Macbeth To Sing Abroad

FLORENCE MACBETH.

A $2000-mile trip to sing the songs is the penalty for a lightly spoken promise given by Florence Macbeth, famous beauty of the Chicago Opera Company, two years ago.

A couple of years ago, in Paris, a well-known European impresario, chatting with several of his contemporaries, remarked in the prima donna's hearing: "Macbeth will sing at any time for me," to which Macbeth justly responded: "Anywhere in the world at any time."

And what does the impresario do but select London—from whence she has declined many tempting offers during recent years—in a time when her services are demanded most by the concert managers of her own country.

The impresario will give three nights every 45 seconds. Alfred Spence of Tyner's Point is kept of the lighthouse.

ECUMENICAL MEET EXPECTED IN 1928

Will be First Since 1869 and Twentieth in Catholic Church History.

ROME, Sept. 17.—In Vatican circles, it is now considered certain that the Pope will convocate an ecumenical council, or world conference of the Catholic church, during 1928, which is expected to be the largest in history.

The last ecumenical council was held in 1869, under Pope Pius IX. There have since been several councils in the history of the Catholic church, the first being at Nicaea, in Asia Minor, in 325. The last one ended in July 1910 and was not completed, due to the Franco-Prussian war.

Quinine —Or— A Topcoat

The virile males without topcoats one sees striding down town some deceptive sold mornings too often limp home to hot mustard baths and quinine in the evening.

Inside of one of our topcoats they would be snug and warm against the advance skirmishes of Winter. And yet so light in weight are these coats that when the weather laughs with a warm day they could carry them comfortably on their arms and turn the laugh back on the sun.
