SUDDEN DEATH

Of Charles Ingersoll, a Cousin of the Famous Robert Ingersoll.

Bridgetown, Sept. 28.—Quite a deep gloom has been cast over the town by the sudden death of Charles In-gersoll of 4,566 Massachusetts place, Boston, who fell dead while standing on the steps of the Grand Central hotel, about 7 p. m. today. Mr. Ingersoll was about 60 years of age and was married to a daughter of Whetlock Payson of this town, and came down here on a short visit every Seppember during the last few years. The deceased was a cousin of the fa-mous Robert Ingersoll, but was himself a Methodist. He attended the Methodist church last evening at Providence, and joined with considerable fervor in the singing of the national anthem, which the choir rendered in honor of the length of

HORN-FLY VS. POTATO BUG.

The horn-fly like the potato bug has come to stay. Intelligent farmers do not smear the potato leaves with filthy greasy mixtures to keep off the bugs, no, they use something to kill them, so with the horn-fly, the sensible up-to-date farmer does not cover his cattle with kerosene or axle grease, because he knows these things will not kill a single fly while they taint the milk and injure the health of the animal, but they do use Shives' Insect Powder which kills the flies and is harmless to the animals. Be sure you get from your merchant or druggist genuine Shives' Powder, it is cheap and sure. It kills the flies every

R. G. DUN'S HEAD MAN DEAD.

New York, Sept. 28.—Arthur J. King. the executive head of the firm of R. G. Dun & Co., is dead. Mr. King died from heart failure, indirectly occasioned by dropsy. He was seventy years of age and had been connected with the firm of R. G. Dun & Co. for forty-seven years.

FLOWING ON FOR EVER.

There is said to have been a man once who for the first time in his life set out to see the world. He came at length to the bank of a wite river. To continue his journey he must cross it. There was no boat, no bridge. He did not miss them, however, being unfamiliar with the ways of great bodies of water. He simply seated himself on the shore and vaited patiently for the river to flow by, that the might walk over dry ground.

"If I wait unt ! I have nothing to do before I put on my things and go out for an airing," said a lady the other day, "I shall never go at all. So I break loose occasionally and let work want till I come back. But not often, for I'm uneasy lest something should go wrong while I'm away."

That's just it. Woman's work is never done. It is a niver that never i-ws by. And most women, faithful souls! will not leave it. Hence, we get letters like these;

"In the early part of 1980, ' says one, "I felt tired, languid, and weary, as if all life and energy had oozed out Allien-Calhoun-in St. John, on Sept. 23rd, by Rev. W. H. Stewart, Abel Allen, of St. John and Annie L. Calhoun of Bayer Brook, Albert Co. N. B. CORNFIELD-THOMPSON.—At the residence of the bride's father, Duke street, west, on Sept. 21st, by the Rev. W. H. Sampson, Andrew L. Cornfield to M. Lillan, youngest daughter of Shankin II became weak and reduced. I like a walking ghost. I was four Thompson, Eag., of the C. P. R. of me. I as very pale and my hands and feet were cold. My appetite was poor and after meals I had fulness at the chest and fluttering and palpitation of the heart. Then I became weak and reduced. I was like a walking ghost, I was four years for me, but I got no better. They said my blood was thin and poor. Finally, I bought a bottle of Mother Seigel's Syrup and it cured me. That is nine years ago now, and I have been in good health ever since. (Signed) Mrs. Emma Rickard, Lanjeth, St. Stephen's,

Cornwall, March 6th, 1893." "In July, 1885," says another, "I was taken ill. At first I merely felt tired, languid, and weary. My mouth tasted badly, I had no appetite, and after eating I had pain in the chest and palpitation of the heart, also pain at the stomacn and between the shoulders. Often I would have giddy sells, as if I should fall to the ground. Then came a frightful pain at the heart, and a choking sensation as if something were lodged in my throat. My breath came short and quick, and I was so nervous all sorts of medicines, but nothing did me any good. Three years I suffered thus, and then one day a neighbor gave me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Syrup. In a few days I felt better, and when the Syrup was gone my complaint was gone too. (Signed) Mrs. Amelia Leyland, 73 Spencer's Road, Heeley, Sheffield, Feb. 10th, 1893." "For the last ten years," says another, "I suffered from severe indigestion and torpid liver. My appetite was poor, and after eating my chest felt raw and sore. I was never easy until I had thrown up my food. Some days I was quite prostrate. I had great pain and lifting at the heart, and lost a deal of sleep at night. I saw a doctor from time to time, but he was not able to relieve me. In May, 1892, I first read of Mother Siegel's Curative Syrup. After I had taken it for a few days my food began to relish and digest, and I didn't vomit any more. I was cured, and since then I have kept in good health by taking an occasional dose whenever I felt the need of it. (Signed) Mrs. Martha Benyon, Brocton, near Shrewsbury, Feb. 23rd, We could go on quoting letters of this kind all day. They all tell the same story-illness and suffering with happier times following the use of the remedy mentioned by these three ladies. Incessant work and abundant worry produce indigestion and dyspepsia, and yet work they must as long as they can stand. Do husbands and brothers always appreciate this? We fear not. They don't mean to be brutal, but they don't think; that's the whole of it - they don't think. Now let these men think to keep the house always supplied with this medioine. It will help the woman to do the work that is never done-to cross the niver that flows for ever. Besides, consider the saving of money, time, and suffering. And then, too, best of all, the bright faces and pleasant voices of the women at home
