Liberal Leader Will Adhere to Intention To Run in N. York

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Denies Report That He Was To Abandon Contest in That Constituency — Expects All Kinds of Rumors To Be Circulated During Campaign — Fight Will Be a Three-Cornered One.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—The rumor that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, will abandon North York and run in some other seat at the coming general election, has brought forth a statement from Mr. King himself. "It is a natural thing to expect all kinds of rumors on the eve of general elections," said Mr. King this morning. "As to where or how this particular rumor originated, I am completely in the dark. No doubt, if the rumor could be traced to its source, it would be found that the 'wish is father to the thought.' Certainly I have made no such intimation to anyone, nor do I imagine that anything of the kind has been suggested by the Liberals of North York."

Mr. King is opposed in North York, by J. H. Burnaby, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, who has declined to retire in the Liberal leader's favor. The sitting member is J. A. M. Armstrong, a Conservative, who will probably run again in a three-cornered fight. Mr. King was nominated on the Liberal ticket over a year ago. In past days the seat was held by Hon. William Mulock and Sir Allen Aylesworth, Liberals.

LONDON LABOR TO HAVE CANDIDATE IN GENERAL ELECTION

No Official Action, However, Has As Yet Been Taken.

TO MEET DURING MONTH

Selection of Candidate Will Probably Be Made Definitely Then.

Labour will contest London at the coming general election. The Advertiser was definitely assured today. Although three different names have already been mentioned in certain quarters as prospective candidates, none of these have actually been approached, as an official backing can be had for the various statements that have been made recently.

As would be anticipated the Labor executive and others prominent in the movement know to a fair degree of detail the candidates who are likely to be put forward, providing that the latter is both willing and able to consider the nomination, but until a meeting is held some time this month, nothing can, however, be accepted as official.

Platform Prepared.

In preparation for the federal contest, all trades and labor organizations affiliated with the Dominion Labor Party have received from the general secretary the platform of the party as passed in session at the recent congress in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Among the various planks suggested for the approval of the different bodies are: "State insurance against unemployment; public ownership of the means of production of public utilities; removal of taxation on the necessities of life; taxation of the profits of business; abolition of fiscal legislation which tends to class privileges and a capital levy for the reduction of the war debt."

TEMPORARY WORKING PERMITS RECALLED

Attendance Officer Will Exchange Them For Regular Forms.

Attendance Officer George S. Wolf announced this morning that the eight applicants of this city to whom temporary home permits and employment certificates under the adolescent school attendance act were issued prior to receipt of printed forms from the department of education at Toronto must present themselves at his office at once and receive regulation forms.

BRITISH CRUISERS AT MONTREAL WILL REMAIN TEN DAYS

Plans Under Way For Entertainment of 2,000 of Ships' Crews.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Four cruisers of the British North Pacific squadron, the H. M. S. Calcutta, Raleigh, Constance and Cambria, arrived in the port of Montreal this morning for a stay of ten days and with the vessels of the Canadian squadron, which are not expected to sail before Thursday, will bring the total of warships in the local harbor to seven. Plans for the entertainment of the British visitors, who will number altogether about 120 officers and over 2,000 men, have not been completed, but will probably be similar in nature to those for the men of the Canadian fleet.

STAKING OUT OF FAR GROUNDS PROVES BIG JOB

All Available Space Has Already Been Taken Up by Exhibitors.

WILL MAKE A RECORD

Everything Nearing Readiness for First Full Eight Days Show.

Staking out the old fair grounds for the biggest Western Fair in the history of London occupied the attention of Secretary A. M. Hunt so closely this morning that he had no time to spare about the new features and attractions for this year's exhibition. But the way Mr. Hunt had to exert his mathematical abilities and call into use all the geometry and trigonometry he ever learned, in order to squeeze in some of the concessionaires and outside exhibitors this year, suggested the still bigger problem of where the fair visitors are going to stand, and what will happen if a crowd tries to move two ways at once.

Every inch of available space has been provided for the machinery exhibits by the removal of the sheep and swine sheds over to the western extension of the grounds in the concessionaires' and outside exhibitors' area. But even with all the extra space available Secretary Hunt had to cut down the space wired for by a big tractor company this morning.

Can Take No More.

"Do you want any more entries?" somebody asked the secretary. "If you can tell me what to do with them," was the reply. "Ald. John H. Saunders was wired yesterday to take no more entries in the equine classes. This he has done. Mr. Saunders left the Toronto Exhibition, where he spent last week, so Mr. Saunders left the Toronto and has on hand this morning to help the other members of the committee in all lines already entered.

