LOST AGAIN TO OTTAWA

Keenan's Krew Trowned
9 to 4 in Last Game
of Series

Ottawa, July 2.—The champion Ottawas gave Berlin another lashing this afternoon, when they hammered Bramble all over the park. The final score was 9 to 4. Berlin got two runs in the third, but Ottawa followed with a brace. In the sixth Ottawa made safe by registering four in a row, and in the eighth they added three more. They had no difficulty in solving the slants of Bramble, who was an enigma yesterday, until banished from the game. Smykal played in brilliant form, his triple sending in two runs. Rogers, Bullock, Shagnessy and Bullock also had big days with the ball. Lill held the visitors to six hits in all, and three were secured in the last inning, when Joe Keenan's team tallied twice after two were down. Rogers drove out one of the longest hits of the season, but fast fielding by Dinsmore and Beltz held him at third. Lill kept the Dutchmen frozen to the bags, while the Ottawas took all kinds of chances on McAvoy and Bramble. There was a lot of snappy work on both sides. This makes six out of seven from Berlin, and leaves Ottawa firmly entrenched in second position. The score:

Brantford, July 2.—Eight bases on balls with seven errors and eight hits, tallied eight runs for St. Thomas here today, and the Saints won. The Red Sox pounded Reilly, the Brantford cast-off, for thirteen hits, but he was given splendid support, and held the Red Sox to four runs. Burrill's homer featured. Halligan was off color in his work.

HAMILTON DEFEATED GUELPH.

Guelph, July 2.—The Maple Leafs went down to defeat at the hands of the Hamilton Kolls again this afternoon by a score of 9 to 6, thus dropping three out of four to them. Both teams used two pitchers, the Hamiltons getting to Bickers in the first inning for four runs. He was replaced by Stark, who was a decided improvement. Doughty did well for five innings, but Lee wanted to make the game safe and put in Donohue in the sixth. He allowed two more runs, but they were not enough. Schaefer's two home runs featured the game. Score—

TAILENDERS A FINE SPRING- BOARD FOR CLIMBING SENATORS

The best the tailenders could accomplish at Ottawa was to finish a fine springboard for the climbing Senators, and it landed them in second place. Keenan's Krew dropped six of the seven games of the series making the record to date on the road, three wins and seven losses. Senators Manager Keenan still expects to have his club out of the last division by the time the team returns home on July 10th. It will take some ball playing to get out of the cellar position by that date.

Of course the sport writer on our local coten will attribute yesterday's 9 to 4 trouncing to hard luck, and to the fact that the team did not get the "breaks". The team has been losing a certain number of games by hard luck but its not hard luck all the time that has been making Keenan's Krew a losing proposition. It's lack of hitting ability that is losing more games than its inability to get the "breaks".

The scene shifts to Guelph today where three games will be staged with the Leafs who are now in third place, thanks to Berlin's loss of the games at Ottawa. After the series with the Leafs, the locals will meet Lee's outfit at Hamilton on Monday. Tomorrow and Wednesday next week, and will return home for three games with Brantford on Thursday.

The season is now about half way

It is true that human habitations could never be formed in such climates as these, but the scientific world is ever eager for the discoveries of explorers, and even among uninhabited districts there exists a tract of unexplored country nearly five times as large as Great Britain. It stretches from Mecca almost to the southeast coast and is called Dahkna, or "The Dwelling of the Void." Probably no more desolate waste is to be found in the globe, for not a single river is estimated to flow throughout its entire length. There are many lakes, many and many a river or stream will gain some idea of the parched condition of Dahkna. The Sahara is a blissful retreat by comparison.

Some authorities state that the whole desert is not worth the price of a good moccasin cane. Others give credence to the legend that treasures and hidden cities lie in the heart of the sands.

Of quite a different character are the enormous mountain fastnesses of South America, which lie along the upper Amazon and in the districts of Colombia and Peru. The estimated treasure of Cuzco lies secreted among the Peruvian heights. Impenetrable forests, mountain jungles and innumerable fierce spreading rivers hold the most intrepid adventurers at bay, to say nothing of caribbeus ants, malignant snakes, water moccasins and those most deadly of serpents, anacondas. During recent years over a dozen expeditions have been either wholly or partially wiped out in their efforts to wrestle with these regions.

