Canadian Pacific railway, will be always alive to the vital importance of the problem. There are industries in this province to which transportation is of prime importance and perhaps to our great fishing industry. It always seemed to me that Nova Scotia with a coast line which adjoins and even projects into the best fishing grounds of the world ought to supply fresh fish of the best quality and in the best condition to Ontario, Quebec and even to the western provinces. This can only be done by the organization on a system of cold storage and transportation facilities such as are to be found in other parts of the world with no greater opportunities than our own.

WILL HAVE TARIFF COMMISSION.

"The policy of the Liberal-Conservative party as presented to the people in the recent contest is before you. I will not dwell upon it tonight. Among some of its principal items are such encouragement of the great basic industry of agriculture as will enable those who till the soil to receive the highest return for their produce, to turn out their products in the highest form, and at the same time preserve the fertility of the land. Hand in hand with this is the aid and encouragement which we propose for the purpose of establishing and maintaining permanent highways of a character suitable for our conditions. Some such effort is needed in the interest of that effective scheme of transportation which ought to be the aim of any progressive government. The regulation of our tariff upon reasonable business principles is an important article of our policy that is to be carried out by the establishment of a permanent tariff commission which will ascertain all necessary facts in connection with the conditions and cost of production, and which will advise as to the conclusion which ought to be drawn from the facts so ascertained. We propose also to extend the reform of the civil service which we initiated while in opposition and which the late administration carried out in part upon our initiative. So far as trade relations are concerned we believe that the true idea of reciprocity can be found within the vast Dominion of this Empire with its wonderful variety of natural and other products which can be exchanged to the advantage of all. It is with the greatest possible pleasure that I hail tonight the presence among you of many of my colleagues in the cabinet. They have some here at much inconvenience as we are now in office and the demands of public business in view of the approaching session are rather urgent and insistent. You will find, and the country will find, that not only those of them who are here present, but those who are absent will give to the public service which they have been called upon to undertake, the best of their energies and their ability. The life of a cabinet minister who is anxious to perform his duties in an exceedingly busy life and any man who undertakes this high public service must be prepared to sacrifice ease and comfort at the behest of duty. I know that the men who have been called to the cabinet of Canada are prepared to make that sacrifice. We do not claim to be infallible, but we do claim that as servants of the people of Canada we shall give to our public duties the best that is in us and no man can do more. This little province by the sea has given to the public life of Canada three prime ministers and all of them have been of the same political faith. The pamps of Sir Charles Tupper, and Sir John Thompson are honored today by every citizen in Canada irrespective of party. One of them passed away in the full maturity of his strength and vigor leaving a great name behind him. The other, Sir Charles Tupper, the grand old man of Canada, has attained his 90th year and beyond the seas in the old Mother land, he takes as keen an interest in the welfare of this great Dominion as he did in the days when he led with marvellous vigor and ability the Conservative forces in this province and Dominion. The courage, the faith, the achievements of these great leaders will not fail to be an inspiration to us and shall be more than satisfied if I may be enabled to perform by allotted task with such advantage to my country as that which characterized their aims and their efforts. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the honor which you have done me tonight and for the encouragement which this magnificent demonstration and your splendid reception will ever lend me in the great work that lies before us."

McBRACHEN—In the Hospital, at Malden, Mass., on October 29th, after eight days' illness, Hugh B. McBrachen, aged 34 years. The immediate cause of death was a surgical operation for bowel trouble, from which he had suffered for some ten days before going to the hospital. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McBrachen of Bayfield, Lot 46, in this Province. He had been in Boston and vicinity for a number of years. He was engaged for a good many years in the insurance business, and in his spare time studied the law, and was admitted to the Bar. In the practice of his profession he had met with fair success, and had his life been spared would doubtless have done well. His demise in the prime of his young manhood is a sore bereavement to his parents, other members of his family and his friends and acquaintances. His remains, accompanied by his brothers, John from Boston and Neil from Bangor, and his only sister Catherine, were brought home for burial. The funeral took place from the home of his parents in his native parish suburb of St. Columba, East Point, on Oct. 26th, and was largely attended. A high Mass of Requiem was sung by Rev. Dr. Bernard Gillis, and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. He leaves to mourn his parents, six brothers and one sister, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. Three saved were picked up by the Dutch steamer Grotius.

Speaking at Tremont, Nebraska, on the 20th inst., Champ Clarke, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Washington, said: "Nine tenths of the people of this country favor annexation of Canada. And I don't care who hears me say it. I am willing to make this proposition: You let me run for President on a platform calling for annexation of Canada, in so far as this country is concerned, and I will carry every vote in the nation." During the late Dominion election campaign, this same Champ Clarke gave expression more than once, to similar sentiments in line with those quoted above; but our Liberal friends were at great pains to convince the electors that he was only joking. What do they think of him now?

War News.

London, address of the 8th inst. convey the following information: The correspondent of Reuters, Ltd., from Malta, was able to send a pessimistic account of the Italians around Tripoli. He says: "The Italians hold, with nearly twice as many men, half the ground that they held three weeks ago. They have lost, not counting sick, over 1,000 men. Many Arabs have been killed, and vast numbers were shot in cold blood. Now 35,000 soldiers find themselves confined, with an active enemy within a few yards of them, and cholera, typhoid, and other diseases, are rampant among them. The Italian troops fought with great courage and their officers set a noble example."

Canadian Pacific railway, will be always alive to the vital importance of the problem. There are industries in this province to which transportation is of prime importance and perhaps to our great fishing industry. It always seemed to me that Nova Scotia with a coast line which adjoins and even projects into the best fishing grounds of the world ought to supply fresh fish of the best quality and in the best condition to Ontario, Quebec and even to the western provinces. This can only be done by the organization on a system of cold storage and transportation facilities such as are to be found in other parts of the world with no greater opportunities than our own.
