Serious Fire at Bathurst

BATHURST, Oct. 31.—Damage estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000 was done and 50 men were thrown out of employment as a result of a fire which early this morning destroyed the woodworking factory of the George Eddy Co., Ltd. here. The blaze was first seen about 12.30 o'clock and an hour later the building was practically destroyed.

The building was equipped with a sprinkler system but the main valve was burned off early in the blaze and the system rendered inoperative. The men were working in the mill until 10.30 o'clock last night. It is believed that the fire started in the boiler room.

King Government Defeated

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen May be Called Upon to Form Cabinet

S. CLAY ADAMS HONORED BY FORDHAM, N. Y.

During the week of Oct. 19th—24th the Fordham Merchants Association, the Bronx, New York City held a Celebration, the object of which was to promote Fordham.

With no exception, these business men, these merchants, these shopkeepers, these bankers and others did more to promote their neighborhood than any other organization ever did for any other community in Greater Uptown New York.

S. Clay Adams of the Adams Wertheimer Company, Inc. son of the late Senator Michael and Mrs. Adams of Newcastle, N. B. played a most important part in the celebration as Clay, by which he is more familiarly known here by his friends, was Chairman of the celebration committee. The opening day, Oct. 19th, was celebrated by a mammoth automobile parade, followed by the formal opening of the Underpass of the Concourse. The second day was "Babies' Day," 3rd, "Merchants Day," 4th, "Beauties' Day," 5th, "Suburban Day" and 6th, "Fordham Day." Each day's events were a festivity and Chairman Clay Adams and his co-workers on the celebration committee were congratulated on all sides for the smoothness and precision with which the schedule was carried out.

Concluding the week long festival, tribute to S. Clay Adams, the general Chairman of the committee, that staged the celebration was held on Saturday evening, Oct. 24th, when he was tendered a supper by his fellow-workers at the Sarazen Restaurant, at Fordham road near Marion avenue. The supper was attended by 150 persons, the program including a list of speakers and a musical entertainment furnished through the courtesy of Chris Egan, manager of Keith's Fordham Theatre.

When the guests had assembled, a toast to Adams, "the man who put Fordham on the map," was proposed by Richard W. Lawrence, Bronx Republican leader.

In replying to the number of speakers who had expressed their regard for his efforts in connection with the celebration, Adams declared he had received the closest co-operation from members of the association, a circumstance, he said, which had rendered his task an agreeable one.

As the lights along Fordham and the Concourse died out at midnight," said Adams, "the greatest celebration in the history of Fordham ended."

Canada's general election held last Thursday, Oct. 29th, ended with Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative Leader as head of the largest group in the next House.

First returns gave indication of a landslide. In quick succession eight members of the Cabinet were under They were: Premier King himself; Hon. W. E. Foster, Secretary of State; Hon. Herbert Marler, Minister without portfolio; Hon. James Murlock, Minister of Labor; Hon. G. N. Jordan, Minister of Immigration; Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways; Hon. Vincent Massey, Minister without portfolio; Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

In the Maritime Provinces and in Ontario, Conservatives gained heavily. But the expected inroad into the Liberal stronghold of Quebec—on which Conservatives had counted—did not materialize. Hon. E. L. Patenaude, leader of the Independent Conservative movement in that province was himself defeated.

The election returns from the three prairie Provinces showed a definite swing from the Progressive ranks, which denotes the beginning of the end of a third party in Canadian politics.

In the Maritime Provinces the Conservatives carried 23 seats and the Liberals 6. The standing by provinces was P. E. I. 2 Cons. and 2 Liberals. Nova Scotia, 11 Cons. and 3 Liberals. New Brunswick, 10 Cons. and 1 Liberal.

tion in the history of Fordham ended.

"The celebration was planned with a two-fold purpose in mind. Primarily, it was intended to commemorate the opening of the new $500,000 traffic roadway. But it was also intended to bring to the notice of the thousands of new residents of this section, and of the West Bronx particularly, the unparalleled advantages of Fordham as a shopping center.

Clay's many Newcastle friends are delighted to hear of his wonderful success in his adopted country and wish him many years of continued prosperity and happiness.

The result of the election in N. B. was to return one former Liberal member, Mr. Robichaud, and five Conservatives, Dr. MacLaren, Mr. Jones, Mr. Doucet, Mr. Hanson and Mr. Grimmer. The Conservatives had six members in the last House, the other being Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, who resigned to lead the Opposition in New Brunswick in the provincial elections in August and who since has become Premier.

There were four Liberal members from New Brunswick in the last Parliament, W. B. Snowball, of Northumberland, who died suddenly soon after he was selected as the nominee of the party in this section; Hon. Pius Michaud, who was defeated in Restigouche-Madawaska; Hon. A. S. Copp, who has since become a member of the Senate, and Mr. Robichaud. The eleventh member was T. W. Caldwell, who sat for Carleton-Victoria in the last Parliament as a Progressive, but who was defeated Thursday when he ran as an Independent-Liberal-Progressive.

Northumberland County spoke in no uncertain terms of her dissatisfaction of the King administration and registered her protest by giving Mr. C. E. Fish the Conservative candidate the handsome majority of over 1400.

Mr. Fish's election turned a Liberal majority of 1421 into a Conservative majority of over 1400. The election throughout the County was featured by the activities of the workers on both sides, which was marked by general good feeling on the part of all. A heavy snow storm prevailed until 2 o'clock in the afternoon but the workers were not deterred. In the evening after the polls were closed, a large crowd gathered in front of the Conservative Committee rooms, where the election results were shown on a screen on the opposite side of the street. The victorious candidate, C. E. Fish and C. P. Hickey of Chatham addressed the gathering, both speakers receiving great ovations and an attentive hearing. Mr. Fish expressed his thanks for the hearty reception given him and thanked the electors for the overwhelming majority given him.
