Dr. Berdan, of Strathroy, who attending the old man, said this morning that Upton was equally as well today as he was on Tuesday. The injuries to the head are healing nicely, and there was no rise either in the pulse or temperature, both being normal. Upton rests well. He still retains consciousness, but is not able to utter a complete sentence. He can answer "yes" or "no" to questions put to him, and he also uses other words One of the wounds on the head is entirely healed, while another is mark-

LOOKING FOR CHRISTOPHER

Mrs. C. C. Delmont Is Anxious to Discover Her Husband.

Police Asked to Assist in the Search - Kate Tells Her Story.

Kate Delmont wants to know where Christopher Columbus is. Christopher Columbus is her husband and she wants to go into the discovery business. The wife called on the police this morning and told her tale of woe, Telegraph Operators Are Negotiating and now the police are on the lookout for Christopher Columbus Delmont. He is not an actor, as his name might suggest, but a farmer, and the township of Nissouri is supposed to be his hid-When Christopher Columbus discovered innocent and cov Kate Walker he proposed marriage, and she accepted with all her heart. He gave his age to the minister, who she says was Rev. George J. Bishop, as 22, but she is afraid now that he is only 19, as that is what his sister claims. The bride said that she had been out from Ireland for the last seventeen or eighten years, and when the reporter suggested that she must have come here rather young she took it seriously, but did not define exactly her age when she came

Mrs. Catherine Delmont, as she calls herself, sat in the clerk's office this morning while court was in progress, and waited to tell her story. Now and er dress of purple, and then pulled her once-white cotton gloves through her hands, and then while no one she thought was looking she took off her hat. Perhaps it was the same hat she had on when he had proposed. Anyway, it was what the milliners call "creation" of black straw and white flowers and other trimmings "too numerous to mention." As someone approached she hastily put it on, and when court was over told her troubles.
