OATS AND VEGETABLES THE MARKET FEATURE

Offerings Were Largest Today Than at Any Market So Far This Year.

The features of the largely-attended market today were the size of the oat and vegetable offerings. were larger than those of any previous day this year, and as a result the majority of the prices were somewhat Vegetables, particularly potatoes were very plentiful, but the demand was keen on account of the small at tendance on the square on Thursda and Friday. Some sixteen to twenty large loads of potatoes were offere to the buyers today, and the sale were fairly brisk. At the commence ment of the sales the prices were 9 cents wholesale, and $1.00 per bag retail, but later in the day the price became slightly easier. Lettuce Scarce.

Lettuce was rather scarce, and as result the quotations were higher tha they were during the forepart of th The extreme prices were 4 and 60 cents per dozen bunches, and the majority of the sales were made a 55 and 60 cents. Cabbages were als scarce, and the prices were higher ranging from 40 to 50 cents per dozen Like lettuce the demand for cabbage was keen, and the gardeners had n trouble in disposing of their supplies early in the day. Watercress was quoted at lower prices on account of the slow demand, and large supply, and asparagus was also easier, price being 75 cents per dozen bunches. Carrots, beets, parsnips, parsley, green onions and spinach were quoted at the same prices as prevailed last Saturday, but the demand was such that the supply was not exhausted. No turnips were offered as the season is practically over Oats Plentiful. Oats were more plentiful today than any day this season, from 16 to 20 loads were lower than those which prevailed on Friday. The extreme quotations were $1 10 and $1 15 per cwt., while the average price was in the neighborhood of $1 12.

Only six or eight loads of hay were sold, and the prices remained unchanged, ranging from $10 to $12 25 per ton. The demand was not keen, and the owners had considerable difficulty in disposing of their offerings. Only two loads were sold, and the price for both was $8 per ton.

Butter Drops. On account of the fact that the cows are now able to be allowed out to pasture, the price of butter was lower today. A large amount of crock butter was sold at 22 and 23 cents per pound, while rolls were quoted at 25 cents per pound. The average selling prices in the dairy hall were 26 and 27 cents, while store lots sold at 21 and 22 cents. The farmers do not think that the prices will be much lower during the next few weeks. The prices of eggs remained the same as those which have prevailed during the week, 19 cents per dozen by the crate, 20 cents by the basket, and 21 cents per dozen in the dairy hall.

Apples were also plentiful, but there was scarcely any demand, and the buyers were able to make purchases at their but there were no changes in quotations.

Calgary Man After Magnificent Collection of Minerals, Relics and Curios.

Necessity of London Having Public Museum as Educational Centre Pointed Out.

Dr. A. Woolverton, lecturer in geoogy at the Western University, would ike to interest the citizens in the establishment of a museum in London,. It has been suggested that in ease a new library is built, the present ibrary on Queen's avenue would make an excellent home for a public museum and art gallery. Dr. Woolverton has probably the finest private collection of minerals, Indian relics, coins and curios in Canada. Mr. Moody, the Calgary public-spirited citizen who purposes to present a public museum to his city, and who purchased the Tune collection of birds and animals which Mr Tune offered to the city at very low figure, has intimated to Dr Woolverton that he now desires to secure Dr. Woolverton's collection.

Public Museum Necessary. "If London is going to be a university d educational Woolverton today, "we ought to have public museum. I don't want to sell my collection to Calgary, I would much orefer to see it remain in London. have got it arranged now so that I can show all the specimens easily to itizens, who are interested. I would ike to see the question of a museum aken up in London." Dr. Woolverten - has in his office a very interesting and quaint old case f canes, and crooked sticks. They were finished by the late Jonah Wiliams, who made them in his evenings. He worked in McClary's, and the case is mounted with old iron from stoves and ranges. It is quite unique. TO VISIT QUEBEC

> authorized, Says Secretary Peter Brady.

London, May 17. - The resolution of protest against the nomination of Walter H. Page as United States ambassador to Great Britain, was introduced by W. Coffey, a member of the transfer of the Tondon executive committee of the London Trades Council, on the strength of letter written on paper bearing the let terhead of the Allied Trades Council of Greater New York, and signed Chas. L. Conway, secretary of the National Brotherhood of Bookbinders.

After describing Walter H. Page as a member of the firm of Doubleday, Page & Co. the letter says: "This concern is bitterly opposed to organized labor. The only department that forced recognition from the union standpoint was the bookbinders, but they are now on strike, being forced out, as the policy of the firm is to replace men with boys.

The letter also says that the International Typographical Union, Local No. 6, continues the firm on the 'unfair" list, and that the men who had been asked to take the strikers' places rebelled and struck without the aid of any organization. The letter concludes by asking all "the organized labor of the United Kingdom to assist us in giving this matter the widest publicity, and also to file a protest to our Government on its selection and a protest to your own Government for its acceptance of this man.'

ARE OUTLAWS.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 17. — The International Brotherhood of Bookbinders is an "outlaw organization," expelled two years ago from the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, according o Peter J. Brady, secretary of the Alied Printing Trades Council of Greater New York. It has been repudiated, he said, by the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Brady announced today that he proposed to write letters to President Wilson and Ambassador Page explaining that Conway's communication was unauthorized either by the printing trades council or by the International $340 in missionary giving, and of about Brotherhood of Bookbinders, and that would also so inform the London

Commercial Traveller's Property Carried Off by Thives at Depot.

Believing that he is one of the vicims of an organized gang of thieves operating on the railroad trains passing through this city, a well-known commercial traveller, the representative of a large implement house in this eity, has notified the local police of the theft of a valise and raincoat from the platform of the Grand Trunk station Friday evening.

The gentleman states that he had ust alighted from train No. 16 from the west, and meeting a friend he set his valise down on the platform beside him and placed his raincoat on while he engaged in conversation. He did not take his eyes from it for more than half a minute, but when he turned to pick it up it had disppeared, along with the raincoat. The valise contained a number of documents of value to the owner, but so far the police have no trace of the person who is alleged to have committed the theft.

Makes Fast Time.

A right-of-way for the car was se ured by Superintendent Davidson and the car was put in operation, the party making a smooth and fast journey over the six miles. The speed was varying from a few miles an hour to forty and fifty miles an hour. One thing notice able was that there was no buzzing sound like the overhead trolleys, and the en gine worked like a charm with practically no vibration. It can be stopped from full speed in three times its length. Mr. Duffield and Supt. Davidson were much impressed with the trial. They both considered that the car was practicable and that its operation was conomical. It is possible that an effort will be ado to have a test of the car over the London and Port Stanley road. That the purfection of the self-propelled car places a serious barrier in the way of electrification of the London and Port Stanley Pailway is generally admitted even by the advocates of the scheme. The cost of the electrical equipment, exclusive of cars and locomotives, is figured in the Reck report at $129,000, and the sub station about $50,000. This would mean expected to be ready about the first a saving of $179,000, and there would of next week and work will be pro- also be a great saving in the cost of of the demonstrators.
