BLAZE AT BLOCK ISLAND

Famous Rhode Island Summer Resort Scorched.

Several Large Hotels in Ashes—Strong Breeze Helps the Conflagration.

Block Island, R. I., July 17.—The most disastrous fire that ever visited Block Island started in the barn of the Ocean Cottage late last night and before it was checked destroyed one side of the main business street.

The flames were well under way before the limited fire apparatus here was brought to bear on them. A strong wind carried the flames to Narragansett Cafe and soon it and adjoining buildings were blazing.

A hard fight was made to save the Narragansett Hotel, but it burned like a tinder box.

The fire then spread to the Nalad and the telephone office, both of which were destroyed.

The wind shifted and the volunteer firemen made a desperate but vain attempt to save the Nalad and the telephone office, which within half an hour, was a heap of ashes.

The Surf Hotel again and again caught fire from the intense heat, but the wind changed again and it was saved.

No estimate of the losses has yet been made.

Tuesday's storm did some damage around Morden, Man. Reports are being received from the intense heat, but no report of the damage has yet been received. Rev. Father Beaudette, of Three Rivers, Que., who was visiting in Windsor, dropped dead.

A. H. Duskin, of Paris, Ont., is dead at Neepawa, Man., of pneumonia. It is said that the British ministers are considering the proposal.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has decided to postpone his visit to France till after the coronation, on Aug. 9.

SWEEPING CHANGES PROMISED BY THE BRITISH WAR OFFICE

Necessity for Radical Reform Admitted by Government.

BULLER A GOOD PEACE OFFICER

Earl Cadogan, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, Resigns—Disastrous Typhoon—19 Lives Lost.

London, July 18.—Simultaneously with the revival of the Buller controversy in the House of Commons today, the War Office has been attacked in the House of Lords. Lord Monckswell (Liberal) brought up the scathing allegations contained in the report of the committee on military education, and urged the immediate appointment of an inspector-general of army education.

Lord Raglan, Under Secretary for War, and Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, defended the War Office, saying that a new scheme for education, containing sweeping changes, was in progress of being drawn up. This statement satisfied Lord Monckswell and his supporters, and the motion was withdrawn.

BULLER'S VALUE.

Sir Edward Grey, Bart. (Liberal), in the House of Commons, charged the War Office officials with having acted unfairly towards General Buller, and demanded the publication of further papers.

The reply of the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, shattered any remnants of the reputation of the dismissed officer. He declared that the War Office had no intention of publishing further papers, and that the responsibility of such mistakes as the abandonment of the gull at Delagoa Bay, and the proposals to surrender Ladysmith, which had been listened to, would have produced a disaster for which there was no precedent in the history of the war.

In regard to those proposals, continued Mr. Brodrick, when Gen. Buller sounded his note of despair to Gen. White, he had a hellebrand in his pocket, received a fortnight before, saying that Gen. White had provisions for 70 days, and could defend Ladysmith while the food lasted. Gen. Buller's retention after Colenso and Spion Kop was impossible under the circumstances, and his appointment to command at Aldershot was simply a recognition of his former office. Gen. Buller was a good peace commander.

Sir Edward Grey's proposed vote of censure against the Government for its treatment of Gen. Buller was subsequently defeated by 236 votes to 23 ayes, after much speech making.

ATTEMPTED TOO MUCH.

Earl Hopetoun, retiring Governor-General of Australia, called for England today, says the Melbourne correspondent of the London Times. Before sailing Earl Hopetoun wrote a letter to Alfred Deakin, Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, in which he said it had been his constant desire to place his office on a pedestal, not for his own sake, but because he believed it the best way to serve the Empire and the Australians. He acknowledged that he had been a poor, common in new communities, of trying to over-build, but not sure of his foundations, and added: "If one day I found myself sitting on the ground, surrounded by the ruins of my own ideal, I have only myself to blame."

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCES

So Far Have Not Developed Any Definite Plans.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER AT WORK

Preliminary Fast Mail Negotiations in Progress—The Canada Club Dinner.

London, July 17.—It is evident from last night's speeches at the Canada Club dinner that Mr. Chamberlain's conference has made no substantial progress as yet towards definite defense or preferential tariff agreements. The chief result so far has been to discover how many different views are held, though the fraternal spirit is most marked.

CANADA'S NEED.

The dinner was a successful affair. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Edmund Barton, Sir Robert Bond and the Canadian ministers now in London were among the distinguished guests. Canada's Prime Minister in his speech emphasized the loyalty of the Dominion and declared that if they only had sufficient emigration to the country Canada could supply all the grain the Empire would require.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is evidently considering the preferential trade question seriously and tactfully. An authoritative report is current this afternoon that in his interviews with the British Government Premier Laurier said that he did not want Britain to tax its people for the benefit of Canada, but suggested that British taxes all grain it should exempt Canadian wheat. Perhaps Canada might be able to reciprocate by the admission of some articles of British manufacture.

