BASEBALL GAME AND SOCIAL

Wednesday August 10th was a gala day for Lyndhurst. The "Wellingtons" of that village added another scalp to their belts by defeating the skilful braves from Elgin in one of the most exciting and closest games of ball ever played on local the diamond. Both teams played championship ball up to the 7th innings, when the boys from Elgin objected to a decision of the umpire, spectators joined in the fray and things were rather dangerous for a while, but soon, when spirits and arms had settled down, the game went merrily on. At last, in the tenth, the "Wellingtons" scored the winning run amid applause and excitement which would have put to shame a Shawnee powwow. This is the second time this season that the Elgin boys have lost to Lyndhurst.

The game was followed by a splendid supper in the Exhibition buildings. Many and tasty dainties served by fair maidens refreshed many a hoarse throat. A programme of music recitations and addresses came next in order. The thanks of the boys are due to Mr. G. L. Riches of Brockville for the kind loan of a fine Karn piano for the concert. Altogether, the boys are more than pleased with the event—a win at ball, a good supper and programme, and one hundred dollars gate-receipts. On the last four games, the "Wellingtons" have scored 50 runs to their opponents 18. Gananoque, Brockville, Lyn, Elgin.

Brockville Cheese Board

There was a large attendance of both salesmen and buyers. The cable was 39s. 6d. for white, 41s. for colored, 740 white and 2,156 colored were registered.

The bidding beyond eight cents was slow, and Mr. Webster's offer of 8½c met with refusal from every factory called. He then raised the bid to 8½c with the same result. When 8½c was offered by him but two factories sold. Mr. Bissell's offer of 8½c met with no takers, and when he added a sixteenth but two or three factories accepted. Mr. Webster then offered 8½c and succeeded in taking several hundred boxes at that price, but most of the salesmen seemed to have sales arranged with their own particular buyers, and the board then adjourned.

Recovered His Spinner

Rideau Record: On Thursday Mr. Norman Greer and one of the l-ides at Fancy Free cottage while fishing for salmon succeeded in landing an eleven pounder after an unusually hard fight. In dressing the fish a partially decomposed herring with complete spinner and gang of three triple hooks was found in its stomach. The following day the tackle was identified beyond question by Rev. Mr. Sheldon of Cornwall as lost by himself on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon hooked a heavy fish that had fought so hard that eventually they concluded that they had become attached to bottom and were reasonably convinced that such was the case when their line at last came up without bait or hooks. The recovered outfit is in perfect order and ready for another similar experience. Surely even in fishing on the Rideau truth is stranger than fiction.

Free Trip to Winnipeg

Last December the Federal College, Ottawa, advertised that to all students beginning in January, on the completion of their full courses, would be given a free trip to Winnipeg or New York if situations were not obtained for them nearer home. The college has fully carried out that promise, and now repeats the offer to all who begin a similar course during the first week in September. One of the students attending last winter obtained a situation at $800 a month. Write or call for particulars.

Midsummer Concert

One of the series of popular high-class free entertainments being given by G. L. Riches was held in his Island City Music Store, Brockville, on Saturday last, and it was attended by a large number from town and country. That refined, cultured musical organization known as the Falford Orchestra furnished delightful music; Mr. Sutherland, a talented member of the orchestra, gave a cornet solo, and vocal selections were given by Miss Nanette Orr and Master Bernard Fitzpatrick. These young singers have sweet voices, which have been carefully trained, and their interpretation of their selections was artistically correct.

These concerts are particularly welcome at this season, and should serve to still further popularize the Island City Music Store.