Both concessions are heavily in debt. Continued on Page Three.

"CHECK" OF RURAL MAIL SERVICE IS NOT A NEW THING

Two Surveys Made During Last Year—No Action Followed.

MAY EXTEND THE WORK

Possibility That Ottawa Will Investigate Local Delivery Service.

Although the postal authorities at Ottawa have ordered a Dominion-wide survey of the rural mail service, it is learned that this is not actually a new venture on their part. D. J. Maclean in charge of the local affairs of the department, advises that two such reviews or "checks" were made in 1920, one in February, and another in October. It is such information will be gathered as to the rural mail routes of the district, and these will be forwarded to Ottawa as requested.

A dispatch from Toronto announces that a similar survey is being made with relation to the other branches of the post office service, such as city mail and the amount of postage stamps sold, etc., so as to get it into the actual income service. At this moment, however, although the instructions as to the rural "check" have been received and acted upon, no mention has been made as to whether local delivery, etc. be made as requested.

It is felt that the appeal for increased remuneration from the rural mail carriers has prompted this close consideration of the extent of the postoffice business in the country. During the last session of Parliament the proposal to accede to the requests of these employees was opened for discussion, but nothing definite was accomplished one way or the other before the House adjourned.

The mail-carriers, however, recently announced that the question had not been dropped by them and that they would continue their efforts. It is thought improbable that Ottawa is collecting all the data in order to meet the demand. Demand on Saturday last by the Federated Association of Letter-Carriers in session at Montreal that a 20 per cent increase on present salaries be granted has created the belief also that Ottawa will "check up" the city offices in a similar manner.

ALL EYES TURNED TOWARD INVERNESS FOR THIS WEEK

London, Sept. 6.—Canadian Press Cable.—Inverness in Northern Scotland, which is all this time of the year, is preparing for a record influx of visitors to the center of the Empire when the premier will spend there. An appreciable proportion of the Scotch population will be on hand to welcome the cabinet ministers when they arrive on Wednesday, and every conceivable kind of a conveyance has already been requisitioned for the purpose of transporting travellers.

THE MURRELL BOYS' HOME

In this, the old McArthur homestead in Manor Park, live the father, mother, brothers and sisters of Sidney and Whit Murrell, who escaped from the county jail on Friday. Here the two bandits lived until the morning in April when they left it to go to Melbourne to rob the Home Bank branch there. They were returned that day, for they were captured in a Melbourne house after a gun battle, in which Russell Campbell, a Melbourne boy, was killed. This picture was taken under difficulty, a crowd of Manor Park "toughs" trying to hinder the work of the photographer.

Drinking Fountains In Public Schools a Source of Danger

Sanitary Inspector R. H. Saunders Condemns Metal Rings Around Water-Wash Basins in Schools, But No Towels Supplied—Advises Use of Garbage Cans As an Educative Measure—Buildings Better Than Those of Separate Schools.

R. H. Saunders, sanitary inspector of the board of health, is conducting an inspection of the city schools, and in his report to be submitted at the next meeting of the board of health will make several recommendations for the improvement of conditions at these institutions.

Inspector Saunders has inspected ten public schools and states that their general condition so far surpasses that of the separate schools, all of which have the water-wash basins, which he attributes to the fact that the majority of the city separate schools are older structures than public buildings, although ventilation systems of a modern type have been installed in all separate schools of the city.

Wash Basins—No Towels. He will recommend to the board of education that the water-wash basins in each public school for the use of pupils. These have been placed in separate schools, but are absent in public schools, although wash basins have been installed for the kiddies. The inspector points out that they are dropped by them and their clothes after washing, which does not make their respective mothers any happier on seeing their children in such a state.

Particular attention must be paid to water supply, drainage, ventilation, lighting, heating, and the suitability of grounds, number and accommodation of rooms, blackboards, windows, blinds, and places for washing of slates, average number of girls and boys, and the site for the building. The recommendations must be indicated on the inspection report, and the pupils this feature must be indicated. Inspector Saunders was accompanied on his inspection by separate schools of London by Rev. Father Brisson, secretary of the separate school board.

EXPERT SAYS BARS OF JAIL WINDOW WERE CUT FROM THE OUTSIDE--NOT BY MURRELLS

MRS. MURRELL SAYS SHE KNEW NOTHING CONCERNING ESCAPE

Mother of Missing Prisoners On Way Home From Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The Star today publishes an account of an interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Murrell, mother of Sydney and William Murrell, who broke jail at London last week while being held there awaiting trial on murder charges. With Mrs. Murrell is Mrs. Ada Edmundson, a friend of Sydney Murrell. The mother says that Sydney Murrell was in the London jail a week ago last Saturday, while Mrs. Edmundson declares that the last time she saw Sydney Murrell was on August 19, also in the jail at London.