Although the famous El Dorado, which set the sixteenth century ablaze, has never been unearthed, the country generally might fittingly be called El Dorado, from the rich minerals and priceless stones emanating therefrom.

AREAS WRAPPED IN MYSTERY.

"The Dwelling of the Void" in Arabia is supposed to be the Most Desolate Waste on the Globe—New Guinea Has Baffled Countless Expeditions.

It would seem as though this little world of ours should be pretty thoroughly known by this time, yet there are many unexplored territories which have yet to receive the impress of a human foot and which doubtless, like the north and south polar regions, will take their toll of heroic victims from the hardy explorers who first enter their closed portals.

On a rough estimate about 7,000,000 square miles, or one-eighth of the total land surface of the world, are waiting to be discovered. Some 200,000 square miles of this lie in the arctic regions of the north, but among the frozen tracts that form "antarctic" in the south, where Scott and his gallant followers were penetrating, nearly 3,000,000 square miles are relegated to the sole use of whales, seals, penguins, petrels and other animal and bird inhabitants of frozen homes.

The foregoing selection does not exhaust by any means the list of geographical blanks waiting to be filled. Before the atlas complete can lie on our shelves we must penetrate the darker haunts of Borneo, North America, the Kongo basin, the 700 mile mountain range that stretches from Der Fur into the heart of Sahara and numerous other spaces.—London Answers.

BOTTLE BROKERS.

A Curious Branch of the Fiery Vodka Traffic in Russia.

Since the edict of June 6, 1894, the production and sale of vodka, that fiery drink in which most Russians delight, have been controlled by the government. Of the 50,000 places engaged in the vodka traffic in European Russia, more than one-half are conducted by the state under the direct supervision of the ministry of finance.

Most of the employees in the government vodka shops are widows and orphans of deceased officials of the state. These shops are conducted in an orderly manner, and no drinking is permitted on the premises. The fact that a charge ranging from 1 cent to 9 cents is made for the bottle in which the vodka is sold has given rise to a strange business.

Bottle brokers, as they are called, haunt the neighborhood of the vodka shops, watching for some thirsty person who needs the loan of one or two kopecks (a half a cent or a cent) with which to make the purchase of a bottle of the desired beverage.

Perhaps the buyer has but six kopecks and he requires eight to get a bottle of vodka. The "broker" lends him the two kopecks to make up the desired amount, and, after the receipt has been drained under the vigilant eye of the broker, the bottle is turned over to him. He takes it back to the shop and sells it for three kopecks, thus making a profit of one kopeck.

In Moscow and St. Petersburg hundreds of men are earning a living at this strange trade.—Harper's Weekly.

INVESTING YOUR MONEY.

It is Not a Wise Plan to Put All Your Eggs in One Basket.

The late Marshall Field once said that if he could be right 51 per cent of the time he was satisfied. He was talking of investments, and the Field estate at the time of his death totaled some $43,000,000.

Shrewd as Russell Sage was, his executors found many worthless stocks in his vaults, although they found plenty of others that were not worthless.

The Sages and the Fields long ago adopted the plan of the insurance companies and the banks, says Investments. The one point in it that should be drilled into our ears thoroughly is that wide distribution is both wise and necessary.

No matter how small the sum, it should not all be invested in any one thing. No single venture of whatever nature can be relied upon to remain constant and unchanged. Securities are live things because the enterprises they represent are alive.

London Children and the Country.

The bishop of Stepney was telling stories recently about the inability of the London slum child to appreciate the country. "Would you like to live here always?" he asked a girl on a school treat, and she answered, "No; It would be dull." He took a party of children for a treat to Hampton court last spring. There was blue sky overhead, with a blaze of color in the flower borders. He thought the children were enjoying it, but presently one of them asked, "When are we going to get there?" and inquiry revealed that he
