dral. Before the commencement of the evening's entertainment that rev. gentleman addressed the andience as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen: It is with ortore treme pleasure that I once more extend to you a hearty welcome to our St. Patrick's night entertainment. Your large attend ance here to night is an indisputable testimony, a convincing proof of the popularity of our St. Patrick's night concert which is gotten up year after year in aid of your new and beautiful Cathedral. I am sure it must bring joy and consolation to the heart of our good bishop to night to see how faithfully and generously his people and the citizens of London at large have responded to the call that has been made on this occasion of having a consert in aid of his cathedral fund. This, I am quite sure, is the great cause of your attendance here, but there is yet another cense in the background that serves to urge an Irishman on to deeds of valour, greatness and generosity, as well as the cause of religion, and that is the cause of religion and the religion to the land of his birth—and were you to travel the length and breath of this in the religion to the land of his birth—and were you to make bold to say there is not a nation under the sun that has so much notoriety. Take any morning or evening paper you please, and the very first item of news that your eyes strike upon is that of Ireland and the Irish cause, and this agitation will continue until Ireland obtains what it is seeking—home rule. About 4 months ago I went to Detroit to visit some friends of mine, and during my stay Michael Davitt visited the city, and gave his famous speech, on "Home, Rule for Ireland." I heard the lecture, and after its termination a real storm of applause subsided, the chairman of the meeting then said there is a gentleman here present whose reputation is world wide, and whose views and opinions we would like to hear expressed on this occasion, and that gentleman is the Hon Mr. Depew, of New York, President of the West Shore Railroad. Mr. Depew aid: "Ladies and gentlemen, if Mr. Gladstone bands down his name to posterity it will not be because he Mr. Gladstone bands down his name to posterity it will not be because he was a great legislator, not because he was a great litterateur, not because he was a great debater, but because now, in the twilight of his life and in the zenith of his glory and power he wished to give Ireland Home Rule—the right to govern itself, and his name would be revered by posterity because he was the champion of Irish liberties and Home Rule."

Your enthusiastic cheering almost induces me to make a speech to you on induces me to make a speech to you on Home Rule, but you know, ladies and gentlemen, that is not what you came here for. I appear before you simply to announce the opening of our concert, and I am almost certain you will be well pleased with the entertainment. The following is the programme:

Chorus—Daughter of Error. St. Peter's Choir. PART II.

Chorus—The Minstrel Boy . . . St. Peter's Choir.

Song-Kathleen Mayourneen. Mr. Fewings.

inflicted on the Irish for conscience sake.

But the ruins of our churches, monasteries, colleges, hospitals, &c., that stud the land, are the stern witnesses to all future generations of the worse than Pagan cruelties practiced on the Catholic Irish to rob them of the true faith.

Conscience triumphs in the end.

ANOTHER VIEW.

Now let us take another view of Irish wrongs. The Irish element in the United States is becoming more and more powerful. Your English papers sometimes remark when a statesman in this country speaks disparagingly of sometimes remark when a statesman in this country speaks disparagingly of England "that he is trying to catch the Irish vote." By that they acknowledge that the Irish vote is a great factor in America, and the same may be said of Australia and other English speaking countries where the Irish congregate and multiply and prosper. Hence you must conclude that numbers will tell, and the combined Irish are a powerful ingredient in the government of this country, and the power of their organizations is increasing every day. They hold already the balance of power in the Presidential and other elections. This is beyond dispute.

You may judge of their temper from the tone which Americans take in the present fishery dispute. It is said that we in Canada live under the British flag by the toleration of the United States. When there was question of enlisting volunteers for our defence one of our chief statesmen said:—"What use in this expense? The chief guard of five millions of people in face of fifty will be good behavior." But good behavior means now, it appears, let the Americans do as they like. English forces are distant. Better our good neighbors near than blood relations at a distance.

CANADA WOULD BE OVERRUN.

THE ARREST OF FATHER KELLER. A TRIUMPHAL PROCESSION TO KILMAIN HAM JAIL.

HAM JAIL.

A Dublin despatch says:—Father Keller, who was arrested at Youghall yesterday was driven to court to day in the Lord Mayor's carriage, receiving an ovation from the people in the streets. He refused to give any testimony as to his custody of tenants' moneys as trustee under the plan of campaign, and was committed to prison for contempt of court. The judge declared that if the priest's action in disobeying the orders of the court were permitted the whole machinery of the bankruptcy law would be upset. The scene in the streets when Father Keller was being taken to court is unparelleled The chief feature of the concert was the singing of Mrs. Martin Murphy, of Hamilton. It was her first appearance before a London audience, and all who heard her were highly pleased. Her voice is a full, clear, rich, and highly trained soprano. Her rendition of the touching, yet plaintive Irish songe given in the programme was all that could be desired by musical critics, while to an encore she gave "Patti's Laughing Song" in a manner that called forth storms of applause. The other pieces given during the evening were deservedly appreciated in the most hearty fashlon. To Dr. Carl Verrinder and his choir especial praise is due for their efforts to reoder the entertainment a great success, and such it truly w.s., b.th financi-

to witness' spiritual espacity. Father Keller was then committed for contempt and was taken out of court and placed in a cab in the custody of officers. The people immediately made a rush for the vehicle removed the herses, and dragged it through the streets to Kilmainham jail, where the priest was locked up. Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin, was among the spectators in court, and he, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, Lord Mayor Sullivan and Mr. Timothy Harrington, M. P., followed the priest to the jail in carriages. Father Keller received a continuous ovation on the passage from the court to jail. The populsee marched to Kilmainham Jail singing, alternately, "God Save Ireland", and "We'll Hang Judge Boyd on a Sour Orange Tree."

