CHANGE OF FIRM

Having succeeded to the

Grocery, Fruit and Fish Business

Carried on so successfully for the last six years by

K. S. TOWNSEND,

I beg respectfully to solicit a continuance of the patronage so liberally extended to him during the past. My aim will be to keep only the very best class of goods and to Sell at Moderate Prices.

And by courteous treatment and fair dealing to merit the confidence of the trading public. Mr. George Townsend will still be found at his old post.

W.M. BUCKLE.

In connection with the above, I wish to thank my friends and the public generally for the very liberal support accorded me during the years I have been in the Retail Grocery, Fruit and Fish Business, and having sold out my interest in said business to Mr. Wm. Buckle, I would, as a continuance of the same for my successor.

GUELPH, March 10th, 1891.

Upon us as takers are pleased to announce that the last season's stock of goods from nearly all points of the compass. In addition to arrivals announced last week, over 50 cases of goods have been received, making all upwards of 80 Cases and Bales of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods already to hand and put into stock. Can you conceive what this all implies? The goods are of the best quality and capital that are represented in the gathering of such quantities of material. Months before you thought of spring we have been busy—and our correspondents in Europe have been busy—selecting, choosing and ordering the goods which we now have the pleasure to show you. In every case it has meant going right down to the bottom of the matter. Ordinary materials and ordinary prices would not do—we must have the very best goods and at the very lowest prices.

Again it implies that we have confidence in ourselves, and in your appreciation of the result of our efforts. Else what good were it to bring in the tens upon tens of thousands of goods, if we did not strike your fancy and requirements? But we have known you long enough, and we have known you long enough, to have established a mutual bond of confidence. And yet we cannot trust solely to past achievements—present and merited—of our goods. We are confident that you will find our goods reliable, our prices cheap, our mode of business fair, and our efforts to serve you untrifling. And we feel confident we shall continue to enjoy the same increase of business which the past very successful year has shown.

FORBES' CELEBRATEDPATENT "ACME"SKATES.John M. Bond & Co Direct Hardware Importers, Guelph GUELPH, March 10th, 1891. Upon us as takers are pleased to announce that the last season's stock of goods from nearly all points of the compass. In addition to arrivals announced last week, over 50 cases of goods have been received, making all upwards of 80 Cases and Bales of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods already to hand and put into stock. Can you conceive what this all implies? The goods are of the best quality and capital that are represented in the gathering of such quantities of material. Months before you thought of spring we have been busy—and our correspondents in Europe have been busy—selecting, choosing and ordering the goods which we now have the pleasure to show you. In every case it has meant going right down to the bottom of the matter. Ordinary materials and ordinary prices would not do—we must have the very best goods and at the very lowest prices. Again it implies that we have confidence in ourselves, and in your appreciation of the result of our efforts. Else what good were it to bring in the tens upon tens of thousands of goods, if we did not strike your fancy and requirements? But we have known you long enough, and we have known you long enough, to have established a mutual bond of confidence. And yet we cannot trust solely to past achievements—present and merited—of our goods. We are confident that you will find our goods reliable, our prices cheap, our mode of business fair, and our efforts to serve you untrifling. And we feel confident we shall continue to enjoy the same increase of business which the past very successful year has shown. 99 UPPER WYNDHAM ST.HATS We have opened our Spring Hats from the British and American factories. Styles are correct, and our prices as usual—LOW.
