of Maine and New Hampshire.

WANTED AT ONCE—House and Hartford railroad stock. The directors of the New Haven Company several months ago voted to issue new stock in the ratio, as was understood, of one new share to each four shares outstanding. But the issue, then intended for announcement in July, was subsequently deferred until next autumn. Boston and Maine stockholders exchanging their shares for those of the New Haven corporation would share in the new stock of the latter company except as the transaction may be affected by new Massachusetts legislation. The question of the future new stock issue thus enters as a factor in the exciting merger complications.

A FISH'S TAIL The Wonderful Power It Develops in Its Strokes.

A fish's tail is its wings. Thanks to the machinery of muscle set along its spine and to its cleaving form, a trout or salmon can dart through the water at a tremendous space, though its rapid flights, unlike the bird's, are not long ones. It is soon dead beat. The water is not so friendly to flight as the air. The stroke of the fish's tail is one of great power, and by means of it and the writhing, snakelike flexion of the body, high speed is reached. The strength behind this speed is reached. The strength behind this speed is shown in the way a fish or sea mammal out of the water will raise its tail and strike the ground or boat. A fisherman told the writer he once had a rude proof of this power. He caught and, with ald, the writer he once had a rude proof of this power. He caught and, with and, got into his boat a whale thresher. After lying still awhile as if spent or dying, the creature, on its captor approaching, suddenly lashed furlously up and down. The startled men and their captive between them nearly upset the boat. It was an experience they wish never to repeat. The slapping stroke of a helpless and landed fish may be often a spasm and no more, but when a large and naturally aggressive fish—or mammal like this
