Country Trade Is Reported Steady—Trade Conditions Throughout the Dominion of Canada.

Bradstreet's trade review says: Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say the week has seen no change in the trade situation there. Retail trade continues to move very satisfactorily and wholesalers report a steady volume of orders coming in. Drygoods houses are busy sending out spring lines. They report deliveries of textiles prompt, and all lines of goods are now going forward more freely. Staple groceries continue to move well. Values are generally steady to firm. Sugars are firm in tone. Hardware trade is active for this time of the year. Local factories are busy and labor continues to be busily engaged. Boot and shoe manufacturers are now sending out spring lines, and they report the outlook for business to be decidedly favorable. The country trade continues active. Deliveries of produce are heavier in some lines and prices show corresponding cashness. Butter continues scarce and firm. Collections are about as last reported.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say all lines of trade continue active. The wholesalers are still busy on spring lines. Shipments continue to be made and everything points to a heavy season's business. Factories here are all busy. The automobile show is reported to have resulted in a large amount of business. Wholesale dealers are making preparations for the spring openings, and imports of goods are reported to be large. Manufacturers of clothing and kindred lines have been busy throughout the week. Business in hardware shows increased activity. The country trade is steady. Collections are reported fair to good.

In the West, Winnipeg reports say spring trade is opening out satisfactorily. Fairly large shipments of goods are going forward and the outlook for business continues very encouraging. Wholesalers in all lines seem well satisfied with the amount of business actually moving. Collections are still on the slow side. Money is offering fairly freely, and there is an excellent demand for loans on farm property. Mercantile loans are also largely in request.

Hamilton reports say business there is steady in character. Retail trade has kept up well during the week, and the wholesalers appear very well satisfied with the amount of business moving. Manufacturers are all busy, and the general attitude towards future conditions is demonstrated in the fact that plans are being made for additions to several important manufacturing plants here. Business in the surrounding district is seasonably active.

BEAUTY HINTS Superfluous Hair

Will you tell me if there is any way to permanently destroy a disgusting growth of superfluous hair on my face and arms? I am 35 years old and the growth is very bad. My daughter, who is 22, is similarly troubled. I have been told that electrolysis is worthless and that using the electric current is the only way. I hesitate to try, as I am told it is painful. I should be glad if you would give me your advice on this matter. You are wise to avoid the electric needle. It is a dangerous operation, and besides being painful, often leaves severe scars. I have frequently stated in these columns that it is better to endure the annoyance than to suffer the pain of the electric needle. I have also named inquirers against electrolysis, which are worse than useless because they cause the hair to grow out thicker than before. Recently, however, I have received some very enthusiastic and reliable reports about a new method originating in Japan which has been successfully used in this country. I do not know its name, but a friend of mine who received a complete cure by its use, told me that she would gladly furnish full particulars, without charge, to anyone who would write her. If you will write to Mrs. Osgood, Apartment 163 R, 123 East 27th Street, New York City, enclosing a two-cent stamp for reply and mentioning my advice, stating if Mrs. Osgood, she will send you quite free of all cost, complete instructions which will undoubtedly enable you to be permanently rid of all trace of the blemish. WEST STRONG FOR RECIPROCITY

Mr. Melville Martin's Rousing Address Before the Liberals of London.

HOW MR. BORDEN WON

"Race Against Race and Creed Against Creed," Said the Member for Regina, in Hyman Hall.

That the temperance decree had more to do than reciprocity with the defeat of the Liberal party in Ontario in September last, was the statement of Mr. Melville Martin, M. P. for Regina, at the meeting in Hyman Hall last night. He spoke of the insidious way this cry was used by the enemies of Laurier throughout the province. Reciprocity was not a dead issue by any means, and was a question that would still have to be faced.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was a most enthusiastic one. Mr. C. R. Sanagan, president of the Liberal Club, occupied the chair. The president, Mr. Melville Martin, stated that he had come from Ottawa to tell the Liberals of London that the Borden Government was doing at Ottawa.

"I am glad to come to London," said Mr. Martin in his opening remarks, "although it is not the easiest thing in the world to deliver an address among your own old friends. I was raised in Huron County, and I used to come into London very frequently. I then thought that London was not only the biggest city in Canada, but in the world, and that in dealing with political issues, Mr. Martin declared that no Liberal need be ashamed of the sixteen years' record of the Liberal Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was a progressive administration, and its benefits were to be seen everywhere.

American in the West. "In some places in Canada the support given to reciprocity by the west was construed to mean that the Americans who have come into the western provinces in large numbers were disloyal," he said. "The Americans there are among our very best citizens. They are loyal to the flag, and in the large numbers are former Canadians who left this country at the time of the exodus to go to the Dakotas, Iowa and other states, and have now come back to their own country. Some never became naturalized in the United States. Others did, but when they came back to Canada they again became Canadian citizens. These Americans and the men from Ontario are our best farmers. We did not support reciprocity because of the Americans in the west, but because it is a sound economic principle. Mr. Broder, of Dundas, was worried during the elections over the loyalty of the west. He mentioned the fact that the American flag was to be seen flying side by side with the British flag on certain holidays. Mr. Broder need not worry about our loyalty. As for the flag, it is in the west take the position that such a thing shows the amity and friendship existing between two great Anglo-Saxon peoples.