Mr. William Hearn Mr. William Hearn.

On Sunday, the 6th inst., there died at his residence, at May field, in the county of Peel, William Hearn, one of Outario's most respected pioneers. His parents immigrated to Belleville, Ontario, about the year 1820, where the subject of this sketch was born on the 24th of June, 1821. The family removed to the Township of Chinquacousy, in the county of Peel, in 1823, and were among the first settlers of that township. His father having died in 1838, he became possessed of the homestead farm, but subject to a heavy encumbrance, which, however, through industry and economy, he soon redeemed, and at the time of his deceme was in good circumstances. He was one redeemed, and at the time of his decesse was in good circumstances. He was one of a family of six, of whom only one survives. On the 27th of February, 1854, he married Margaret, daughter of the late Thomas O'Shaughnessy, of Toronto Township, by whom he had four sons and one daughter, all of whom survive him. Two of the sons are farmers, one is senior member of the firm of Hearn & Murchison, Barristers, &c., of Barris and Tottenham, the fourth is in business in the city of Toronto, and the daughter is the wife of Thaddeus Ingoldsby, E:q., of Mayfield. The deceased's first wife having died in 1864, he married the widow of the late Christopher Cuthbert, of Buffialo, N. Y., in 1867, and she died without issue in 1878.

Mr. Hearn was a consistent Catholic, a loyal subject of Her Majesty the Queen, and he took up arms with his tellow-loyalists in the suppression of the rebellion of 1837.

rebellion of 1837.

In 1847 he was commissioned as ensign in the Seventh Battalion of York Militia, and in 1856 was appointed Captain in the Seventh Battalion of Peel Militia. In 1872 he was appointed Justice of the Peace for the County of Page.

In politics he was an active Conserva-tive all his life. He was a man of upright principles and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

His remains were followed to their least retrieve places in the Possible 1.

His remains were followed to their last resting place, in St. Patrick's cometery, Toronto Gore, on the 9th instant, by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Revd. Father Whitney officiated at the mass and burial, and Rev. Father Egan preached the funeral sermon.

The family have the writer's heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Emerald Society and the members of the League of the Cross assembled in their respective halls and marched in full regalia to join in the Vesper service. There was a vast congregation, the church being filled to its utmost capacity. The sermon on the featival was preached in English by the Rector, who dwelt on the virtues and privileges of the great servant of God, whom he proposed as the model of the every day pious Christian. > Written for the Record. The Christ of Vienna.

I have reed, in a story of old,
Which some A ustrian poet has told,
Gf a wonderful pleture of Christ,
In By sanitum's glory of gold.
Where the age and the colors sufficed
To endow with a value uppriced,
The yade touch that in missing all graces o Bent a | weet sole mn power through the faces

Not its age nor its art gave the name that has drawn, by its marvelous fame, The lorg crowds who came breathless to on the changing and mystical frame
Where they saw, in adoring amaze,
The bright form, that would issue or raise
His fair stature, ranged round with the light of His love,
And leem up or steop down from His height far above.

For the charm of this painting of yore,
Was the varying aspect it wore;
Just an inch and but one, beyond those
Who might stand in calm wonder before
The grand figure that narrows or grows,
As each gazer's own measure it shows;
An inch greater than babyhood's faint little Yet forever that one inch beyond the full

I believed this old tale in my youth,
But this hour with a far deeper truth
Is this fable no fable to me!
And I need not to question, in sooth,
If to-day in Vienna there be,
Or was ever, such picture to see;
For the heart to s holler awe must be stirred
By its truth of Christ's self, and His Law, and His Word.

But however their wisdom increase Still beyond them the lessons that speak From the fathomless pages of peace: Past the limits where knowledge must cease Spread the truth His Evangel must teach to the end, Yet forever to childhood's low reach will He bend.

Low and far, but so high and so clear,
For retracing and loving so near,
Yet when closest the mc ded divine
That one inch stretching out to a sphere!
Who art, to draw compass and line
With thy science, until we opine
Thy millin eter mind has encircled it ali?
Ah, poor sage, will thou make the world's Christ, then, so smali?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Vatican has been advised from Vienna and Berlin that Austria, Germany and Italy, during the continuance of alliance between them, will not permit the subversion of the Papacy and will support the Pope's independence and liberty.

THE Executive Committee of the Toronto branch of the Irish Nationa League has cabled Wm. O'Brien, M. P. editor of the United Ireland, that Lore Lansdowne denied his statements regard ing evictions on His Excellency's estate in Ireland, and urging him to come t Canada. They engaged to make arrange ments for a series of demonstrations in a large cities in Canada,

IN THE course of the debate on leave to introduce the Crimes Bill, in the Englis House of Commons, Mr. Healy said h would be delighted if the Governmen would suppress the National League because this would relieve the Irish men bers of a great responsibility, and the people would then conduct the agraria movement for themselves. "Suppress th League by all means," said Mr. Healy "even stop public speaking; but in th latter event the Parnellites will leave the Government the responsibility for the blood that might be spilled."

THERE are people in England wi think that there is not an overwhelmin reason for jubilating over the fiftie anniversary of the Queen's coronation, the following extract from the Unive (London, Eng.,) will show : "But, son courtier may urge, look at the grand in provements which have been effected her time. We would as soon think praising Her Majesty for them, as blaming her for the three curses of W Pestilence, and Famine, which he brooded over her reign, or of holding accountable for the existing discont and depression, the pauperism of Lond the mal-administration of Ireland, decline of trade everywhere, the grov of Socialism and the National Debt, profligacy of the aristocracy, or the sev ity of the weather."

MR. GLADSTONE has cabled the follower ing message to C. A. Dena, New York
