last night, and was addressed by Geo. B. McLeod and M. W. Eager. This meeting was announced some time ago, and immediately the Conservative organization in Edmonton billed the country round about declaring that it would be a Conservative meeting. The Liberals of the district thereupon invited the Conservatives o hold a joint meeting. Major Carstairs and J. J. Denman, of Edmonton, were to have appeared in the interests of the Conservative candidate, but they failed to put in an appearance, and the people of the district who attended the meeting expressed their opinion in a most pronounced manner of the fear of the Conser- * vative speaker to meet the Liberals on the platform in a riscussion of reciprocity.
