REMAINS OF SIR OLIVER MO-WAT LAID AT REST.

esmen. Senators. Members Parliament, Representatives of the Bench, the Bar, the Church, the Press, and Thousands of the Citizens of Ontario and Leading Men From Sister Provinces Follow the Casket.

Toronto, April 23. — The fun-eral of the late Sir Oliver Mowat yesterday afternoon was a surpassing popular tribute of reverence and sympathy.

The doors of Government House were opened for the funeral service at twenty minutes before two. At once a long line of visitors streamed through the gates. They were directthrough the gates. They were directed in single file before the casket, which still remained uncovered. The room was banked on the south side with the many floral tributes, which lent a heavy incense to the atmosphere. The family and relatives were grouped at the head of the bier. The north side was a mass of ferns and palms. At 2 o'clock Major Maude entered, carrying the magnificent wreath of liles of the valley which he was commissioned by Lord and Lady Minto to personally place by the remains of their distinguished departed friend. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the members of his Cabinet who were present, Licutenant-Governor Jette of Quebec, and Premier Ross and all the members of his Government arrived shortly before 2 o'clock, and paid a momentary visit to the drawing-room. The honorary pall-bearers and the pall-bearere also assembled. Meantime those who had arrived waited in the spacious corridor and on the grand stairway. The many paintings which decorated the arrived watted in the spacetous. The many paintings which decorated the walls were draped in crepe, interspersed with white. The blinds were drawn, and a subdued light fell from the with white. The blinds were drawn, and a subdued light fell from the electric bulbs.

At 2.10 the officiating clergymen entered, and Rev. Alfred Gandier opened the service with prayer.

Rev. Principal Caven paid a touching tribute to the memory of the deceased The procession from the drawing-room to the hearse was then formed, the honorary pall-bearers filing out in pairs as follows:—Hon. Geo. W. Ross and Hon. J. M. Gibson, Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice Moss, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir William Mulock and Senator Cox. The casket followed, then came the mourners, the Cabinet, and other distinguished friends. A stream of carriages wheeled up to the door in turn, carrying away their occupants to their assigned places in the procession.

The scene on the streets at that moment, which was not yet 3 o'clock, was most impressive. Standing in relief, and above all else, was the brilliant troop of Royal Canadian Dragoons, in their white helmets and scarlet tunics, set against a background of dark clothing and the wall of St. Andrew's Church. The streets in every direction for several blocks were filled with carriages and citizens our foot. Col. Grasett, the marshal, galloped hither direction for several blocks were filled with carriages and citizens on foot. Col. Grasett, the marshal, galloped hither and thither, and almost instantly the procession commenced to move. The bands played "The Dead March, in Saul," the carriages and people on foot moved off with a slow swing. A solid mass of humanity, in many cases six rows deep, filled either sidewalk, while from the windows there were hundreds of interested spectators. The bands varied their airs to other sacred bands varied their airs to other sacred music, and heads were bared as the casket, simple and unadorned even by flowers, was carried forward. The clos-ed stores, the draped windows, the casket, simple and unadorned even by flowers, was carried forward. The closed stores, the draped windows, the half-masted flags, were all evidences of popular sympathy. The procession took about forty minutes to pass a given point, and reached Mount Pleasant at 4.30, having occupied an hour and a half in completing the journey by way of King and Yonge streets.

At the grave the same solemnity and simplicity which marked the services af Government House was observed. Rev. Alfred Gandier read a portion of Scripture and led in prayer. The people joined in fepeating the Lord's prayer, and then the benediction closed the services. The six members of the Caithness Society who acted as pall-bearers lowered the coffin into the grave.

The family burying-ground is located in plot W, and Sir Oliver is buried north of and close beside the grave in which his wife was laid ten years ago. It was a plain grave, completely lined with evergreens.

The chief mourners were:—Sons—Mr. Fred Mowat, Sheriff of Toronto, and Mr. Arthur Mowat, Sons-in-law—C. R. W. Birgar, K.C. and Thomas

BASEBALL

Of Miller's two innings pitching on Monday the Toronto Globe says:—
"Miller, the left hander from Chatham, replaced McNeil in the eighth and gave three bases on balls in the two innings he pitched and struck out three men. His arm was sore and he did not attempt to let out. Miller showed fine form and the indications are that he will be given a regular place on the staff."

The opening of the American league took place yesterday, Detroit, as a usual, started the season by winning the first game. Score, Detroit, 4; Cleveland 2. The attendance at the game was phenomenal, the official record showed 16,482 had seen the game.

Sam Crawford, the former | Chatham Canadian Leaguer figured in no small way in the success. The Detroit Tribune says:

"The great finish that won the game came in the eighth. Crawford, the ex-Cincinnati star, walted and got four balls, a costly gift, as it afterwards appeared. Carr was the second out.

Cincinnati star, waited and got four balls, a costly gift, as it afterwards appeared. Carr was the second out. To Eberfield who followed at the plate went out the confidence of the crowd. "Oh Kid, hit it out," implored the multitude; and the little shortstop made good. Just outside the mange of the mighty Lajoie, the Kid sent the ball like a gooket. Flick grabbed it and threw fast to head Crawford, but the latter was gafe at third before the throw arrived, dodging erratically along the ground. Bradley, however, failed to get to the ball and it passed him.

In a flash Crawford started for home, his great bulk charging to the plate with the speed of an express train. The deciding run was scored, the tumult of the thousands from bleachers and stand broke loose in a medley of "Hot time," and tumultuous cheers. Immediately after, on a pretty hit by Gessler, well into the crowd, Eberfield also registered, and the game was scafe.

To Crawford must go the credit for the spectacular fielding feat of the day. It was in the sixth anning, two were out and, with Lajoie on second McCarthy was up. He swung hard on a waist-high bill. It/went hard and and fast toward the growd in front of the emergency bleacher, from which on a waist-nigh bill, I dwein hard and and fast toward the knowl in front of the emergency bleacher, from which hundreds called to Crawford. The left fielder ran at full speed for the mass of men that stretched out to the Moul inc. As the seas before an ocean liner the mass parted before the rush. He reached out his hands and the ball lodged in them. So near the line was the feat accomplished that the crowd in the grand stand could only tell by
