

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910.
"You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before 'Fruit-a-tives' came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders. 'One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications. 'I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying 'Fruit-a-tives'."

"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

As Mr. Pitt says "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest headache cure in the world. Dealers everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

homesteading. I certainly sympathize with the bachelors, for it is a very lonesome life. Have a fair education, and am very fond of literature and history. This helped me very much in my homesteading, as I passed many a pleasant hour reading.

As I am far from home and have few correspondents, would like to correspond with any one who wishes to write. Perhaps I have said enough this time. Buffalo Bill.

How Many Grapes Did She Eat?

Sask.
Sir,—Have chanced to run across the Western Home Monthly a few times, and of course my first dig is for the Correspondence column. Say, I think it's just lots of fun reading those letters. How they do bang one another around. I do believe they are a real saucy bunch, but maybe some one will think as much of me. But I must hurry, as I have only a few minutes to string this off. Now, I suppose you will wonder what my hurry is. Well, I want my supper. As it is, I am eating two grapes for every word I write. Say, won't you have a bunch? If you don't hurry they will be all gone. Oh, pshaw! I must quit my nonsense, and tell you what kind of a guy I am. I don't work very hard; in fact, work and I fell out last week. I like sports of all kinds, and let me assure you there are lots where I live just like me. So I am not the only toad in the puddle.

I see some one is in sympathy with the "Doctor." By the way some of them go for him I think he must be an outlaw. Wish I could get a look at him. However, I will not pass my opinion on him as I never had much to do with doctors.

Now for my opinion of what a man—I mean a husband—should be. (Oh, no! I am not looking for one by any means.) I think he ought to think his wife just the only woman in the world, not expect her to drudge and do all sorts of heavy work; when he comes home, to meet her with a smile and a smack; and just make her love him.

As to his habits. Well, he—for mine must not drink or chew; as to a smoke—well, poor fellow, if it does him any good, let him have one or two, not more in a day, and don't smoke a pipe or strong tobacco till you can't stand the smell of the house or room he has been in. As for his looks—I do like manly beauty. But, then, beauty never made the pot boil, and is only skin deep. Now, Mr. Editor, if you will bear with me for one minute longer, I will describe what there is of me. My weight is 110 lbs.; complexion—well, between a blonde and brunette; curly teeth, purple hair and yellow eyes. Now, did you ever see such a sight! And if any of you bachelors wish to write to me, I am not as bad as I will appear to you in this letter. But don't be bashful people one and all, as I would love to get a few letters, and all will be answered promptly. I have oceans of time to write, so get busy.

Now, Mr. Editor, this is my first letter, and I can fancy I hear you say, "I do hope it's your last!" However, I hope to see it in print, as I would be very much pleased to have a few correspondents. I will sign myself—Saucy Mink.

Strathmore, Alta.
Sir,—I am very much interested in your paper, and believe that it should be in every household in Canada. I specially like the correspondence, and very often take the trouble to read the various letters more than once. My attention was drawn to several opinions expressed in a letter from "Hiawatha." His letter appeared in the January number of the W. H. M. With your permission I will criticise two of his statements. To quote his own words: "People are more apt to fall in love with a man's letters than with the man himself, but, thinking they love the man, they marry him, and in a few months find out their mistake. The letter from an unsatisfied wife shows this to be true."
