

APPROVE DELEGATE'S WORK.

Berlin, March 13.—Approval of the German Government's attitude toward the allied reparations demands was expressed by the Reichstag yesterday at a session which lasted for several hours. Foreign Minister Simons made a lengthy explanation of his work at the London conference. There was a partisan debate over the resolution of approval, which was moved by the coalition parties, but it was finally adopted by vote of 364 to 62.

Germany's Threat to Tell the League is Not Taken Seriously.

CYNICAL SMILES
ON CAPITOL HILL

Washington Not Surprised at Latest Attempt to Wiggle Out of Bills.

(Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger.)

Washington, March 13.—Germany's characterization of the Rhine invasion as a violation of the treaty of Versailles and Berlin's threat to file a protest with the assembly of the League of Nations fail to stir any deep emotion in official Washington. There is not the slightest suggestion of any concern over the German effort to turn to her interest the provisions of a treaty she has flouted and condemned from the moment her whining delegates were forced to sign on the dotted line in the Hall of the Mirrors at Versailles.

The Republican administration has a lively interest in affairs in Germany, but is not becoming excited over German reliance on a treaty for refusal to observe which her soil is being invaded, her cities occupied, her customs houses seized.

May Delay Peace.

The suggestion has been made in several competent quarters within the past day or two that the military situation would have the effect of delaying indefinitely action on the Knox resolution for a separate peace with Germany. That question, it was stated in a high quarter this afternoon, had not been discussed between the President and Senate leaders, but it is understood that the senators believe the United States having refused to become a party to the treaty and not intending to assist in its enforcement should have courage to establish that fact before the world instead of misleading the Allies into hoping for American military or diplomatic co-operation in whatever moves may follow in the reparations game. It is not possible to state that such a view predominates among Republican senators, but it is the policy to be urged by some of the most influential members of that body.

Evangel Only Smiles.

In the meantime the German howl about sanctity of treaties evokes little else than cynical smiles on Capitol Hill. The general understanding among Congress leaders is that the Germans are hoping to persuade the world they have been wronged and thereby build up a popular sentiment favorable to them.

The State Department's view of Germany's threat to tell her troubles to the League of Nations is precisely that held in the Senate. That is to say, such a project has only academic interest for the United States Government. American diplomatic officials elsewhere, as they have on countless occasions in recent times, that our government has no association relations or connection either with Germany or with the League of Nations.

Only a By-Stander.

Our troops stand in German soil by virtue of an armistice with the German government. The United States has not participated in the treaty of Versailles, is not a member of the League of Nations, and therefore is a completely disinterested bystander concerning all and sundry that transpires between the contracting parties, namely, the Allies and Germany. Unofficially speaking, diplomatic officials of the American government are not surprised by the latest German attempt to wiggle and haggle. The scheme to appeal to the League, from which the German government still is an outlaw, is looked upon in Washington as a counsel of desperation on Berlin's part.

Not Get Very Far.

It is not expected here it will get the Germans very far. In the League council, of course, they are wholly friendly. Their well-wishers among the neutrals in the assembly are not considered to be numerous enough to entitle Germany to expect anything but a prompt refusal if it appeals to Geneva as a court of last resort.

STOP BORDER FLYING.

New York, March 13.—United States army, navy and civilian air pilots will be prohibited from flying over Canadian territory after May 1, unless the United States Government establishes a bureau to issue licenses and register pilots according to the agreement reached at the recent international air convention.

ENJOYS HEALTH FIRST TIME IN FIFTEEN YEARS

Montreal Man Ached from Head to Foot With Rheumatism—Troubles Entirely Overcome By Tanlac.

