

CITY MUST PROVIDE SEWAGE OUTLET
To Prevent Outlying Districts Contaminating Sanitary System.
ANNEXATION PROBLEMS
Ald. May Says Outside Property Owners Should Confer Among Themselves.

"Now that Toronto has adopted a comprehensive policy of annexation it is well to give consideration to conditions bearing upon enlargement of the area of the city," said Ald. May yesterday.

"A dominating fact is that populous districts are rapidly spreading beyond our northeastern and northwestern borders, and in defence of our sanitary system there must be proper sewerage provided in the near future. Necessarily it is in our interests to have those sewers conform to our system, and that works out to an extension of our system. We would not permit those northern districts to contaminate the waters of the Don and the Humber with sewage, as the contamination would extend to the bay and the lake.

"Those districts will eventually put it up to us to provide them with a sewage outlet. They now form part of the area in which North Toronto has a central position, and we must take care of North Toronto sewerage in the near future. In the meantime we should keep tab on sanitary conditions in the outlying districts. Imperfect sewerage and the use of well water invite an epidemic of contagious disease that might overrun the city.

Extend System.
"Another pregnant fact is that we cannot shut out those districts from getting a water supply from the lake. This undoubtedly means the extension of our water mains beyond the northeastern and northwestern borders. Were a strong north wind to combine with a fire under good headway in the populous and unprotected districts beyond our northeastern and northwestern borders, the flames might easily spread to within the city limits and cause our citizens a loss amounting to many thousands of dollars. Furthermore, a water supply is essential to a sewerage system.

"Another feature of the annexation issue is that while our city develops populous districts immediately beyond our borders, speculators will persist in investing a few thousands in getting radial franchises there, and compel the city to eventually expend many thousands in buying out the franchisees.

Three Great Factors.
"Those are the three great factors in the annexation issue," Ald. May said. "We cannot avoid giving them more and more serious consideration. They are here to stay. We have tackled the situation by adopting a policy of making the property benefited pay for local improvements. We should systematically go into the matter of the reasonable obligations of the city and the outlying populous districts to each other, and endeavor to establish a harmonious understanding as to what measures should be adopted in the safeguarding of mutual interests.

"On our part we have now adopted a sewerage plan which can be applied to all of the proposed metropolitan area. We have also solved the problem of a pure water supply for that area. We have also adopted a policy under which annexation would be automatic.

Up to Property Owners.
"In all reason, now, the property owners of the outlying districts should confer among themselves upon their obligations to the city. It is unreasonable to put the city in the position of the party who has to do all the planning, all the talking, all the legislation-getting, and bear the bulk of the expense in keeping up with the rapid growth of Greater Toronto," Ald. May declared.

SAY CITY SHOULD NOT LOAN BUILDING
Delegation Protests Against Russellites Using Horticultural Hall.
A petition was received by the city yesterday protesting against the building in the horticultural grounds "to a body of people calling themselves by various names, but which in all cases may be identified with one who is accepted as their leader, known as one Pastor Charles T. Russell."

The petition further states: "This building is now occupied by a body of this man's followers, largely aliens from the United States, who call themselves 'The International Bible Students' Association, a most deceiving and misleading name, which has visited the office of Parks Commissioner Chambers, but the commissioner refused to see them.

When seen later Commissioner Chambers stated that the Russellites had obtained permission to use the building at the exhibition grounds from the board of control and that he was not going to interfere in the matter.

O. D. CASSELMAN IN THE RUNNING
Will Contest Dundas Convention Whenever A. Broder, M.P., Retires.
OTTAWA, July 23. (Special.)—O. D. Casselman, an ex-president of the Conservative Association of Dundas County, and a leading merchant of Chesterville, in that constituency will contest the convention against all comers, whenever A. Broder, M.P., retires. The story that Mr. Charles McLean of Brockville, son-in-law of the late Senator Palfrey, and a former Liberal, had been offered the Conservative nomination, is vehemently denied by leading city workers at Morrisburg, Winchester and Chesterville. It is further intimated that Mr. Casselman will have the approval, both of Mr. Broder, M.P., and Sir James Whitney, the high political circles here. It is said Mr. Broder, M.P., was slated for the chairmanship of the highway commission, which measure was defeated in the senate last session. Mr. Broder, by the way, was first elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1875, and first came to the house of commons in 1886.

MILLIONAIRES AT THOUSAND ISLANDS.
KINGSTON, July 24. (Special.)—The tourist traffic is now at its highest point down among the Thousand Islands. At Clayton there is an overflow of visitors. There are now in the railway yards of the New York Central, three private cars belonging to men whose wealth aggregates nearly a hundred million dollars. The owners are spending the summer or a few weeks in it, enjoying the charms of the Thousand-Island region.

Cities in the Making

CITIES in the making take two imaginations and a large pocket book. One man has to look at vacant ground with grass on it, sometimes with a dump pile and tin cans on it, and he has to see it laid out in well paved streets.

His imagination and his pocketbook are necessary. Then comes your imagination. You have to see the city moving out that way. You have to see the people coming out here for more room and air. You have to see this territory filled up with new, fine homes.

And you have to see that all of this offers a great opportunity for you.

The time has passed when cities, like Topsy, "just grow." Now they are made to grow, and their growth is faster and healthier.

There is no element of chance in buying real estate. It is bound to increase in value. For people make real estate values.

Better investigate these properties. Turn to the Real Estate Advertising in the Want Ad section.
