—The Y. M. C. A. Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo Club shows great enterprise in bringing to the city Mr. C. Robin Piercy, one of the best entertainers before the public. The following is an extract from the Hamilton Spectator: "Mr. C. Robin Piercy, who has been a first-class ventriloquist and a good mimic, has a fine voice, that is capable of the most varied modifications. His imitations of a village quartet and a village concert were excellent and were heartily applauded."

—James Wilson, who was sentenced to three years in Kingston for theft and housebreaking by Police Magistrate Parke a few days ago, is a worse "bird" than he looks. On the way to Kingston with the Detective Ward, he stopped over at Toronto for a short time. While there Wilson confessed to Detective Slemin, of the Toronto force, that he had stolen two watches and a diamond ring at Toronto a short time ago. Wilson named the pawnshop at which one of the watches and the ring were disposed of. The other watch, he said, he had sold in a dive.

"WITH FIRE AND SWORD IN THE SOUDAN."

FEAST OF MUSIC.

The first of a series of twilight organ recitals was given in the Dundas Center Church on Saturday afternoon by Mr. W. H. Hewlett, organist, assisted by Mr. J. Coates Lockhart, tenor. This event had been looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by the music-loving public. Some 400 persons were in attendance and the programme well merited the large gathering. Both performers were enthusiastically applauded. Mr. Hewlett showed himself to be an artist in fingering the ivory keys, and his rendition of the most difficult parts was perfect. Mr. Lockhart's numbers gave him ample scope for his rich tenor voice. The next recital of the series will be given on Saturday, Dec. 24.

CHOIR CHANGES.

Changes and resignations in connection with the leadership of several city choirs have recently occurred. Mr. R. Pococke has retired from the direction of the Wellington Street Methodist Church. Mr. W. C. Barron has tendered his resignation as organist of First Presbyterian Church, among the reasons, it is understood, being the increasing demands on his time of his widely-known London Conservatory of Music. Mr. and Mrs. H. Ruthven MacDonald have severed their connection with Colborne Street Methodist Church, and accepted the oversight of the praise service in Wellington Street Methodist Church. Mr. Fred Harvey has resigned the position of organist of Centennial Methodist Church. First Methodist loses a fine singer in Mrs. Harvey, who goes to New York.

ARNOTT-McCLARY.

The Waterloo correspondent of the Berlin News says: Married, on Thanksgiving Day, at the Church of the Holy Saviour (Anglican), Waterloo, by the Rev. Carl S. Smith, Miss Jessie M. McClary, daughter of the late Mr. Charles McClary, London, and sister of Mrs. R. J. M. Webb, Waterloo, to Dr. Henry G. Arnott, of Marlette, Mich. The hour of wedding was high noon, when the bride, looking most charming and becomingly attired in white satin, leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. R. W. Paddock, of London, entered the church, while the deep strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Puddicombe, dressed in a pale green silk, with a picture hat, looked indeed sweet. The groom was supported by his brother, Dr. David H. Arnott. The church was fittingly decorated with flowers, and the choir rendered in a finished style a number of hymns during the interesting service. Miss Bean acted as organist. After the service the party partook of a wedding breakfast at the residence of Mr. R. J. M. Webb, King street, and the happy couple left for the west, and will reside in Marlette, Mich. The guests present were: Dr. and Mrs. Arnott, parents of the groom, and Dr. David H. Arnott, London; Mr. R. B. and Mrs. Puddicombe, and Miss Puddicombe, New Hamburg; Mr. James Gilmour, M.P., and Mrs. Gilmour, Nilestown; Rev. and Mrs. Carl S. Smith, Berlin; Rev. and Mrs. John McNair, Waterloo.

EXONERATED THE ENGINEER

Mr. W. H. Bartram's Charges Considered by the Board of Works.

Motion That There Be Only One Foreman in Ward Two Defeated—Ratepayers Object to Paying for Storm-Water Sewers.

