Mandates Commission of League of Nations Hears Report

ARABS PEACEFUL

Number of Unemployed Does Not Exceed Normal Propor-tion, It Is Said

By HENRY WOOD

CUnited Press Correspondent)

GENEVA, July 21—As foretold in the old Biblical prophecies, Palestine is again beginning to blossom like a rose, according to declarations made to the League of Nations' Mandates Commission by delegations of the Jewish National Council of Palestine.

The latter organization works with the International Zionist Organization in the effort to establish a Jewish National home in Palestine under the auspices of the mandate now held by the British Government.

According to the statistics submitted to the League's Mandates Commission, 100,000 Jews, at least one-third of them in easy circumstances financially, have returned to Palestine during the past six years that the country has been re-opened fully to Jewish immigration under the Mandates system.

POPULATION IS 160,000

This now brings the total Jewish population of Palestine up to 160,000, which is about eighteen per cent of the total population of the country.

The number of unemployed, it is declared does not proportion in countries of immigration.

Some of the progress made it is asserted is almost in the same category as that of the "boom" days of the far west in the United States.

The city of Tel-Aviv, laid out in 1909, now has 45,000 inhabitants. Situated in the heart of the Judea settlements and near the port of Jaffa, it gives every indication of becoming the industrial, commercial, financial and cultural centre of all the Jewish communities of the district.

From the standpoint of agricultural colonization, the Jews now own nine per cent. of the cultivatable land of the country. Over one hundred agricultural villages have been established with a rural population of 25,000.

The principal agricultural products are cereals, oranges, wines and other alcoholic beverages, almonds, olives, poultry, produce and vegetables.

TOBACCO CULTIVATED

Tobacco cultivation is one of the new fields of industry that helds.

Tobacco cultivation is one of the new fields of industry that holds out great promises of future development. Other leading industries include textiles, building material, clothing and the production of essences.

In the past six years over $50,000,000 has been collected from private sources and expended in the various Jewish colonization organizations of Palestine. This sum was used principally in the purchase of land, and for the establishment of industries, education and public health services.

A complete system of public schools is now working in all the various cities and villages in which instruction is given in the Hebrew tongue. There are some 26,000 pupils and the annual budget for education is nearly $1,000,000. This is covered by the Zionist organization and by school taxes paid by the population.

The work of immigration and colonization has now reached such proportions that the Jewish National Council has appealed to the League's Mandates Commission to have it continued with the active collaboration of the Mandatory power.

AT PEACE WITH ARABS

It is insisted that the Jewish population is now living on the most peaceful terms with the Arabs, especially as the latter see in the former a great source of revenue. The Jews are now purchasing land from the Arabs at fair prices while the payment of good wages to native workmen by the various Jewish employers has tended to increase immensely the good relations existing between the two people.

The usual practice of English underwriters is to attach a rider to the policy calling the attention of the assured to the fact that the carriage of goods by Sea act requires consignees to give written notice of damage to the ship-owners at the time of taking delivery of the goods, or, if the loss or damage is not apparent within three days of such removal. Some consignees, however, are very lax in carrying out this procedure, but, under the proposed German clause, any failure in this respect will relieve the underwriter from liability.

Smouldering Ruins of Inn Hold Bodies of Trapped Guests

The smouldering ruins of Twilight Inn, a summer resort in the Catskills near Kingston, N. Y., are believed to hold the charred bodies of guests who were unable to escape when fire destroyed the building. The heat from many tons of coal burning in the basement has prevented searchers from completing their work. The photo shows firemen trying desperately to prevenut the spread of the tragic fire, which caused the death of nearly a score of vacationists, to neighboring woods and houses.
