Editor's Talk

HERMAN WHITAKER.

NEXT week we shall have an unusual array of fiction material. The top-line interest in that issue will be the first of a series of four big Canadian stories by Herman Whitaker, "The Governor's Daughter," illustrated with cover design by our regular staff artist, Arthur Heming. This will be supplemented by another of Charles G. D. Roberts' magnificent animal stories, with incomparable drawings by Charles Livingstone Bull. A good vitalising story by our old friend, W. A. Fraser, will make a third attraction. We shall have more pictures representing the work and play of a big country.

It is a mild stimulant, and the only one that has no unpleasant reaction, and that produces no harmful effects.

This is asserted after continued extensive experience during several years and upon the authority of written opinion from hundreds of Canadian practising physicians.
