

- 'We require, to restitute,' 316.
- Wesen des Gelehrten*, 343.
- 'What built St. Paul' ' 345.
- When Pococke inquired, 307.
- Where Three Empires Meet*, 294.
- Whewell at Carlyle's lectures, xlv.
- 'Who are you?' 342.
- 'Whosoever denieth,' 335.
- Wilberforce, at Carlyle's lectures, xlv.
- at second lecture, xl.
- request from Trench, xxxviii.
- Wiley & Putnam publish Heroes, lviii.
- Wilhelm Meister*, 306, 317, 329, 354.
- reviewed by Jeffrey, 312.
- William IV, Carlyle on, 294.
- Wilson, D., on Froude, lxix, n.
- Wilson, Miss, xv.
- Wilson, Thomas, xv.
- 'window through which,' 295.
- 'without God,' 355.
- 'without prior purpose,' 347.
- Wittenberg, Luther in, 334.
- Wolseley on Puritan soldiers, 356.
- Words are good, 329.
- Words, Facts and Phrases*, 346.
- work, not think, 353.
- World-Poets, 318.
- 'world was not his friend,' 352.
- 'world, where much is to be done,' 349.
- Worms, devils in, 335.
- Diet of, 335.
- Wünsch, the god, 298.
- Wuotan, erroneous etymology of, 300.
- Yesterday, to-day, 326.
- You do not believe, 332.
- Zeinab, Mahomet's daughter, 315.

*Index learning turns no student pale,
Yet holds the eel of science by the tail.*