Call Upon The Army To Stand By Government

Workmen, Peasants' and Soldiers' Organization Loyal

The Russian Situation

Premier Kerensky Declares General Lokomsky A Traitor—Measures to Defeat Korniloff—The Cossacks Firm

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The text of a communication of the workmen's and soldiers' and peasants' organizations to the army at the front, to the naval committee and the army generally, in which all are urged to rally round them, not only the mass of soldiers, but those in command of the army in support of the provisional government, says:—

"General Korniloff, having put himself at the head of a military counter-revolutionary conspiracy, has moved troops toward Petrograd. His purpose is the deposition of the provisional government and the seizure of its powers. The troops directed to Petrograd have been deceived into believing that they are sent to crush a conspiracy of the Maximalists, which is non-existent in reality."

The communication then tells of Korniloff's dismissal and declares him a traitor, and adds:—"The problem of the provisional government is to maintain the army committee to maintain the provisional government, to frustrate the criminal designs of General Korniloff and to apply all measures to prevent his conspiracy from reflecting itself disastrously on the stability of the front."

The message concludes with a request that none of the orders of Korniloff shall be carried out, or of "those traitors who have adhered themselves to him."

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press).—Premier Kerensky yesterday issued a proclamation addressed to the army, the fleet and the nation and also to the committees of the army at the front outlining the attempted coup of General Korniloff, through V. N. Lvoff, and the measures that had been taken as a result. Regarding General Lokomsky, the premier said that he also provided a traitor. He refused to carry out the provisional government's order to assume command of the army in view of General Korniloff's dismissal. Indicating to the provisional government the possibility of civil war on the front, the opening up of the front to the Germans and the conclusion of a separate peace.

"The government is in full agreement with the executive of the workmen's and soldiers' deputies for taking measures for the crushing of the counter-revolutionary plot instituted by the traitors to their fatherland."

After announcing the dismissal of Korniloff and stating that he would be punished for treachery, the proclamation adds:—"Against Korniloff's attempts to direct individual military detachments to Petrograd, most decisive measures have been taken."

Premier Kerensky yesterday received a deputation of Cossacks and other troops who said they considered it their patriotic duty to prevent civil war and to lend their support in the conflict between M. Kerensky and Korniloff. With views of a deputation will leave for army headquarters, having reached an agreement with M. Kerensky.

IRISH FRATERNIZATION ASTONISHES BELFAST

Excellent Effect is Produced by the Convention's Visit to the Ulster Capital

(New York Times).

Belfast, Sept. 7.—The visit of the Irish Convention to Belfast, where it has just been holding a three days' session, accompanied with some experience of northern hospitality and enterprise, marks a stage in its progress which has been a great success in every sense.

The southern delegates who have seen Belfast for the first time this week have been entertained by the lord mayor, the harbor board, and eminent private citizens. They have been taken to factories and shipyards and technical schools. They have had for their sittings the magnificent city hall. All this has impressed them. It is a process of education as to the conditions of their own country which perhaps was necessary for these representative men, often too localized in their experience, and it is at any rate a good preparation for the work they have to do. They are to hold a session in Cork in a week or two, when the south of Ireland will have an opportunity of completing the process.

It may be added that the visit of the convention has also made an impression on Belfast. Crowds gathered at the city hall every day to watch these men from all parts of Ireland arriving and leaving. One would wonder what must have been the queer mental exercises those rolling on inside the worthy Orange masters witnessing his grand masters and civic fathers colloquing with Catholic Bishops and Nationalist M. P.s; or those of the Catholic stalwarts from Falls Road on beholding the men of fraternalism.

The one figure hailed with spontaneous and partial respect and greeted with each appearance with a general cheer J. J. John Redmond.

It is this to the good both for the cause of feeling inside the city and that in the country outside it. To produce such an atmosphere is a necessary piece of work, and the convention is to be congratulated upon its success in this line so far. But too much must not be expected from mere atmosphere; the more difficult part of the convention's task now approaches—that of working out in detail a scheme upon which settlement may be secured and which may be relied upon to work.

A correspondent writing in a Catholic paper takes the view that if the convention should fail to find a settlement, it would be better that it had not met. This is a view widely held.

"Success," he writes, "will mean the creation of a new Ireland; failure will be a catastrophe. The convention has the good will of the whole country without political distinction."

THE POLITICAL SANTA CLAUS

(Financial Post).

It is election eve and the political Santa Claus is abroad in the land. With his pack filled with wharves that will actually float, government buildings which may really be occupied, and telephones which positively carry the human voice, the good party St. Nicholas is bestowing right and left his lavish gifts. Not only are they for the politically good children, but for those who promise to be politically good—in this respect the real Santa of Christmas who rewards past good conduct, is a hard-hearted old curmudgeon by comparison with the free-handed bestower of election day.

And for election days of the future there are prospects that for the good children who carefully obey the master

Michaelis To Go?

Another Chancellor Crisis in Germany Looked For—He Was Last Minute Choice

London, Sept. 11.—(Montreal Gazette cable).—The Times Amsterdam correspondent says there are many indications that another chancellor crisis is approaching in Germany, since the pan-Germans will not tolerate Michaelis unless he consents to represent their policy. It is said they have another man in view, at present undisclosed, but it is not impossible that it is Von Tirpitz, whose name has often been mentioned for this office.

Copenhagen, Sept. 11.—The choice of Dr. Michaelis as imperial chancellor, according to related revelations by the Socialist organ Vorwarts of Berlin, was due to a hasty decision by Emperor William, who originally had another candidate in view and had not even considered Dr. Michaelis until three hours before his appointment.

Jewish New Year

Rosh-Hashanah to Be Celebrated Within a Few Days

The Jewish people will, on Sunday evening, September 16, enter their houses of worship, to usher in their Rosh Hashanah, or New Year, 5678, which marks the beginning of the cycle of sacred observances held during the month of Tishri, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar. While every new moon, in ancient times, was greeted by the sounds of the shofar (trumpet), the seventh month or new moon, coming after six months of work in the field, was welcomed with religious exercises as a month of rest and recreation by the agricultural inhabitants of Palestine. (Numbers X, 10).

The Jewish New Year is known by different names, and each expresses something of its spiritual significance. Numbers XXIX, 1 designates it as "The Day of Blowing the Trumpet (Shofar)." New Year occurs in the autumn, when the falling leaf and fading flower turns the human mind to serious reflection, and sounds the admonitory message: "Awake and ponder your deeds; remember your Creator, return to Him in penitence, be not of those who reach out after shadows, and waste years seeking vain things which cannot profit or deliver. Look well to your souls and consider your acts; forsake each of you his evil ways and thoughts and return to God, that He may have mercy upon you."

Rosh Hashanah is also known as The Day of Memorial, The Day of Judgment, of self-examination. Tradition tells us that on this day the Ruler of Life weighs the doings of man, and allots to each his destiny, as it were, for the coming year, and to renew our trust in Him; a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not tremble? (Amos, III, 6) "For the Lord is our judge; the Lord is our law-giver; the Lord is our king; He will save us."

Its message to man is threefold (1) to contemplate all experiences of the year—joyful and sorrowful—in the light of discipline, by the ruler of human destiny, and to renew our trust in Him; (2) to scrutinize our conduct, conscious that God, the Just Judge of the world, searches the heart, and to consecrate the new year to a nobler life; (3) and to look upon the life story of Israel as of one's self in the light of God's revelations on Sinai, Moriah and Zion.

Special music and prayers mark the observance of the feast, which though solemn is nevertheless replete with the spirit of joy and optimism. While Orthodox Jews devote two days, Reform Judaism observes only one day.
