the Christian Sentinel.

"FROM the first revelation of the revealed religion, a tribute of gratitude has been paid to the memory of Dr. Bray, * if this has been paid in England, how much more cause have we in this hemisphere to regard his zealous exertions to propagate the knowledge of Christianity amongst them, with the warmest and most heartfelt thankfulness; and so sensibly felt, and so justly appreciated are the blessed results of these exertions, at the same time so little is known of the individual through whose instrumentality they have been effected, that I have little doubt but the following short memoir of the Revd. Thomas Bray, D. D. will be interesting to many of your readers, if you, Mr. Editor, should be of the same opinion, should give it a place in the Sentinel, and we should not be