It is said that the British ministers are considering the proposal.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has decided to postpone his visit to France till after the coronation, on Aug. 9.

EARL CADOGAN GONE.

Earl Cadogan today resigned the Lord-Lieutenancy of Ireland.

Earl Cadogan, who has resigned as Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, was born in Durham in 1840, and is a grand-nephew of the Duke of Wellington. He was first elected to parliament for Bath in 1873, and was appointed Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland in 1895. He has served as under-secretary for war and under secretary for the colonies, and from 1886 to 1892 was Lord Privy Seal. His resignation was not unexpected, and was definitely foreshadowed in dispatches a day or two ago.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

The Times says: "Catholics are now entering actively in the fight against the government's education bill, which some irate Nonconformists describe as a job and sop to the church party, to whom, they declare, the government owes its existence. Catholic bishops, at the meeting of Cardinal Vaughan's house at Westminster, yesterday passed a resolution to the effect that they viewed with the gravest concern the proposal in the bill regarding the management of denominational schools. The section of the bill referred to will probably be left over until the autumn sitting, and while Catholic influence may not greatly strengthen the opposition to the measure, it will complicate the situation considerably."

A TYPHOON.

Manila, July 18.—A very severe typhoon swept over the Southern Islands, June 14 and 16. The United States customs steamer Shearwater was lost off the island of Mindanao. Nineteen of her crew, including three Americans, were drowned.

MISSIONARIES ROUGHLY HANDLED.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—The Novoe Vremya publishes a dispatch from Seoul, Korea, which says that two American missionaries were stoned and beaten on the line of the Seoul-Fusan Railroad by Japanese laborers, and that the Japanese minister has expressed regret and promised the severe punishment of the offenders.

HIS LAST NIGHT.

Rice retired last night at 10:45 and lay for some time chatting with his guard. He had spent most of the day with his spiritual adviser, Mr. Hall, and was prepared to meet his fate. He said to the guard that it was hard to face the music alone, meaning in the absence of his companions in crime, Frank Rutledge and Frank Jones. Then he fell asleep and seemed to pass a restful night.

UP EARLY.

At 5:30 he arose and was met by his guard to whom he spoke a word of greeting.

Mr. Hall was early at the jail and after Rice had eaten a light breakfast, the minister and he were left alone, and from then until the arrival of Hangman Radcliffe the time was spent in prayer. Simultaneously with the entrance of Radcliffe the black flag of death was hoisted above the jail.

MARCH TO THE SCAFFOLD.

The march to the scaffold took two minutes, and the body was cut down.

KING LOOKS MUCH BETTER THAN FOR SEVERAL DAYS

No Trace of Any Constitutional Malady—Official Notice of Coronation.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 18.—A bulletin issued this morning by the King's physicians says:

"The King continues to make satisfactory progress. He is benefiting in every way from the change. His majesty sleeps well and is able to have his couch placed upon the open deck during the greater part of the day."

The next bulletin will be issued July 21.

Since his removal to Cowes the progress of the King has been so rapid that his physicians have ordered a more liberal diet for His Majesty.

The British Medical Journal today says: "The King's progress is quite satisfactory. Everything has gone on well. We can give an absolute and emphatic denial to the rumors of the existence of any constitutional malady. We are authorized to state that His Majesty has no sign or suspicion of any malignant disease in any part of his body."

The Lancet says: "The King's condition is eminently satisfactory. The wound is filling up surely, if slowly. The freedom from state cares and social duties, together with the enforced rest in bed, has had a most beneficial effect. His Majesty looks better now than for years."

THE CORONATION DAY.

London, July 18.—An official notification was issued this morning that the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place August 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey were held this morning, and the officials of the various state departments con-

The Execution of Fred Lee Rice

Took Place in Toronto Jail Yard This Morning.

C. C. BOYD'S MURDERER HANGED

Prisoner Was Cool and Unflinching—Had No Public Statement to Make—His Crime.

Toronto, July 18.—Fred Lee Rice, the murderer of County Constable Boyd, was hanged here this morning at 8:02 o'clock. He went to the scaffold with a set, determined expression, very pale and rigid, and notwithstanding the fact that he had refused the usual stimulant given by the doctor, he submitted to the ordeal without any apparent tremor.

HE SAID NOTHING.

In fact, the usual question as to his desire in this respect was not asked. The officiating clergyman, Rev. Robert Hall, city missionary, when asked if the doomed man had made any confession, said that he could say nothing touching upon that point until he had consulted with Mrs. Rice, deceased's mother, who was in the city to receive the body and to have it taken to the family burying plot at Champagne, Ill.

STORY OF RICE'S CRIME