Mrs. Murrell says: "I know nothing about the escape. The first time I saw that they had got away was on Saturday morning, when I read it in the paper."

"No, you heard from them since?" "No, not a line."

"Were you ever in their cell?" "No, when I called on them I had to stand outside the cell door and speak to them through a hole in the door. All the stuff I brought them I handed to the turnkey."

"Why did you come to Toronto?" "Nothing to fear. The police know where I am. The Toronto police have interviewed me."

"Did you think your boys should have tried to get away?" "No, the last time I spoke to them I told them to face the music."

The two reporters with Edmundson explained her friendship for Sydney Murrell and the Murrell family to the mother of Sydney Murrell when he was a boy, 16, overseas in the Moore Barracks Hospital at Folkestone. He was injured, and after that I never saw him again till I spoke to him in the cells at London."

"How did you come to meet them again?" "I lost track of them until they were arrested after the holdup at Melburne. Then I wrote to Mrs. Murrell and was invited to London."

"The London police claim you were in London the day the boys escaped." "That is not so and I know nothing of the release of the boys."

Mrs. Murrell told the reporter she had ten children.

Both women said they were going back to London this afternoon.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE MARKS PASSING OF MARGARET E. STANLEY

Nurses' Alumnae Form Guard of Honor From Residence to Church.

Singing of "Peace, Perfect Peace," by the large congregation of citizens assembled at the Church of St. John the Evangelist at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon was a characteristic moment in the funeral service of the late Miss Margaret Stanley, who for the past fifteen years had been an outstanding figure in the nursing profession of the city. The service was held at the residence of the late Mrs. Stanley, 54 Wellington street, and later in the afternoon Rev. William Lowe conducted the service at the family burial ground, St. John's churchyard, Arva, where interment was made.

The Ontario Graduate Nurses' Association was represented at the funeral by Miss Potts, superintendent of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto; Miss Matheson, of the Isolation Hospital, Toronto; and Miss Fagley, superintendent of the General Hospital, Hamilton.

There were also present Mrs. T. E. Stanley and E. Stanley of Chicago, and Mrs. E. Stanley of Toronto, all of whom are relatives of the deceased.

The large attendance at the funeral and the quantity of floral tributes sent from individuals and organizations of prominence testify to the influence of the late Mrs. Stanley in the community, and the vacancy which her death has created.

BOLSHEVIKI WILL EXPEL FOREIGNERS FROM ARMY

Riga, Sept. 6.—By a decree of the Russian Soviet Government, Russian courts and the checks, or Bolsheviki, are authorized to expel from the Russian army any foreigner for activities and conduct inconsistent with the principles and honor of life of the labor state, says a dispatch from Moscow by the Rosta News Agency, the official news disseminator.

Additional Seriousness Added To Features of Escape by Announcement—Manor Park Residents Ask For Additional Police Protection—Inspector Dunlop Has Not Yet Reached City For Investigation of the Escape.

That Sydney and William Murrell did not make exclusive use of the small saw that was found in their cell subsequent to their recent escape, and furthermore the party who accomplished the most of the sawing was not the prisoners, but some person outside their window, is the firm contention of the expert on iron and steel structural work, who inspected their handiwork at the county jail today.

OUTSIDE HELP EVIDENT.

From his thorough inspection of the sawn bars, the latter is convinced that a longer saw with much coarser teeth must necessarily have been used. He contends further that the biggest portion of the project must have been done from the yard. Whether this unknown person was given access to the jail premises for two or three nights or whether he was sufficiently clever to get in alone without aid is, of course, an open question. His real difficulty admittedly would be gaining entrance over the wall. His retirement was made comparatively easy with the handy ladders that were being used by the carpenters.

Dublin, Sept. 6.—Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, in a statement to the press today declared the British imperialist statement as trying to sell Ireland second rate political margerme and is angry "because Irishmen refuse to accept the better label." WORKERS SEIZE OFFICES

Cork, Sept. 6.—Representatives of the Transport Workers' Union this morning took possession of the offices of the harbor board, owing to refusal of the board to raise the minimum wage of 70 shillings a week, and the red flag was floating from the building at midday.

The transport men propose to run the business themselves, and pay the wage demanded, but are encountering the opposition of the harbor board. A majority of the members of the harbor board are Irish Republicans, but the Irish Republican cabinet's labor ministry has been unable to effect a settlement.
