

WISE WORDS.

"God delights in true, earnest thinkers."—Dwight.

"Thought is the property of those only who can entertain it."—Emerson.

"If you intend to do a mean thing leave it off until to-morrow; if you intend to do a noble thing do it now."—Dr. Guthrie.

"Catholicism is the strength of Romanism, but Romanism is the weakness of Catholicism."—Schaff.

Napoleon said, to take the true measure of an enemy was the divine part of war.

"You are a minister just in so far as you are a man."—Graham Taylor.

"The way to wealth depends on two words, industry and frugality, i.e., waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both."—Ben. Franklin.

"Art is the application of knowledge to a practical end."—Sir John Herschell.

"Better be in shame now than at the Day of Judgment."—Mahomet.

"Let an independent thinker show a fearless fidelity to his convictions and the shafts of bigotry and envy fall helpless and harmless at his feet."

"True liberty consists only in the power of doing what we ought to will, and in not being constrained to do what we ought not to will."—Jonathan Edwards.

"Count that day lost whose low, descending sun Sees at thy hand no worthy action done."

"What! rest, ease here! in the ministry or in Christian work! There is no rest here. Now is the time for battle, for work! Heaven will be our rest. Now is the time for steady, prudent, arduous, unflinching effort."—D. L. Moody.