Heavy transactions and great excitement marked the trading. Those manipulating the market are said on all sides to have cleaned up an enormous profit, by some estimated at several millions. Manipulation aside, the main spring under the market is the shortage of hogs. The close was within a shade of the highest prices of the day—a 65-cent leap compared with last night's figures. This was the third day of almost equally sensational advances.

Noxon, Dr. McKay, M.P.P.; Dr. Williams, Dr. Dickson and Mr. Robertson, of Ingersoll. Several of the farmers and practical dairymen also spoke, and were all more or less in favor of this new introduction of the winter creamery in connection with the cheese-making business. Interesting discussions were also held in regard to feed and the hog industry as an adjunct to the dairy business.

"Sary and the Babies."

A Happy Home.

A Happy Home.

"Wo used to buy a pound of baking powder and get a litte present with it, and they mostly remind me of one that happened down in Virginia. A private in one of the Virginny regiments had got into some kind of a storage, I disremember just what, but some thing serious, because ne was going to be shot for it. They give him a week of grace, and after the sentence he asked the general in command if he couldn't go home and see his wile and babies that lived about 25 miles away in the mountains. Says he to "Ther ain't nothin' in the contract of the general." "I hear a good many stories," remarked the veteran to the old soldier club, "about see an wite and basies that lived about 20 miles away in the mountains. Says he to the general:

"Ther ain't nothin' in the world, gineral, but Sary and the babies fer me now, sence I've done this thing, an' I'm willin' to die, but I want to go and see them ez if I wuz en a furiough, and tell'em that I'm goin' en a secut across the river, an' I jest came to let 'em know that I mightn't ever come back ag'in; an' say good-by to 'em. Sary sets a heap of store by me, an' she tells the boys that they must grow up to be good men like ther daddy is. It 'ud break Sary's heatt ef she knowed what was goin' to happen to me, an' gineri, don't you think that killin' me is enough egsample without killin' Sary, too, an' don't you think that killin' me is enough egsample without killin' Sary, too, an' leavin' them to starve in the mountains? Ef you don't think it is, ginerl, you kin shoot me now and let the same bullet go on through Sary's heart. I'll come back, ginerl, shore; only for God's sake let me go home an' make it all right with Sary an' the babies.'
"Well, the general had mercy, and he

Well, the general had mercy, and he "Well, the general had mercy, and he told the soldier he could go and he'd trust to his honor, and besides the whole army was watching him. So the soldier left camp on parole and went to his home, and on the last day of the week, in the morning, bright and early, of the day he was to be shot —"

"By gravy," interrupted the corporal on the soap box, "he came back, and of course the general didn't let a man like that be put to death?"

The voteran looked at the corporal severely for the interruption.

"As I was saying," he resumed, "on the last day of the week, in the morning, bright and early, of the day he was to be shot, he didn't come back, nor the next day, nor the day after, nor at any time that anybony ever heard of," and this time the veteran grinned at the corporal on the scap box and called for another story. soap box and called for another story.

Prof. Saunders Will Attend.

An Ottawa dispatch says the Minister of Agriculture has arranged that Prof. Saunders shall attend the meeting of the Western Dairymen's Association, to be held in this city on the 17th and 18th inst. Prof. Robertson was to have been present, but owing to his unavoidable detention in England this change has been made. Prof. Saunders will also attend the meeting of the Creameries' Association to be held during the same week, and if Prof. Robertson does not return in time the farm director will also be present at the meeting of the Eastern Dairymen's Association. The dairy commissioners sail for Canada on the 10th inst.
