FOUR NEW DETECTIVE NOVELS BRISTLING WITH THRILLS

PRICE 5s. NET EACH

THE ROGUES' SYNDICATE

By FRANK FROEST and GEORGE DILNOT

Authors of "The Grell Mystery," "The Crime Club," etc.

The Times.—"A capital detective story by collaborators who have already given proof of ability, both singly and together. The details are worked out with a professional knowledge which invests the story with an air of reality beyond the common, and all the honours rest with the police."

BEHIND THE BOLTED DOOR

By ARTHUR E. McFARLANE

Action, surprises, queer clues, and especially originality, and scientific interest make this story of how a wealthy woman was found murdered in her bath, with every entrance bolted from the inside, one of the best mystery novels of the year.

THE BLIND MAN'S EYES

By WILLIAM MACHARG

As the plot is unfolded the situations become more and more dramatic, and the interest quickens until the engrossed reader reaches the final exciting chapters. It is a thriller, and no mistake.

THE SECRET SERVICE MAN

By GEORGE DILNOT

Joint author of "The Rogues' Syndicate," "The Grell Mystery," etc.

Mr. Dilnot has written the kind of story that will make you sit up late and forget everything else.
