WELLINGTON AND FRONT-STREETS EAST,

JUST A CASE OF PLAIN HO3."

tended Leasehold of Island Property.

"It is just a case of plain hog." That was how Ald. Stewart referred to the proposition of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club placed before the Property Commits."

Club placed before the Property Commits. Club placed before the Property Committee yesterday afternoon by President Boswell and Secretary Harman.

tee yesterday afternoon by President Boswell and Secretary Harman.

The city has applied to the Government for the patent of all the Island water lots; the Yacht Club leases from the Government S1 acres of water lots; the club also leases 10 acres of land from the city, the lease of which runs out in seven years.

The Royal Canadian Yacht Club pays the city $50 a year for these 10 acres, and it is naturally afraid that when the lease expires the city will raise the rent. Now that the question of patent lots has arisen the club is auxious to use it as a means to the desired end, and commissioned its president and secretary to wait upon the Property Committee.

In effect this was ex-Mayor Boswell's proposition: Let the city renew our lease for the 10 acres for 21 years at the present rental—$50 per annum—and in return we will not oppose their efforts to obtain from the Government the patent for the water lots.

The proposal created much surarise among the committee. Ald Hubbard was among the commi the city, the lease of which runs out in seven years.

In effect this was ex-Mayor Boswell's proposition: Let the city renew our lease for the 10 acres for 21 years at the present rental-$50 per annum—and in return we will not oppose their efforts to obtain from the Government the patent for the water lots.

The proposal created much surprise among the committee. Ald. Hubbard was the first to speak. He said: "This suggestion that we renew the lease for 21 years at the same rental is something that I did not expect, even from Mr. Boswell. I know—many people in Toronto who would be willing to pay 10 times the rental."

Ald Stewart referred to the proposal

Finally, on the suggestion of Ald.

his strong language, and a sub-committee, composed of Chairman Crawford, Ald.
Frankland, Hubbard, Thompson and Foster, was appointed to meet the club directors to-morrow at the City Hall and dispuss the subject.

THE LAW AGAINST THE LADY. Mrs. Munroe Loses Her Suit For Alimony at

David Munroe won the suit instituted against him by his wife in the Civil Assize Court yesterday. The weman claimed that after her husband discoverclaimed that after her husband discovered her living with Milkman J. C. Kilston he agreement she was to receive $40 a month. This amount had not been paid her and she sued for the alimony. The agreement, which was produced, showed, however, that the $40 a month was conditional upon her leading a chaste life, and Munroe proved at the trial yesterday that since the deed of separation was drawn up she had been guilty of adultery. Mrs. Munroe's suit was therefore dismissed with costs. Since the separation from her husband the plaintiff has resided at Embro. The couple formerly resided at 47 Harbord-street, this city.

CATVING TOOLS

A few weeks ago the son of John Faris of the Scotch settlement, near Barrie, while seated in school had a cherry pit shot into his ear by a boy behind him. The local doctors were unable to extract the stone, and the lad was brought to Toronto yesterday, where a specialist removed it.

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 27.—A bold robbery was committed in the Union Depot shortly after midnight this morning. Clerk Zant turned from the window a few moments to do some figuring. When he went to pick up his stacks of bills to make some change after a sale of a ticket the found that out of $500 only $10 remained. The money was on a shelf in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and mostly small ones.

Ald Stewart referred to the proposal in the words quoted above. He did not think the committee had any right to deal with the matter at all. H such a thing were done for the R.C.Y.C., all the Island leaseholders would be entitled to the same treatment.

Secretary Harman said that the club was under the impression it was assisting the city, which remark caused the aldermen to laugh.

President Boswell objected to the insinuations of Ald. Stewart. "It is only a question," said he, "whether we shall oppose the action of the city in endeavoring to obtain the lots,"

"You seek to coerce us with a threat," interrupted Ald. Stewart.

Continuing, Mr. Boswell referred to the improvements that the club had made on the property and asked what the aldermen meant by talking about the increased value. "You must not consider its present condition," said he, "you must you must you have to condition," said he, "you must you have to condition," said he, "you must you have to condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have to consider its present condition," said he, "you must you have you hav

TRUTH ABOUT THE UNVARNISHED CICANTIC SALE OF $67,000.00 WORTH OF CLOTHING.

LL summer, and while the majority of people were enjoying the cool breezes of the seashore, the Army & Navy staff were talking and planning and working-the heads of departments in our several stores were in frequent consultation with the directors of the company. All our thoughts, energies and ambitions were centred upon the manufacture of a stock of Fall Clothing which would be in touch with the stupendous proportions which the trade of our three great stores demanded. Buyers from the great Army & Navy stores visited every important cloth centre in the civilized world, with the result that thousands of dollars worth of the products, the finest weaves, the most "Recherche" designs in Fall Suitings and Overcoatings, were confined exclusively to the Army & Navy stores. There's immense capital behind this concern and in some cases we have been prevailed upon to take the ENTIRE OUTPUT OF SEVERAL mills. Bale upon bale, box upon box have been opened—day-time and night-time we worked and toiled—while the city was shrouded in the gloom of night; or perchance while the silver moon of a summer's night shed its pale rays on the deserted streets, the great Army & Navy staff are marking and ticketing the thousands of pieces of cloth from far across the sea. You know it's the truth, you know that the Immense Proportions of this business suggest buying on a colossal scale. Where else, we ask, would the public look expecting to find the largest, the most complete stock?

"It's like a mouse defying a lion---for the other fellows to set up similar claims." We make more clothing than their stores could hold.

YOU KNOW IT! EVERYBODY KNOWS IT! THE WORLD KNOWS IT!

But with all our ability, With all our great capital, With all our energies, and manufactured "Too Much." That's the whole secret of it. There's $67,000.00 worth of First-class Clothing distributed in our three stores, aside from our regular stock, which we consider far beyond the demands of fall business requirements. The directors of the Army & Navy Co., Limited, have given their ULTIMATUM, and this immense stock of clothing must be moved before the cold winds of a Canadian winter set in. It mean thousands of dollars loss to the company, thousands of dollars benefit to the public at large. The edict has gone forth. Cut! Slash! Tear! Rip! Maul! Bruise! the regular prices on every garment in our three greaf stores until there's such an awakening of clothing buyers as the city, the Province, the Dominion has never seen before. Every garment must go-and not stay upon the order of their going-"but must go at once."
