So skillfully are the huts hidden that one can drive along the Scrub Oak road, which there is little more than a bridle path, without noticing a single shack. apparently the fear of detection that made the deserters from Washington's army seek this hidden retreat in the nountain wilderness has descended to their progeny.

The hermits are said to stick close to their colony. Rarely are they seen in any of the surrounding towns. They ave no money, but occasionally wil trade furs for merchandise. Their overty, in fact, is said to be almost beyond belief. CHEMIST SETS AT REST

Those who have suffered long and hopelessly from torturing skin eruptions will read with interest this letter from Mr. T. Williams, 115 Pacific Ave., Winhipeg (dated Jan. 14, 1911): "The Cuticura Remedies certainly did work finely, and I am thankful that there is such a remedy, and that I tried it. About three months ago a terrible itching commenced on my body. I could not understand it. It gradually grew worse and covered a large portion of my body. There was also a slight eruption of the skin, sort of a rash. I suffered greatly with the Itching and at night time I had little sleep. I tried one or two remedies which did no good, and then two remedies which did no good, and then I tried Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent. In about ten days I was completely
