My sister residing in Ohio wrote me that she had been cured of womb trouble by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and advised me to try it. I then discontinued all other medicines and gave your Vegetable Compound a thorough trial. GEOLOGIST'S DARING TRIP

Eight Inches of Rain Fell at Kingston in Two Days-Prof. Hill's Interesting Report.

Fort-de-France, May 26-9 a.m.-Volcano is again in eruption. Huge inky black clouds are rolling over Fort-de-France in great masses, and there are lightning flashes in the clouds. The inhabitants are now flocking into the great square of the town. If the demonstration increases a panic is imminent.

A very heavy surf has been beating on the shore for the last two hours, and an enormous grayish-yellow cloud at a great height is dimly visible in the direction of Mont Pelee.

Fort-de-France is in no danger from volcano, but there is considerable apprehension of a panic in the night time should the grayish-yellow cloud reach here and ashes and stones begin to fall. There are no noises from the volcano at present.

A DARING EXPLORER. Fort-de-France, Monday, May 26. -Prof. Robt. T. Hill, United States Gov-Prof. Robt. T. Hill, United States Government geologist, and head of the expedition sent by the National Geographical Society, chartered a steamer and carefully examined the coast as far north as Port-de-Macouba, making frequent landings. After landing at Le Precheur, five miles north of St. Pierre, he walked through an area of active volcanism to the latter place, and made a minute examination of the various phenomena disclosed. In addition to his work of investigation, the professor rescued in his steamer many poor people of Le Precheur who had ventured back after deserting their homes and found themselves in awful danger. PROF. HILL'S REPORT. The professor says: The zone of the catastrophe in Martinique forms an elongated oval, containing on land about eight square miles of destruction. The oval is partly over the sea. The land part is bounded by lines running from Le Precheur to the peak of Mont Pelee, thence curving around to Carbet. There were three well-marked zones. First, a center of annihilation, in which all life, vegetable and animal, was utterly destroyed; the great northern part of St. Pierre was in this zone. Second, a zone of singeing, blistering flame, which also was fatal to all life, killing all men and animals, burning the leaves on the trees and scorching, but not utterly destroying, the trees themselves.

Third, a large outer, non-destructive one of ashes, wherein some vegetation was injured. THE FOCUS OF ANNIHILATION was the new crater midway between the sea and the peak of Mont Pelee, where now exists a new area of active volcanism, with hundreds of fumaroles or miniature volcanoes. The new crater is now vomiting black, hot mud, which is falling into the sea. Both craters, the old and new, are active. Mushroom-shaped steam explosions constantly ascend from the old crater, while heavy ash-laden clouds float horizontally from the new crater. The old ejects steam, smoke, mud, pumice and lapilli, but no molten lava.

THE DESTRUCTION OF ST. PIERRE. The salient topography of the region is unaltered. The destruction of St. Pierre was due to the new crater. The explosion had great superficial force, acting in radial directions, as is evidenced by the dismounting and carry-ing for yards of the guns in the battery of the hill south of St. Pierre, and the colonial statue of the Virgin in the same locality, and also by the condition of the ruined houses in St Pierre. According to the testimony of some persons there was an acompanying flame. Others think the incandes cent cinders and the force of their ejection was sufficient to cause the de-struction. This must be investigated. am now following the nature of this

HAZARDOUS UNDERTAKING. Prof. Hill has now started on horseback for the volcano. He will study the whole affected area, and will try to get to both craters. He will surely visit Morne Rouge and the slope of Mont Pelee. The undertaking is very hazardous, as explosions may occur at any moment, as one did May 20. Prof. Hill knows the risk he takes, but says the only way to discover what has happened is to go to the crater it-

NEW SOURCE OF FEAR. Fort-de-France is nearly deserted. A new source of fright is fear that a tidal wave may come. A wave eight feet high would certainly destroy Fortde-France, and probably cause enormous loss of life. The weather is lowering and rainy.

In order to avoid a possible epidemic among the seven thousand refugees now at Fort-de-France, it has been decided to distribute them among a number of depots.

CONFERENCE MAY BREAK OFF

Irreconcilables Have Made Demands Which Cannot Possibly be Granted -Awaiting Britain's Final Reply.

London, May 28 .- A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Pretoria report that 200 Boers have surrendered at Frankfort, in the Orange River Colony. London, May 27 .- According to the views of officials here, there is nothing to warrant the pessimistic opinions expressed in some quarters regarding the ultimate outcome of the discussions at Pretoria and at Vereeniging. The Associated Press learns that the government continues to be satisfied that the negotiations will result in a peaceful settlement. Some minor points are still being discussed, but they are expected to be fully disposed of within a day or two.

MAY BE BROKEN OFF. London, Wednesday, May 28.-There is a distinct setback this morning in the recent optimism concering the conclusion of peace. Both the cables from Pretoria and political dispatches dealing with the cabinet, concur in declaring that the questions raised by the Boer delegates constitute a grave difficulty that will possibly lead to the breaking up of the conference. A dispatch from Pretoria, dated Tuesday, refers to the irreconcilable minority, including several well-known Boer eaders, as opposing surrender unless they are given important assurances, which Lord Milner has been informed are .mpossibl The Daily Mail's Pretoria correspondent says there is litle chance of surrender unless the leaders who have accepted the British terms succeed in bringing pressure on some of their colleagues. The delegates are still in of business is not great. The continuous upward movement of mining stocks is predicted by South Africans in the street as soon as peace is declared. These forecasts are interested but premature until there are signs that foreign investors are impressed with the evidence of the future prosperity of

Prime Minister Seddon, of New Zealand, who is on a visit to South Africa, held a reception yesterday. He made a speech, in which he said he felt sure that peace was not far off. KITCHENER'S POSITION. London May 28 .- A statement is ssued by a news agency this morning that Lord Kitchener will become adjutant-general to the forces, instead of taking command of the Indian army, as previously reported.