"I'm now a well man, for the first time in fifteen years," said Edmund St. Pierre, 209 St. Christophe street, Montreal, in relating his experience with Tanlac recently. Mr. St. Pierre is a well known tailor, having followed his trade for the past thirty years. "Some fifteen years or more ago my stomach commenced bothering me. Then I got to having rheumatism, and at the time I got Tanlac I had been in bed for four weeks, scarcely able to move, and my whole body ached and pained me all the time. I think I had indignation about as bad as a person can and live. I had no appetite at all, and for days at a time my stomach was so upset I couldn't eat a mouthful. When I did force down a little something, it soured and bloated me until I thought my heart would quit beating, and I could hardly get my breath.

Offer League Post
To Former Premier

Sir Robert Borden Declines Offer of a Place on League of Nations.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, March 13.—Sir Robert Borden has been offered an appointment as one of the committee to consider the proposed amendments to the covenant of the League of Nations. This has been declined by Sir Robert, who will devote his time to Canada and Canadian interest at home rather than at Geneva. The committee is to consist of eleven members under the chairmanship of Right Hon. A. J. Balfour. The committee was instituted by the Supreme Council as a result of a resolution of the first assembly of the League held in Geneva last November.

Some Proposed. At that time a number of amendments were proposed, including Hon. C. J. Doherty's to strike out article 16 of the covenant. It was deemed inexpedient to deal with these resolutions at the first meeting and also that in such a large assembly deliberation was not as possible as in a small committee. The committee on resolutions will report to the Supreme Council and that body to the assembly at Geneva next September. In Ottawa Sir Robert's intention to remain here is much appreciated as well as the tribute by the league of nations to his great work during and after the war.

Comb Sage Tea In Faded or Gray Hair

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

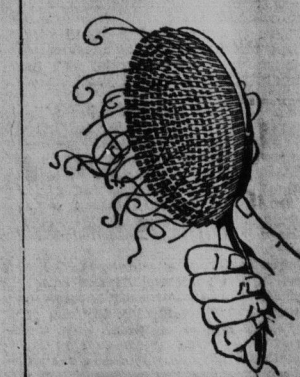

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By anointing at and drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at a very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known down town druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

DANDERINE

Stops Hair Coming Out; Thickens, Beautifies.

A few cents buys "Danderine." At a few applications you cannot find a fallen hair or any desired, beautiful every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, and color and shines.

Many a night I spent sitting in a chair, just gasping for breath and suffering agony. My arms, legs and shoulders ached terribly with rheumatism, and my wrists and fingers got so stiff I couldn't use them at all, and often couldn't raise my hands to my face.

"Well, this was the first time I was in when I started taking Tanlac, and I was so bad off it took a little time for me to feel much benefit. However, I stuck to Tanlac, and it certainly has made a clean sweep of my troubles. Now my appetite is simply enormous, and everything agrees with me so well I've picked up several pounds in weight. In fact, my stomach trouble and rheumatism are entirely gone, and I can work with satisfaction and really enjoy life. My recovery has been wonderful, and Tanlac gets all the credit for it."

John Glynn Is Dead From Injury

Found in Creek Near One Mile House Saturday Morning—Jumped Train Is Belief.

John Glynn, the well known coachman of 10 Dorchester street, who was found in the March Creek near the Jardine Bridge, badly hurt, early Saturday morning, passed away at his home in the latter part of Saturday afternoon.

It is believed that Mr. Glynn, who accompanied Dr. McAllister, of Sussex, to the midnight express Friday night, neglected to alight from the train when it was leaving the station, and met with his injuries when he attempted to get off the train at the Island Yard.

He was found by William McGourty, C. N. R. yardmaster, who was attracted by Mr. Glynn's cries. Assisted by others he rescued the unfortunate man from his position. Glynn was standing in the water of the creek which was about three feet deep, and clinging to a post. His right shoulder was broken, his collar bone fractured and he was badly bruised about the head and body. The ambulance was summoned and he was conveyed to his home and attended by Dr. Baxter.

Corner H. A. Porter stated last evening that the matter had not been drawn to his attention as yet and he, therefore, officially knew nothing of the matter. Whether an inquest will be deemed necessary will be decided today.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee.
