ONLY HAY OFFERED

The local market was almost a minus quantity this morning, a few loads of hay being the only objects to break the calm repose of the market square. In all about a dozen loads of hay were offered. The old hay brought from $11 to $12, largely at the latter price for good quality, as the demand was strong. New hay, too, was selling better than it has done in the past, going as high as $10, Though the buyers waited around anxi-

Dalicious Preserves

No housekeeper need again apologize for "store"

It is so easy to make appetizing, wholesome and less expensive preserves with St. Lawrence Granulated Sugar, that every housekeeper is putting up her own stock this summer for next winter.

Their reward will come when they delight their friends and guests with preserves of their own make. And what just pride they can take as these delicious home-made preserves are praised!

The children, too, will enjoy the pure, luscious fruit as it is preserved by St. Lawrence Sugar.

St. Lawrence Granulated Sugar is made from pure cane sugar, and contains more saccharine substance, than sugar made from other natural products.

In preserving, a smaller quantity of St. Lawrence Granulated is required. It is therefore more economical for the thrifty housekeeper.

It is sold in bulk in smaller quantities at your grocers, but we recommend the 20-pound cotton sacks, put up at the refinery specially for the home. This quantity is convenient for preserving time, and besides, you can be sure of the genuine brand, by buying it in these original packages.

Ask your grocer to supply you with St. Lawrence Granulated in these 20-pound sacks, and get clean sugar and strictly full weight.