A Brain-Storm. "As Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated in South Renfrew, the electors of Ontario were seized with some sort of a brain-storm, and gave Mr. Borden an overwhelming majority. We went out on a big issue, and with us in the west behind us. The party stands just as strong as prior to Sept. 21. At the next election many constituencies now under the Conservative banner would send Liberals to the House, and remain Liberal for years to come.

In Saskatchewan, we supported reciprocity, carrying nine out of ten seats. The total Liberal majority was about 20,000. One of the reasons for that is the fact that the southern portion of Saskatchewan is separated from the United States by an imaginary line, making the American market closer than all other markets—much closer than the eastern or European markets.

The American Market. "There is always a difference of 6 to 15 cents a bushel in favor of the American market for ordinary grades of wheat, while there is a difference of between 30 and 50 cents for barley and flax. Can you wonder then that the western farmers wanted to take advantage of this market? We are willing to buy goods in the east. We are willing to pay for goods in a protected market, and we have done so. We buy in the east where the manufacturers are protected, and then they tell us that our goods in the west in the market that is not only the closest to us, but which will remain for long our most profitable market. We do sacrifice something, and have sacrificed much for the east, the east must do something for us in the west. There will always be a desire in the west to sell in the American market, and the east will have to recognize that fact.

Position of the Farmer. "The western farmer is in a bad position today for the lack of ears to ship his grain. The rich farmer, the man who has been in the west for years, can store his grain on his own farms, and who has been there one, two or three years, must get his produce sold in order to meet his obligations. At the present time, there is grain lying beside the railway tracks in Saskatchewan waiting for ears to move it. I venture to say that if reciprocity had passed there would not have been so much difficulty along this line. There would be no such blockade of ears as we see today. The present Government knew conditions. We told them repeatedly, but they failed to act from November to January. Then they managed to get reduced rates to the markets of Duluth and Minneapolis, and 200 cars a day are being run across the boundary. This is helping some, but the Government should never have waited for months, doing nothing, while the western farmer was in such an extremity. By securing rates to Duluth and Minneapolis, the same as to Fort William, the Government has practically admitted that the principle for which the Liberals strove last September was right. I believe conditions will grow worse with the development of the country. The progress will be much faster than the railways can take care of. At the present time we have but one spout as an outlet to this whole west—Fort William.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments, colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by all dealers.

must have more outlets. The Hudson Bay Railway will provide another spout, but the present Government has stopped the construction of this line, setting the work back at least a year. We will have other outlets to the south, which is our natural trading ground."

Government of Commissions. The present Government is a government of commissions. They were elected by the people to administer the affairs of the country, but instead of assuming the responsibility they engage costly commissions to handle the business of the country. They shirk the responsibility of administering the affairs of state. One example of this is the attitude of the ministry on the Farmers' Bank question. Prior to the election, Hon. T. W. Crothers promised that the shareholders and depositors would be reimbursed if the Conservatives were returned to power. They now refuse to stand by these promises, because they know that the position of the Liberal party on this question was sound. Hon. W. S. Fielding had granted the charter in the original bill, and it is known that a man behind it were crooked, it would not have been granted them. The Government at the present time have named a commission to investigate some documents which could be gone through in half an hour. This is a shameful waste of money.

The Grand Trunk Pacific. Another commission had been named to investigate the Grand Trunk Pacific. The worst thing that they could find out was that the road cost too much. What good would that information be, he asked. The road was constructed by the Liberals at an average cost of $36,000 a mile, while railways in other countries cost $18,000 to $22,000 a mile. It was a good road, the best of its kind, and would mean much for the Dominion in the future.

The Borden Government had already left a country of broken promises. They promised the west that the natural resources of the provinces would be given to them. In the case of Manitoba, this has not been done, nor will it be done. Mr. Borden wanted to hurry the construction of the Hudson Bay line, and had held up the contracts, delaying the work at least a year. He promised to take over the terminal elevators by the Government, and this he had not done.

Reciprocity Sounded. "Reciprocity today is as sound economically for the east as for the west," declared Mr. Martin. "We are very strong for it in the west, and it will be just as good for the east when it is put into effect. Reciprocity alone did not defeat the Liberal Government. The temperance decree had much to do with it. There are Conservatives holding seats, many of them, who are there because of this method of campaigning. They whispered among the electors everywhere that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was responsible for the temperance decree. In Ontario this species of campaigning was unblushingly used, and many Liberals were overthrown, not because reciprocity was either good or bad, but because of this political agitation. The Conservatives and the Liberal party are not surprised at their attitude to this important matter."

The Double Policies of the Conservatives in Ontario and Quebec were referred to as the unwholesome alliance between the Nationalists and the Conservatives. The Conservative Campaign. "The Conservatives were returned by a race-and-creed campaign," said Mr. Martin. "In both provinces, Quebec and Ontario, double-dealing prevailed. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy was consistent, and he never tried to array race against race, or creed against creed, in this or any other province. He has given his life to cement the races of Canada together, and that policy will yet triumph. At the next election, both in the Dominion and Province, we will see a great turnover in favor of the Liberal party."

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker on motion of Mr. U. A. Buchner and T. H. Purdon, K. C.