The board of works met Saturday afternoon, and listened patiently, but not always seriously to the reasons set forth by Mr. W. H. Bartram for the dismissal of City Engineer Graydon and Foreman Hea, of West London. The engineer was unanimously indorsed and Mr. Hea's work approved of, but the latter's discharge was seriously considered on the ground that the distinction of two foremen was one that ward two should not enjoy. The minority, however, held their view.

Ald. Douglass presided, and the other members present were Ald. Dreaney, Carrothers, Cooper, Mayor Wilson and Engineer Graydon and Secretary Bell. Mr. M. Graydon appeared as the engineer's solicitor, and Mr. Bartram pressed his charge in person. Foreman Hea was also present.

The charges were taken up separately, and resulted in some bantering. Some interesting side issues were also introduced.

In answer to the first charge, the engineer admitted that he indorsed Mr. Hea's action, and proved to the satisfaction of the committee that Mr. Hea had not been brought from Ingersoll to work on the corporation here.

Ald. Cooper elicited that Mr. Hea had been appointed by the engineer. Continuing, Mr. Bartram spoke in support of his statements that Foreman Hea had given away gravel which belonged to the corporation, to a private citizen; that the sidewalk on the north side of Dundas street, from Wilson avenue to Kensington bridge, was laid on an improper foundation; that an obstruction to the highway was allowed to exist in a private walk in front of Mrs. Allanby's; that a gravel crossing had been wrongly constructed on Cavendish street, stopping up the ditches, and causing the street to be out of repair; that the repairs to the breakwater has been ineffective.

The engineer, assistant engineer and foreman gave evidence in rebuttal of the charges.

By way of an illustration of what he termed Mr. Hea's lack of judgment, Mr. Bartram said he had noted the foreman the other day cleaning the auger-holes in the Kensington bridge with a pick-axe. Damaging the floor of the bridge, he said—a walking-stick would have been better.

The engineer—Yes, Hea! You must go around with a pick-axe. Get a silk hat and a walking-stick.

(Laughter.)

Mr. Bartram made the committee good day, and the committee unanimously exonerated the engineer and his staff.

Ald. Cooper then moved to dispense with the services of Mr. Hea as foreman, in his opinion, sufficient.

Ald. Douglass and Dreaney protested. The motion was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Ald. Cooper and Carrothers.

Nays—Ald. Dreaney, Douglass and the mayor.

Mr. John Christie represented several ratepayers who petitioned for a tile sewer on Waterloo street, who objected to being charged for a storm water sewer also.

The engineer said he had added the charge for the storm water sewer on the advice of the city solicitor.

Tenders for the work with and without the extra sewer will be advertised for. It was also decided, on motion of Alderman Carrothers, to recommend the council to have the two sewers put down in all such cases.

The engineer will report as to the exact number of new street signs needed.

Ald. Joly's motion, re artificial stone walks, was laid over until the next meeting. Ald. Dreaney said if it passed there would be lots of streets in his ward would never get a sidewalk.

The best way to avoid sickness is to keep yourself healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

Romano and Lost Springs are towns in Kansas. The population of each is about 200 people. Neither town has an idle man or boy or unoccupied house. Neither has a saloon, and dogs are unknown.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters', and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents a bottle, every bottle guaranteed, at any drug store.

PRICE $2.00.

BACONIAN'S BRANCHING OUT

Series of Public Lectures Proposed—Inter-Club Debates Suggested—President Vining Gives His Inaugural Address.

There was an interesting meeting of the Baconian Club on Saturday evening. The newly-elected president, Mr. Jared Vining, B.A., delivered his inaugural address, in the course of which he suggested that a series of public lectures, given under the auspices of the Baconian Club, by professors from the leading Canadian universities, would greatly extend the club's usefulness in the community.

Later the executive committee was instructed to learn on what terms lecturers could be brought here, and also to learn if arrangements could be made for public debates between the Baconian Club and similar organizations in other cities.
