D. A. McLACHLAN,

We are in receipt of an interesting letter from Mr. A: Dustow, son of Mr. Thomas Dustow of Con. 2, Carrick, who is a soldier in the U. S. Cavalry, stationed at Malabang, Mindanav Island.

He tells a hard march up to the lake region where fifteen men and two officers had previously been killed in an attempt to capture the rebet leader, Datto Ali. The march was the most trying one he has yet experienced. On May 17th, five troops of infantry and a company of native guides. under the command of General Woods, sailed up the Rio Grande river to avenge the death of the fallen comrades. river is very crooked and full of alligators. They sailed up the river until the arrived to where the stream forked and the army divided, a portion going in each direction.

Next morning the march over land commenced. Each soldier's pack consisted of 200 rounds of ammunition, a blanket roll, a rifle, pistol and haversach. The detachment burned every lent they came across, the scouts being in the advance guard. At noon it got intensely hot, and our men began to tall out, so we halted and took a little worth, on Thursday evening of last to eat, and started off again at 2 o'clock a field and was suddenly attacked by a good night's rest we started off again, boy's brain just above the left eye timber.
