FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

PARIS, Oct. 20. The French War Office gave out an official announcement this afternoon as follows: In Belgium, in spite of a violent attack on the part of the enemy, the Belgian army has held its position on the line of the River Yser. There have been other actions in the region of Ypres between the Allied forces operating in this territory and the forces of the enemy. On our left wing the Germans continue to hold strongly their advance posts around Lille in the direction of Armentieres, Fournes and La Bassée. On the Meuse the enemy has endeavored in vain to drive back the advance posts of our troops who have moved out along the right bank of this stream in the Peninsula of Camp Des Romains. To sum up: During the day of October 19 we have made progress at various points. On the front, in East Prussia and the Vistula River, there is no change in the situation. The efforts of the Austrians to cross the River San have been repulsed. The battle south of Przemysl is continuing under conditions favorable to the Russians.

REPORTED DEFEATED.

LONDON, Oct. 20. The German Crown Prince's Army has been defeated near St. Mihiel, according to a semi-official report which states that the Germans have retreated, abandoning their big guns.

A GERMAN REPORT.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 20. The following official communication from Berlin, dated Oct. 20, has been received in Amsterdam: "The Germans advancing along the coast from Ostend, met hostile forces upon the river near Neuport, where fighting has been going on since last Sunday. Yesterday, attacks by the enemy west of Lille were repulsed, the enemy suffering heavy losses. In the Eastern theatre of the war there has been no material change."

AUSTRIANS SURRENDER.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 20. There has been no further change in the situation, says the official report. Russian troops are in contact with the enemy at various points, and there has been fighting on the River Zouza in Galicia and in East Prussia. To the south of Przemysl the Russians continue to take prisoners in large numbers. An entire Austrian battalion with all officers and machine guns surrendered to us.

FIERCE FIGHTING CONTINUES.

LONDON, Oct. 21. Fighting of a most desperate character is in progress in West Flanders and northwest France. The Belgian army, supported by the Allies, is holding stubbornly to the line of the River Yser, despite determined German attacks, and has thus far succeeded in bringing to a halt the advances of the invaders along the coast.

This is announced in a French official communication issued last evening, and is admitted in the report of the German General Headquarters, which says the fighting has been going on since Sunday, in the vicinity of Neuport, which stands at the crossing of the River near the sea. A little further to the south the Allies are making an attempt to advance toward Lille, for the relief of that city, which has been in German hands for some time, and are also pushing on to the north and south of Arras. To the southward at the bend of the line the Germans continue to make furious, but unavailing attempts to break through the French lines. In the east, along the Meuse, the Germans have, according to a French account, essayed in vain to try and repulse the French troops who have debouched along that territory, in which Camp des Romains, now in the hands of the Germans, is situated, in an attempt to cut out that portion of the German Army which is thrust towards St. Mihiel. Generally speaking, the French claim to have made some detailed progress on various points of the front. Paris reports the Allies to have destroyed 15 German machine guns, two of which were armoured, near Le Bassée, and a battery of German heavy artillery in positions of St. Mihiel. Both sides are bringing up reinforcements to the western front, where the supreme struggle of the war is now on.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

PARIS, Oct. 21. Yesterday was characterized by an effort on the part of the Germans along all parts of the front to the extreme north, where the Belgian army has held, remarkably at Le Bassée, where the German troops have attempted an offensive movement of particular violence, and to the north of Arras and Mamele, between Peronne and Albert, and towards the coast of Argonne, and finally on the heights of the Meuse and in the region of Cambrai. Everywhere the German attacks have been repulsed.

TRAFALGAR DAY.

LONDON, Oct. 21. To-day, Trafalgar Day, will be made the occasion of a great effort to recruit men for the Army. Already hundreds of wreaths and bouquets have been banked at the base of the Nelson Monument in Trafalgar Square. There were great crowds present throughout yesterday. Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Japan and South Africa sent mammoth floral offerings which are displayed beneath the monument, which is surmounted by the statue of Admiral Nelson. Nearly all the English ships of the British fleet, and other ships destroyed by German submarines or mines. In addition to the flowers, the entire base of the Nelson monument is enveloped with recruiting banners bearing the words: "Your King and Country needs you."

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferers and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Perles Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

LATEST FROM THE FRONT.

11.30 A. M.

ALLIES OCCUPY BRUGES.

DUNKIRK, To-day. The newspaper Nord Maritime says the Allies have driven five thousand Germans out of Bruges and that the Allies are now in possession.

GERMANS OCCUPY COAST.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. The Telegraph publishes a despatch concerning the fighting on October 18th, in which the correspondent says thirty thousand Germans occupied the coast between Ostend and Neuport, and dug trenches along the dykes from Middle Kerke to Westend(?)

ORDERED OUT OF BRIGHTON.

LONDON, To-day. The Chief Constable of Brighton has ordered all German and Austrian subjects to leave that town within the next few days, no exceptions to be made in the order. Brighton has a large colony of foreigners and many hotels there are either owned by foreigners or their staffs are made up of them.

MERCHANTMAN SUNK.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch from Stavanger says the British steamer Giltera, of Leth, was sunk 12 miles off the Norwegian Coast by a German submarine. The crew were ordered into the boats and wives were opened.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT.

WASHINGTON, To-day. A marked improvement in the unemployed situation in Great Britain is indicated by official reports made public to-day by the British Embassy here.

