SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH'S PICTURE PUZZLES

"WHERE IS MY MASTER?"

FIND THE RABBIT WHICH THE HOUNDS ARE PURSUING.

WHILLIAM WAS STUNG BY THE BEES. WHERE IS HE?

SOLUTIONS TO LAST SATURDAY'S PUZZLE PICTURES.

Where is Weary Willie's Partner?—With the right hand side of the picture as base. Weary Willie's partner will be found in the lower left-hand part, formed in the grass. Find the Old Lady's Husband-With the left hand side as abase the lady's husband will be found among the stones, profile being formed by the upper layer of stones. Where is the Young Lady?—Taking the top of picture as base, the lady will be found in the left-hand corner, formed on the trunk of tree.

Interest in the Telegraph's puzzle pictures is evidently increasing greatly. Yesterday was received the following for the puzzle department:

Rev. Mr. Hepburn of Virginia preached in two parishes. There were two churches in one parish, and four in the other. In two of the six churches he preached once every two weeks, and in the other four once a month. How many sermons did he preach a week?

The interest in The Telegraph's puzzle pictures is widespread. From Sixteen Acres, Mass., a letter is received from David E. Roberts, who reports his success in finding numbers 1 to 9 and encloses the puzzles with the findings blue pen-

RICH FISHING BANKS.

Discovery by Ship Investigating the Ocean Off Norway Coast.

Copenhagen, March 14-The Norwegian ship which has been investigating the ocean off the coast of Norway, has discovered rich fishing banks to the west of Tromsoe. This is the first important practical achievement to follow the scheme for international co-operative study of the high seas. The other co-operating nations are not yet in the field, but they will participate in the establishment of a central bureau, either at Copenhagen or Christia-Ringlish hand-picked. nia. Nansen, the explorer, who is supporting the enterprise by a series of lectures, says that oceanography is the latest science, and that civilized nations must undertake the exploration of the seas in the interest of their growing populations.

Lowering Quality of Horseflesh in Ontario - Canso Bridge Company Bill.

Ottawa, March 14-(Special)-A subject of considerable interest to the west was brought, hefore the house today by Nat Boyd, that of the valuation put on horses imported from the States when the cus toms department officers come to collect the duty. The value is placed at $15, and 20 per cent. duty yields $3. This faciliin local shipping cercles that the schooner Bertha Dean, which sailed from Balti-more for Boston Feb. 18, with a cargo of coal, foundered in one of the recent heavy gales, with all on board. Since she was towed down the Chesapeake Bay by the tug Stella on that date, not a word has been heard from her.

Vessels sailing at the same time as the Dean have arrived at their destination early utility some to point to the four safely, which seems to point to the foun-dering of the Dean. The Bertha Dean was built in this city in 1882, and was valued at $10,000.

The Windward to Leave St. John's Today. St. John's, Nfld., March 14—The Windward, the Peary Arctic Club's steamer of 1900, Captain Samuel W. Bartlett, which has been wintering here, will sail tomor-row for New York, where she will undergo extensive repairs. The Windward will receive new engines and boilers prior to proceeding to the Arctic regions the coming summer for the relief of Lieut. Peary, the toms department officers come to collect the duty. The value is placed at $15, and 20 per cent. duty yields $3. This facilitates the importation of a cheap class of animals and it is claimed by western men, has resulted and is resulting in a lowering of the quality of horsefish. During the last couple of years, Mr. Boyd stated, carloads of inferior horses had been brought into Ontario. The value ion which the breeders think would be reasonable would be between $75 and $100, which would give a duty of $15 to $20.

The house went into committee on supply on Ontario public works estimates, making fairly good progress and adjourned at 10.30.

Dr. McLennan introduced a bill to incorporate the Strait of Canso Bridge Company.

The telegraph and telephone bill was read a second time and referred to the railway committee.

Wearing Son's Overalls.

Amithyville, N. Y., March 15—Mrs. William Balem, a well-known, property owner, of this place, has begun the work of painting her large and handsome villa on Oak street. Mrs. Balem began the task some days ago, and for a time her disguise was a son and as one of the party in the case the council was found that there was not as other men. ing her large and handsome villa on Oak street. Mrs. Balem began the task some days ago, and for a time her disguise was so perfect that the neighbors in the vicinity thought it was her son Willie. Mrs. Balem was first seen at work on a 30-foot ladder high up in the eaves. She was attired in her son William's overalls and jumper, and wore a broad felt hat. Town Marshal Stratton, who passed the building while Mrs. Balem was at work, at once mistook the lady for her son, and cried out: "Don't leave any brush marks, Willie."

Mrs. Balem did not deign to reply, but continued her work, and Stratton went to the village, where he met the son. The story soon leaked out, and Mrs. Balem is now being congratulated on the manner in which she is doing the work. She is a street. Mrs. She is a street. The inflated bag bounded back with a fearful whack, upsetting the young pugilist off the table and forcing tears to his eyes. "Stand up," commanded the eight-year-old lad in charge of the exhibition, "and get used to it." That older boy will be a hard one to down in life's battle if he can learn what few aged philosophers have ever learnt, namely, to follow his own advice.
