ST. GEORGE'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

London Junction, built by the united effort of the congregation under the helpful guidance of St. Andrew's Church, as the successor to an early mission house, which was totally destroyed by fire.

FAITH OF MEMBERS BROUGHT NEW CHURCH

St. George's Presbyterian Congregation Determined To Carry On Work.

DISASTROUS FIRE

Present Structure Result of Efforts of East London Residents.

St. George's Presbyterian Church, East London, is one of several city congregations which received an early baptism of fire.

Disaster materialized in March of 1896, when the little mission house, erected by great labor and perseverance on the part of an untiring few, was totally destroyed by fire.

The early history of the congregation is replete with the earnest endeavor which characterized all pioneer Presbyterianism in Canada.

In June of 1888, the Rev. W. M. Rogers, then pastor of King Street Presbyterian Church, took steps to organize a prayer meeting in the vicinity of Pottersburg. A room in the dwelling house of Mr. William Goforth was secured, and here the Sabbath School was opened on July 15 of the same year.

Those appointed in charge of this first branching-out were Elder James Gordon and Moses Hutchinson.

At the commencement of the following year a meeting of Presbyterian residents of the district was held and it was agreed that steps should be taken toward the erection of a small hall, which would provide adequate quarters for Sunday School and worship. The committee authorized to carry out this arrangement included the following: I. Gordon, I. Isaac, G. James, Dougall McDougall, David Clark, W. S. Goforth, I. A. Stewart and George Cairncross.

A site was secured by lease from D. Girvin, and a subscription list opened. In a very short time, the sum of three hundred dollars was at the disposal of the committee.

With this amount, material was purchased, and almost every one in the neighboring district turned out to assist in furthering the work of erecting the mission.

Building Completed.
 Building was completed by March 1 of the following year under the supervision of James Gordon and A. B. Campbell.

In the new structure, evening services were held every Sabbath, and a flourishing Sunday school was soon under way. It had grown to a weekly attendance of between sixty and seventy persons, when the church was destroyed by fire.

Just three days after the fire, a meeting of the managers of the mission was held, at the home of George Cairncross.

Mrs. Helen Armstrong, Detroit, is spending her vacation with former schoolmates in town.

Miss Stella Kenning of Markham was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Albert Lewis, for the past two weeks.

Miss Grace McCallum of the Molsons Bank is relieving as teller in the Highgate branch for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Cochrane and daughter Anna visited with relatives and friends at Watford during the reunion there last week.

Mrs. Maslin of Port Chester, N. Y., is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McKishie, West Town Line.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stidwell and family and Mrs. Werner and family, Detroit, were week-end visitors in Dutton and Wallacestown.

Mr. J. R. Gow and daughter, Miss Minnie, are in Toronto where Mr. Gow is attending the Ontario Municipal Association.

Mrs. Pease and nephew, Buffalo, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Black, St. Thomas, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Black.

Mrs. Frank Wilson has returned to her home in St. Thomas, and Mrs. Roy Cook and children have returned to their home in Hensall, after holidaying with their mother, Mrs. Fanny Hoddier.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Routledge and Miss Ida Routledge of Zurich were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Routledge.

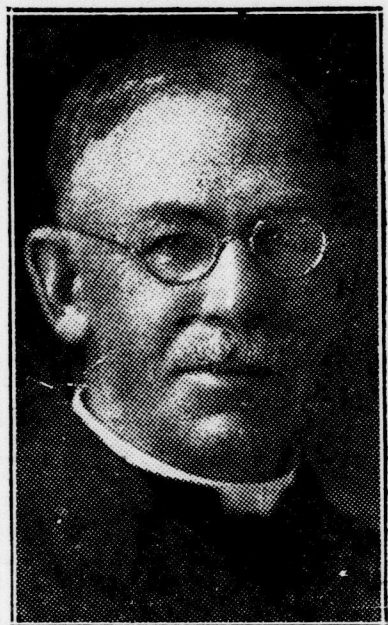

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rivers and Miss Jean Rose of Exeter, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Collier of Rochester, N. Y., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Routledge.

The farmers of Dunwich Township are reaping the biggest harvest that has occurred in more than a decade, and in the course of a week the farmers in this district will have finished their threshing.

Wm. Welsh, who resides north of the village, had an average oat yield of over 71 bushels to the acre, and numerous farmers around Wallacestown had yields averaging 60 bushels to the acre.

The crop of beans in Dunwich alone will be more than double that harvested in the past few years.

Considerable tobacco is being grown in this vicinity this year.

Cairncross. At this meeting, the following were present: John Isaac, John Stewart, John Slater, Mr. Cairncross and Wm. S. Goforth, a brother of the well-known Presbyterian missionary, Rev. Jonathan Goforth.

From a fire insurance policy, the sum of $450 was received, and this money served as the foundation of a new building campaign. A public meeting of East London residents was held to consider the question of building. S. P. Glass was appointed chairman of the meeting, and the project of replacing the mission with another building was enthusiastically endorsed.

A decision was also reached to transfer the oversight of the mission from King Street Church to St. Andrew's Church. The managers of the mission and ladies of the congregation were appointed to solicit subscriptions to the rebuilding fund.

Born of the enthusiasm of this meeting was the decision to establish a self-supporting congregation and church, rather than a mission.
