METAL MINING IN ONTARIO.

Metal mining has become a great industry in Ontario. Gold, silver, nickel and copper are produced in large quantities.

For some years the nickel-copper mines of the Sudbury district have been widely known as the world's chief source of nickel and important producers of copper. The output this year is greater than ever.

Since the original discovery ten years ago the silver mines at Cobalt have placed Ontario in a prominent position as a producer of silver. The deposits are remarkably rich and the profit has been unusually large, amounting to about one-half of the value of the silver. The production is now at the rate of over 30,000,000 ounces per year. For this year to date there is a slight increase over last year both in quantity and in value.

Until quite recently Ontario had few successful gold mines. The discovery of gold in the Porcupine district, however, has resulted in the development of two large and profitable mines. A third, though small, is proving rich and there are others which, while so far not profitable, are looked upon as likely to become so.

There are many miles of territory in Northern Ontario concerning which scarcely anything is known. There are large areas which have been described by explorers as promising; but as yet unprospected.

There is every indication that many more important ore deposits will be found in the Province and that the mining industry will continue to grow.—(Canadian Mining Journal.)
