GOOD FRIDAY.

Self is the only prison that can ever bind the soul; Love is the only angel that can bid the gates unroll; And when He comes to call, arise and follow fast; His way may lead through darkness, but it leads to light at last.

APRON AND HOME-COOKING SALE. A successful pantry sale and sale of useful and fancy aprons was held at the Crystal Creamery, Charlotte street, yesterday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Carmarthen Street Methodist Church.

INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT. The pupils of the primary grade of the German street Baptist Sabbath School gave a very interesting twilight recital yesterday afternoon in aid of the mission fund of the church.

All winds do not blow in March, April can do its share in the way of storms too. But against any blizzards we would be safe in a coat like this. Notice the new belt effect.

ROTHESAY RED CROSS. It has been the custom of the Rothersey Red Cross Circle to hold a sale in connection with each of their regular meetings. At the last meeting which was the Easter one, they realized the handsome sum of $80.

SOLDIERS' WIVES' LEAGUE MEETING.

Reports from the regimental committee took up most of the time at the Soldiers' Wives' League meeting yesterday afternoon in the St. Andrew's church parlors. These reports are most interesting to the league, showing how the visitors bring cheer and the comfort of sympathy to many homes.

Y. W. C. A. DOWN IN TEXAS.

The late General Funston, in an interview regarding the special work the National board planned to do in these border cities, said that the army could work with the soldiers, but that something else must provide social life which would allow the fine men to meet the girls in the right way.

The same general plans are followed in El Paso. The Young Woman's Christian Association, the Woman's Club and the D. A. B. working together, were recently able to check a plan to start a dance hall which threatened temptation to the young people of that city, and the association is therefore most eager that this league shall be the right kind of substitute for girls all through the city.

Seven clubs organized in the first week have been added to by enthusiastic ones which soon competed for first place in members, in activities and in enthusiasm. Girls from candy factories, girls from the downtown Young Women's Christian Association cafeteria, girls occasionally visiting the building, are all coming through club membership into the association.

Not content with swimming pool and gymnasium, one earnest group stirred by the reports of occasional border raids, is becoming proficient in first aid and home nursing, and another is turning its attention to the study of citizenship and the responsibility which a girl interested in her city should feel for it.

Woman's Club in Douglas.

In Douglas, Ariz., no Young Women's Christian Association had been established, but through the efforts of many of its people and through their feeling of responsibility for the girl "who had nothing planned for her," a Young Woman's Club is now being started. It is already overflowing its modest quarters which must as yet remain in the small but only available building in that busy and crowded city.

For the girls who are in school, for those at work in the stores or in the many small shops, for the teachers and the nurses in the army hospitals, for the matrons and the girl employed in her kitchen—for all of these the club exists. Its first announcement declares that the Young Women's Club throws open its doors to every girl and woman of the city who wishes to become a member.

"The mission of the club is to be a house of friendship, to be a place with the latch string on the outside. Come as often as you will—a cordial welcome awaits you." Alone, these girls would have found it hard or impossible to meet this special situation. Through the national board, the three centers, remote from one another, are pursuing similar plans for their united aim.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste products from the blood, then we get sick. Nausea, all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

that of instilling in the girls and young women the high ideals and richness of life of Christian young womanhood, or, as General Funston put it, "giving them moral backbone and dignity."

"The Girl With the Smile" is Peggy Hyland. There are many movie fans who have wondered over the little lass who has recently come to stardom—she has become known as "The Girl with the Smile."

In fact the other day a letter arrived at the Vitagraph studios addressed to "The Girl with the Smile," "The Girl with the Smile," Brooklyn, New York." Inside of five minutes it was delivered to Miss Hyland with the rest of her mail.

Miss Josephine Stevens, ingenue actress, daughter of the late "Ben" D. Stevens, formerly well known as manager for Messrs. Klaw & Wrangell and in charge of the tours of Richard Mansfield for years, is engaged to Edward Ellis, actor. Announcement of the engagement was made by her mother.

The romance began on Nantucket Island last summer, when Miss Stevens was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilliard. It was in Mr. Hilliard's company in "The Argyle

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

UNIQUE.

The Count—The Fraud—The Reporter. The Count, a Chaplin picture, a repeat, but one of his very funniest. I had the pleasure of taking someone who enjoyed the fun audibly and of sitting in front of someone who said "I think it is a pity Chaplin does not wear better clothes." Altogether I enjoyed that picture though I had laughed at it before.

The Little Fraud is Mary Fuller in a Universal drama in which Mary masquerades as a boy and has several adventures. Personally, I think the man was rather a stupid not to guess it was a masquerade, but then where would the story have been. As for Grant, Police Reporter, this is always sensational and contains at least one daring feat. This week's episode is called "The Violet Ray" and is just as good as all the others. To see the Kangaroo in the Pathe colored nature picture one might imagine oneself in Australia, where I imagine them leaping about the continent in the style. This is a very good week-end programme.

LYRIC.

Pearl of the Army, Christie Comedy. I have been trying to trace the silent menace by his hands and I think I know that the hands are the hands of—No, I won't tell just yet if you have not guessed for yourself. Perhaps they are just trying to fool us. It has been done before. There are plenty of things happening in this number and Pearl has some of her dangerous deeds to perform, like being thrown out of a tower window, catching on a ledge and crawling back up to the window, she also knocks down a few men in almost a Grace Cunard way, and she looks so gentle when she sits down to think, too!

However, you never can tell. I must say I hardly think such things as happened at night would take place in a hospital tent unless the rules are very different from our own army. So disturbing to the patients all this excitement would be.

The American army, or part of it, and many views of President Wilson were the timely subjects of the Mutual Weekly.

One of the best comedians I have seen for a long time is at the Lyric. A Christie one called "What's Sauce for the Goose." It deals with the fascination some eastern cuts have for foolish women and how the husband (Neal Burns) cured his wife (Betty Compton) of her belief in "Swami," who taught the cult of the beautiful at so much per hour and the need of meditation (his name for health refreshments). "Swami" consists of a sketch entitled "Who's Boss" by Mr. Lawrence Gordon and company. It was bright and seemed to go with a swing.

Answer to "Interested." There does not seem to be much probability of "Snow-white" being repeated in St. John.

A contract has been executed by which the film activities of William A. Brady, will be devoted to World-Pictures Brady-Made, for at least another year, from next month.

House Peters has developed a remarkable fickleness in the matter of co-stars. In "As Men Love" he appeared with Myrtle Stedman, then in his next picture, "The Lonesome Chap" with Louise Huff, and now it is announced that Kathryn Williams is to appear with him in his next Paramount picture.

Vivian Martin, upon the completion of "The Spirit of Romance" at the Pallas studio, followed the example of Louise Huff, packed her fourteen or fifteen trunks and departed for Hollywood where she will begin work with Jack Pickford on their first co-starring vehicle.