KING WILL REVIEW CONTINGENT.

SALISBURY, To-day. That the Contingent will be reviewed on Salisbury Plain at no distant date by King George and Earl Kitchener, was the intimation given by Major General Alderson, Commander of the Contingent, at a meeting of the officers to-day.

GERMANY'S LAST HOPE.

PARIS, To-day. An official communication issued by the War Office says the following extracts from a letter found on a German prisoner, dated Dusseldorf, October 14th: "With us officers and soldiers are becoming sicker. We have no more men than are adequate, volunteers and men of Landwehr are all we have to-day. If you saw these soldiers you would turn your head. Everybody is being taken. It is Germany's last hope. All the soldiers are becoming sicker. Have you bread. Many complain they have none."

IMPORTANT BATTLES BEING FOUGHT.

LONDON, To-day. Colonel Repington, military expert of the London Times, commenting on the present military situation in the western theatre of war, cables: "It is difficult to overrate the importance of this battle. Victory on one side or the other will mean the recovery of strategic liberty and in the event of German defeat Belgium may be recovered by the Allies. Control of the sea which we exercise enables us to throw our troops into Russia where we will outflank the German line which rests its right upon the coast. Our troops can thus act over chess advantages owing to the proximity of home territory, and the whole situation affords ground for hope. Regarding the situation in Eastern Europe, Colonel Repington is less hopeful. He says 'The public read of one Russian army almost at the gates of Cracow, another almost on the Lower Vistula, and Russian cavalry on the borders of Silesia, well across Carpathians to the borders of Hungarian Plain. How comes it that Austro-German Allies are now posted along more of one half at least of the Vistula Province. Fighting is taking place over an immense front and decisions of modern battles are not remarkable for rapidity. All we can be sure of is that the Russians are fighting on the ground of their own choosing and will give an excellent account of themselves. Many a fighting cock has strutted proudly into Russia with his head in the air but he usually has gone out again with more haste than dignity, and with loss of most of his fine feathers."

BUILDING ZEPPELIN SHEDS.

LONDON, To-day. The Mail's Rotterdam correspondent says three Zeppelin airship sheds are being built at Brussels and four at Antwerp. The correspondent adds that bridges have been erected over the River Meuse between Liege and Vise preparing a way for German retreat.

When he got all his law degrees he didn't cut down any trees to build himself a sign. Instead of headin' for the bar he went an' grabbed the role of star with Jersey City's nine. He led the league for swats that year an' started his big league career in sleepy Philly town. Four years in that man's town he played, then went to Cincy in a trade to hold their third sack down.

Last year he went clear off his cud, that Cincy blintz got in his blood, he started slidin' back. Then Muggsy bought him up to sub an' Eddie gave his joints a rub an' found they didn't crack. He figured he was some good yet an' set right out to try an' get his old time go an' pep. He got it, too. He's got it great. His hits an' fieldin' stunts of late make good his college rep.

Survivors of the Hawke Tell Story of Disaster.

Were All Overcrowded.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Oct. 16.—The British cruiser Hawke was sunk in the North Sea yesterday by a German submarine, and of her crew of four hundred officers and men only 73 are known to have been saved. The cruiser Theseus, a sister ship of the Hawke, was attacked by the same submarine, but escaped because she obeyed the Admiralty's instructions and looked to her own safety, instead of rushing to the aid of the Hawke's perishing crew. A survivor of the Hawke gives the following description of the disaster: "Within eight minutes, the Hawke had gone under. Had the ship gone down forward or aft, there would have been some chance for us to get the boats out, and clear of the cruiser, but she heeled over on her beam ends. All of the boats were lowered, these on the starboard side were useless, and those on the port side were crushed as soon as they touched the water."

"I was proud to be among such comrades. Every thing was absolutely in perfect order. When the ship was struck, a fearful explosion followed, and grime and dust were everywhere. I was in midships at the time and could hardly see to grope my way to the ship's side. I heard orders given to lower the boats and then some shouted 'look after yourselves,' so I did that."

"Most of the men on board were married men. We saw hundreds in the water, but were afraid to pick them up as our boat was already overcrowded. So we threw life belts to them. It was all we could do. 'The weather was bitter cold, and I do not think that many, apart from those who were taken to Aberdeen were saved.' Here is a statement of a rescued stoker: "When the explosion occurred, I, along with others who were in the engine room, was sent flying into space and was stunned for a time."

Horror of the Situation.

"When I came to my reason, I found myself in the midst of what must be described as an absolute inferno. One of the cylinders of the engine had been completely wrecked, and steam was passing out in dense, scalding clouds. The horror of the situation was increased, when a tank of oil fuel caught fire, and the flames advanced with fearful rapidity. "Seeing that there was not a ghost of a chance of doing any good by remaining in what was obviously a death trap, I determined to make a dash for it, and I scrambled up an iron ladder to the main deck. All this happened in less time than it takes to tell it, but such is British pluck, coolness and nerve, even in such a situation, that the commander and other officers were on the bridge, and calmly obeyed."

"The buglers sounded a stiff call, which summoned every man to remain at his post. During the first minute or two, many of us believed all that was wrong was a boiler explosion, but the rapidity with which the cruiser was taking water on the starboard side, quickly disabused all our minds of this belief. Realizing the actual situation, the commander gave orders to close all the watertight doors. Soon after then came the order to abandon the ship and get out the boats."
